Will Rogers Remarks:

SANTA MONICA, June 24. [To the Editor of The Times:] Today's paper says the rattlesnakes are so bad at Mr. Hoover's Virginia fishing grounds that they are getting razorback hogs to exterminate 'em. A snake can't bite a razorback hog because he splits his tongue on his back. That adds another product to Virginia's other two. Now their slogan is "Come to Virginia, home of hams, rattlesnakes and Presidents (but not lately)."

Mr. Henry Ford is going to keep on talking on the "how to enforce prohibition" till Mr. Hoover will get even with him by putting him at the head of enforcement. Ford and his mass production is where the bootleggers got their ideas.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

HE EMPLOYS EX-WIFE TO KEEP HOUSE

Judge Grants Divorce to Woman When Plan Works Successfully for Year

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—For one year Mrs. John A. Speyer, receiving a weekly stipend of $10, acted as housekeeper for her husband and governess for her own children—four of them. Today Judge Joseph Sabath granted her a divorce. She will continue in her position, which she says vastly is more tenable than the wife status.

A year ago Mrs. Speyer complained her husband beat her and otherwise treated her cruelly. Judge Sabath suggested the housekeeper idea.

Mrs. Speyer tried it. The "mean" husband again became a suitor, even the children remarked the change in "daddy."

So Judge Sabath, in signing the divorce decree, made the arrangement permanent.

Mrs. Speyer admitted that if Mr. Speyer continues courting, wedding bells might ring again.

Coolidge Budget to be Limit

President Sends Out Order to Cut Estimates for 1930-31 Expenses

Large Outlays Ordered May Make Assigned Task Prove Difficult

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—President Hoover is hopeful of keeping expenditures of the Federal government within the budget figures of the last year of the Coolidge administration.

Instructions in line with the Chief Executive's wish today were in the hands of all department and independent bureau heads and their attention had been called to the none-too-easy task before them. The order was signed by R. O. Kloeber, acting budget head pending the taking over of office of J. C. Roop, recently selected to succeed Gen. Lord.

Mr. Hoover's views were disclosed just as all agencies of the government were beginning to frame recommendations for the budget for the fiscal year 1930-1931. The budget for the next fiscal year, that of 1929-1930, beginning July 1, next, was drafted by the Coolidge regime last summer and approved by Congress prior to March 4.

The total budget, exclusive of postal receipts and expenditures, for the next fiscal year is $3,736,000,000, which is the amount President Hoover is anxious for his administration to keep within.

The task to be placed upon Mr. Roop will call for the solution of many problems not confronting his predecessor. Since the last budget Congress has been active in authorizing appropriations and the initial outlay on many projects must be met in the early days of the Hoover administration.

These include funds to initiate the $274,000,000 cruiser-building program; the first appropriation under the $325,000,000 Mississippi River Flood-control Act; the $150,000,000 appropriation to start the $500,000,000 revolving fund provided for under the new Farm Relief Act, and money to begin work on the gigantic Boulder Canyon dam project in the Southwest.

PILOT DIES IN CRASH OF CABIN PLANE

Chicago-Minneapolis Ship Falls and Kills Flyer; Seven Passengers Hurt

ST. PAUL, June 24. (AP)—Eddie Middagh, veteran pilot, was killed and seven persons injured early tonight when a Northwest Airways trimotored plane from Chicago crashed near Indian Mounds Park here after taking off from the St. Paul Airport for Minneapolis.

The plane burst into flames and Middagh was burned to death before he could be extricated from the wreckage.

The injured include Kendall Clough, Chicago; Harcourt Ames, Minneapolis; Paul Ames, 3-year-old son of Ames; J. B. McOsker, secretary of Minneapolis Post, Disabled American Veterans; Henry Foote, Jr., Minneapolis, Mrs. Foote and Robert Johnston, Minneapolis, steward on the plane.

After the plane had left the St. Paul airport the three engines suddenly stopped. Middagh attempted to swing the big craft back toward the airport but it grazed the roof of a residence, tearing off shingles, and then nosed to the ground. It immediately burst into flames.

Middagh had more than 1900 hours of flying to his credit. Officials of the Northwest airways tonight said the accident is the first since organization of the company two years ago.

Grownups Watch Bandit, but Lad Phones Police

SEATTLE, June 24. (AP)—Lining five bank workers and one depositor against a wall a robber late today held up the Northern Savings and Loan Association and escaped with approximately $1700.

At least six persons watched the hold-up through the window in front. All stood still but Roy Berry, 13 years of age, messenger boy, who dashed into the telegraph office next door and telephoned police.

In less than three minutes the robber was gone. Police were unable to find a trace of him.

The dead were Ruth Kline, 13,; her sister, Sylvia, 11; Sadie Saigo, 17, and Hyman Helamed, 34, driver of the truck.

FOREST FIRE BILL URGED

Eleven States Ask Passage

Englebright Legislation in Congress Indorsed at Bay City Meeting

Preventive Measure to Curb Damage to Watersheds and Ranges Favored

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Representative

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (Exclusive) — Delegates representing eleven Western States today climaxed an all-day discussion of fire prevention and range improvement by passing unanimously a resolution indorsing the Englebright bill and by pledging themselves to work for its passage at the regular session of Congress, convening next December.

It is the first time that so comprehensive an area has been brought together on a common footing to work for the common good. The underlying principle is that the prevention of fires in forest areas is of greater importance than is the suppression of them after they have obtained a foothold. For the same reason, the benefits to be gained in preserving the timbered areas of the West will redound to the good of the grazing industry by conserving the water supply and eliminating the agencies which destroy forage.

AIMS INCORPORATED

Both of these aims are incorporated in the bill of Representative Englebright. Hence it was voted of prime consideration to support this measure as the most effective ever submitted in its field.

The resolution, prepared by E. W. Murphy, chairman, and Charles G. Dunwoody, secretary of the conservation department of the California Development Association, and introduced by Walter Mulford of the University of California, points out that:

"The destruction by forest fires in the United States in 1928 involved a loss of $33,000,000 and devastation of more than 38,000,000 acres of timber, watershed and range lands;

"A large number of these destructive conflagrations occur in the national forests, created by the United States government for the conservation of timber, water, forage and recreational and other natural resources;

CONTROL INADEQUATE

"Federal fire prevention funds have proven wholly inadequate to control the fire hazard, which each year menaces the national forests, to the detriment of the social and industrial welfare of the States in which these forests are located and to the United States as a whole.

A large percentage of the devastating fires which occur each year in the Federal forests could be prevented or more rapidly controlled by the construction of adequate systems of firebreaks, roads, trails and other physical fire-prevention improvements."

Because of these things, it was resolved that the conference unanimously approve and urge the enactment of the Englebright bill "authorizing yearly appropriations for the construction and maintenance of improvement necessary for the protection of the national forests from fire," additionally that approval be given for the "fixed yearly expenditure of government funds for range improvements within the national forests to facilitate the use of existing ranges and the development of new forage areas for live stock," and, finally, that copies be forwarded "to the President of the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture, the Governors, Representatives and Senators of all States in which national forests are located urging their individual and collective effort for the passage of these bills in order that the resources of these forests may be protected more adequately and widely conserved for the use and benefit of the American people."

PLAN EDUCATION

It was decided to organize committees and subcommittees throughout the entire area for educational work, together with the knitting of contacts in eastern States to point the benefits to the East of successful forest preservation work in the West.

It was decided to enlist the support of as many organizations and individuals as can be assembled to obtain resolutions of approval from all interested groups and State Legislatures meeting before the December session of Congress, to ask the support of newspapers and radio units, seek for personal interviews with legislators to impress the importance of legislation and to cooperate in any and all other ways which may be of benefit.

Some idea of the appalling extent of forest denudation which has taken place in recent years was set forth in a concise picture, teeming with facts and figures, pre-

SMALL-SIZE TIDAL WAVE HITS BEACH

Capitola, Near Santa Cruz Suffers $5000 Damage in Freak Ocean Swell

CAPITOLA (Cal.) June 24. (AP)—Apparently confining itself solely to the beach here, a freak ocean swell descended on the waterfront at 4 a.m. today and did damage estimated at $5000 to a score of fishing and pleasure craft, which were left high on the sands when the waters preceded.

Assuming almost the proportions of a tidal wave, observers said, the swell swept toward the beach with a loud roar, carrying with it twenty or more launches, yachts and fishing boats which were tossed in a mass of wreckage on the beach.

The swell touched only the Capitola Beach, leaving undamaged scores of vessels anchored off Santa Cruz municipal wharf, three miles distant.

George Evans, Capitola wharfinger, lost twelve rock cod boats whose engines were torn from the holds and deposited along the beach. A dozen other fishing craft owners reported their boats wrecked while a pleasure launch belonging to C. Fuller of San Jose was tossed high on the sands with the bottom torn out.

It is expected he will use his own Falcon plane, which is kept at Mitchel Field. It was not known whether he will be accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh.

Tulley Called Before Court in Plagiarism Case

NEW YORK, June 24. (Exclusive)—Richard Walton Tulley, playwright, appeared today before Supreme Court Justice Mullan as the result of an order obtained by Mrs. Grace A. Fendler of Los Angeles, to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court for having failed to assign to her his rights in royalties from the production of the play "The Bird of Paradise."

Mrs. Fendler had obtained a judgment against Mr. Tulley as author and Oliver Morosco as producer, for $800,000 when the courts decided "The Bird of Paradise" was plagiarized from her "In Hawaii."

Mr. Tulley's counsel explained he is preparing to appeal the case.

American Film Companies Will File Protests

PARIS, June 24. (AP) — Representatives of American film companies today decided to file a protest with the French government against the "arbitrary methods" employed to regulate their business in France.

They pointed out that it was nine months since negotiations began on the question of the proportion of American films to be permitted entry and that nothing has been done. The protest will state that Americans are being forced out of business in the French markets because their competitors are in complete control even "having legislative functions through the cinema-control commission."

CAPT. HAWKS IN ILLINOIS ON TEST HOP

Flyer Goes to New York Today and Starts Here After Record Tomorrow

EAST ST. LOUIS (Ill.) June 24. (AP)—Capt. Frank Hawks landed at Parks Airport at 4:30 p.m. today after a 13½-hour flight from Los Angeles. He plans to remain overnight and continue tomorrow to New York City, from where he will make a return flight to Los Angeles.

A test flight from Los Angeles to New York before starting an attempt at a thirty-six-hour round-trip between the two cities, was begun from the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport at 1 a.m. yesterday by Capt. Frank Hawks.

The flyer faces a daring undertaking after he reaches New York. To attain his objective, he must cut more than six hours off the combined time of his own record and the New York-Los Angeles mark and include approximately two hours' lay-over in Los Angeles while mechanics condition his plane for the return journey. He has planned the take-off from New York for Wednesday.

The New York-Los Angeles mark was set by Harry Tucker and Capt. C. B. D. Collyer, who were killed last fall in a transcontinental nonstop speed attempt.

Hawks is using the same ship in which he set the Los Angeles-New York mark, a Lockheed-Vega monoplane with a Wasp motor, which has a top speed of 200 miles an hour. Schoenhair flew in a similar plane.

SHOENHAIR WILL MAKE TRIAL LATER

DUBOIS (Pa.) June 24. (AP)—Lee Shoenhair, whose airplane was damaged yesterday in an attempted take-off in his flight from Los Angeles to New York, said tonight he will send the damaged ship back to Los Angeles by train and make another attempt at a nonstop flight from coast to coast later.

Spain Sends Destroyers and Aircraft to Scour Azores Area

Freighter Reports Sighting Wreckage With No Trace of Life

MADRID, June 24. (AP)—Naval craft and airplanes tonight are scouring the seas in the vicinity of the Azores for traces of the four Spanish aviators of whom there had been no definite word for almost three days.

An unconfirmed report that wreckage with no trace of life about it had been sighted in those waters by a British freighter gave the only ray of hope in the gloomy situation. Four Spanish destroyers sped from Ferrol in an attempt to verify this report, while the Portuguese gunboat Zaire was refueling at Horta to contnue the search it had begun Saturday.

Premier Primo De Rivera, who unwittingly had given false hope to Spain on Saturday by authorizing publication of a message then supposed to have come from Maj. Ramon Franco, leader of the flight, today appeared most anxious when he entered a Cabinet meeting. He said the reports he had were contradictory and the outlook for the safety of the four flyers was discouraging.

PUBLIC ANXIETY GREAT

British Charge D'Affaires Ramsey, at the request of the government, asked that a British airplane carrier be sent from Gibraltar with planes to search from the Portuguese coast, where the plane was last definitely reported, to the Azores.

Public anxiety was great because Maj. Franco had been a national hero since his flight in 1926 to South America. On the present flight he was accompanied by one of his old crew, Capt. Ruiz de Alda, and by Maj. Eduardo Gallarza, and Sergeant Mechanic Pedro Madariaga.

There was no end of offers of private aid in the search. Pablo Rada, mechanic who accompanied Maj. Franco on his 1926 flight, asked for a plane that he might seek his beloved commander. The Italian naval attache here offered the services of a large seaplane at Barcelona, and a Spanish aviation officer, Lieut. Navarro, was immediately assigned to accompany the Italian crew on the search.

The Spanish government requested all merchantmen to keep a sharp lookout while traversing the areas in which the plane may have come down and the steamship Marques de Comillas, en route from New York to Seville, deviated from its course to follow more exactly the supposed route of the aviators.

RESCUE DELAY DEPLORED

The four Spanish destroyers which left Ferrol at 8 a.m. today under full steam were the Alsedo, Velasco, Juan Lazaga, and the Sanchez-Barcaiztegui.

It was considered unwise to order out a big seaplane stationed at Melilla, Morocco. A second plane at Cartagena, from which Maj. Franco started, was not in condition to fly.

At the Cabinet meeting tonight the Minister of Marine deplored the fact that a false message announcing arrival of the plane at the Azores which was made public by the government had delayed starting a search for thirty-six hours.

The Premier telephoned the bad news to King Alfonso at Paris, who had left Spain when it was believed that all was well.

TWENTY-ONE ALREADY CLAIMED BY ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—If Maj. Ramon Franco and his three companions are lost, as now seems probable, in their attempted flight from Spain to the United States, it will bring to twenty-five the number of lives sacrificed in attempted trans-Atlantic flights in the last three years.

Franco's plane would be the eighth to start out across the Atlantic ocean, never to be seen again. Other attempted trans-Atlantic flights have ended in failure but the planes either turned back in good time or their pilots and crew were fortunate enough to be saved by ships at sea after being forced down short of their goal.

DAY JOINS SINCLAIR IN JAIL

Oil Man Peers from Bars as Convicted Aide Bids Farewell to World for Four Months

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Henry Mason Day of New York City, vice-president of the Sinclair Exploration Company, began serving a term of four months in the District of Columbia Jail tonight as a penalty for contempt of court through having jurors in the Sinclair-Fall conspiracy trial shadowed.

Coming to the jail alone in a taxicab, Day entered the building at 6:40 p.m., while the man he had sought to protect—Harry F. Sinclair—looked through curtained windows from the jail at his friend and business associate. Sinclair was committed May 6, last, to serve three months for contempt of the Senate and is serving six months concurrently with that sentence on the jury-shadowing charge.

Jumping out of the taxicab with a smile on his face, Day turned to a score of photographers and said, "Boys, I know you have been waiting all day for me. Take all the time you want. I have all the time in the world, but—"

As Day entered the jail, accompanied by United States Deputy Marshal John J. Clarson, who had the commitment papers, he handed a prepared statement to newspaper men in which he said he was not conscious of having "committed any wrongful act," and denied that anything he had done at Mr. Sinclair's trial "was done with improper, much less criminal intent."

Day said on expiration of his sentence he will return to New York.

Wilbur Voices New Policy on Reclamation Projects

Seeks No Dominance Over Local Issues, He Says

Secretary Will Gather With Governors at Boise

FRESNO, June 24. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur today accepted an invitation from the governors of thirteen western States to meet with them or their representatives in Boise, Idaho, July 9 to discuss reclamation and kindred subjects.

The invitation from the governors was received shortly after the Interior Department head had outlined Saturday at Las Vegas, Nev., what he termed a "new policy for the government in its relationship to reclamation."

This policy is that the government shall build necessary reclamation projects, protect its investment where possible and then withdraw from the field.

Secretary Wilbur declared here tonight that the Hoover administration is not at all in sympathy with the "growing tendency to centralize authority in Washington" and that where it is possible, the Federal authorities will turn back to the State or the community the control of reclamation projects built in the future by the Bureau of Reclamation.

"This will mean," the Secretary said, "that the government no longer will be tied up in affairs that should be purely local, that involve purely local issues such as taxation, water division, bond issues, power rights, and even fishing rights."

WOODMEN'S SUIT SLATED FOR TRIAL

Colorado Supreme Court Orders Insurance Fight Heard on Merits

DENVER, June 24. (AP)—Suit against officers of the Woodmen of the World seeking to prevent them from putting into effect a new system of life insurance must go to trial on its merits in the Denver District Court.

The Colorado Supreme Court so ordered today in denying the officers' petition for a writ of prohibition and discharging the rule to show cause. Approximately 113,000 members throughout the United States are affected by the suit.

Policy holders in Colorado, Utah, Idaho and Montana filed the suit here several weeks ago, asserting that if the new insurance system is made effective hundreds of aged members will be unable to pay the higher premiums and will be forced out of the order.

They asserted that the purported amendments by which the new insurance was to be put into effect were voted illegally at the annual convention at Oakland, Cal., last year. Five assessments are now demanded for May alone, as compared to the former one, they said.

George P. Steele, attorney for the Woodmen officers, declared in oral arguments before the Supreme Court that the organization would be "sunk" if it is not permitted to make the larger assessments. The plaintiffs argued, on the other hand, that the lodge now has a mortuary fund of $9,000,000 and should expend that before demanding higher premium payments.

Yacht Bandits Held for Trial

OAKLAND, June 24. (AP)—Charged with the $18,000 robbery of the Berkeley branch of the Bank of America, and wanted by police of nearly every large Pacific Coast city, Lloyd Sampsell and Ethan Allen McNabb, reputed "seagoing" bandits, pleaded not guilty today when they were arraigned before Superior Judge Wood.

The court set July 8 for the date of trial and remanded them to jail in lieu of $50,000 cash bail.

Lydia Summers, said to be Sampsell's wife, is held in jail as a material witness, the Alameda county grand jury having refused to indict her.

BEACH CITY MAY GET AIR BASE

Site at Newport Bay Under Naval Board Study

Hangars for Two Dirigibles Required by Navy

Harbor Can be Dredged for Aircraft Carriers

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 24. (Exclusive)—Newport Bay, Orange county, may be the site of the hangars for the two dirigibles now under construction for the Navy Department.

If Orange county is prepared to meet the naval board for the location of a base for these two great dirigibles when the board arrives early in July, there is reason to believe that this particular site will be selected. The board, composed of five naval experts expects to leave Washington shortly after the first of July. The board will go out without commitments and with an open mind as to the best site for the government and while several other sites have been regarded as favorable, aeronautic experts concede that several arguments make the Orange county site, fourteen miles from the battleship base, the most logical for a permanent base for the dirigibles.

Those in the Navy who have made a study of the Newport site declare that the bay there could be easily dredged and enlarged at small expense to permit the aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington to harbor there for additional protection of the dirigible base. This site would be free from high-power wires and also free from strong winds and make the hangars easily accessible in any kind of weather.

The board is composed of Admiral William A. Moffatt, chairman; Rear-Admiral James M. Reeves, Lieutenant-Commander Rosendahl, former commander of the dirigible Los Angeles; Commander Garland Fulton, and Lieutenant-Commander Edward C. Marshall.

DAM ENGINEERS LAY OUT TOWN

GRAVITY AQUEDUCT

It is probable also that a general discussion of the proposed aqueduct from the Colorado River to Southern California communities will be undertaken and in this connection it is understood that the Federal officials will urge the merits of a gravity aqueduct over a shorter water distributing system, requiring a large proportion of Boulder electric energy for pumping purposes.

The original higher cost of a gravity aqueduct, engineers believe, will be far more than offset by the tremendous and increasing cost of operating and maintaining a pumping system.

Senators Pittman and Oddie of Nevada will accompany the Mead party to Los Angeles and join the power negotiations in Los Angeles. Under the terms of the Swing-Johnson bill Nevada, California and Arizona each may enter within a period of six months into contracts for power up to a third of the 600,000 horsepower to be developed, according to the government experts and electrical engineers from the three interested States, but it is improbable that either Arizona or Nevada will bid for any very large share of the maximum energy provisionally allocated in the bill.

DAM PROCLAMATION TO BE ISSUED TODAY

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—President Hoover's proclamation setting the Boulder dam law into operation will be issued at noon tomorrow.

This was made known at the White House late today. It was said that the proclamation is being prepared by the Department of Justice and will reach the White House some time this evening. The President, however, does not plan to take up the matter until tomorrow.

Under terms of the Boulder dam bill it must be set in operation by Presidential proclamation. When the measure was enacted the Colorado River compact had not been approved by a sufficient number of States affected to make it operative and the Boulder dam bill provided that the compact should be ratified by six of the seven Colorado River States before the bill itself could be put into effect.

The bill provided further, that, if, within six months of its final enactment six of the seven States had ratified the compact, the President's proclamation should be issued. This term expired on the 21st inst., and Mr. Hoover's proclamation has been expected daily since that time.

MEAD TO OUTLINE CONSTRUCTION OF DAM

Details of Boulder dam construction will be outlined tonight by Dr. Elwood Mead, Commissioner of the United States Reclamation Service, at a conference dinner in the Biltmore, arranged by the Citizens' Water and Power Committee of Los Angeles.

Dr. Mead will arrive in Los Angeles at 8:30 a.m. today on the Union Pacific's Pacific Coast Limited after a two-day meeting in Las Vegas, Nev., with Secretary Wilbur, Raymond F. Walter, chief engineer of the Reclamation Service, and officials of Los Angeles.

Hundreds of reservations have been made for the conference dinner. Leaders in all branches of civic progress will attend.

Joseph Scott, chairman of the committee, will preside. Members of the executive committee besides Mr. Scott and Watt L. Moreland, chairman; Mary Workman, Mrs. Shelley H. Tolhurst, E. J. Fleming and O. M. Souden.

OUTING TURNS TO TRAGEDY

Rubbish Dumped from Highway Kills One Boy and Injures Another While Swimming

OAKLAND, June 24. (AP)—A holiday outing in the hills west of here ended in tragedy late today for two Oakland boys, one of whom was killed and the other injured probably fatally. When a truck load of rubbish was dumped from the highway, 200 feet above, into a pool where they were swimming.

The dead boy is Philip Swartz, 6 years of age, of Berkeley. His brother, Ray, 7, with Steven, 11, and Philip Bourtois, 14, escaped injury when they scrambled out of the water before the debris reached the pool.

The injured boy, Bert Sorenson, 9, was caught beneath a heavy log but managed to extricate himself and reach the surface of the water where he was pulled ashore by his companions. So serious were the injuries to his head and body, however, that doctors say he probably will die.

The tragedy was unofficially laid to the carelessness of the unidentified truck driver who backed his heavy vehicle, loaded with tree stumps and other refuse, to the edge of the cliff and dumped the load into the pool. Police are attempting to learn his name.

FOREST FLAME CURB INDORSED

FIGURES CITED

Among other things, he reminded: "The total area of the continental United States is about 1,900,000,000 acres. Of this area, when our forefathers landed on our eastern shores, it is estimated that 822,000,000 acres were forest lands. Sixty hundred and eighty one milloin acres of these were located east of the great plains and 141,00,000 acres west of the great plains.

"Of these original virgin timber areas there remain today 61,000,000 acres east of the great plains and 77,000,000 acres west of the great plains, or a total of 139,000,000 acres. In other words, only one-sixth of the original virgin timber area of this country remains. Of this total of 138,000,000 acres, it is estimated that 80,000,000 acres are in private ownership and 58,000,000 acres in public ownership.

EXHAUSTION NEAR

"In the combined private and public forests of the United States at the present time, there are only 2,200,000,000,000 board feet of all classes of timber left available for our future supply. We are drawing upon this supply through fire and use at the rate of 60,000,000,000 board feet per year.

"Eliminating the factor of increase by natural growth, the 2,200,000,000,000 feet, at the present rate of consumption, are only sufficient to last thirty-six years.

"This condition in itself would not be serious or cause for alarm if it were not for the fact that the increase in the present timber supply by growth is only at the rate of about 15,000,000,000 board feet per year.

"We are, therefore, consuming our total timber supply by fire and use at an annual rate that is four times as great as that of our annual growth."

FIRES CAUSE LOSS

The effect, Representative Englebright pointed out, is that "the depletion of our forests and timber lands is a direct menace to our national prosperity and even to our national defense and security. The problem of perpetuating our wood supply is of the greatest fundamental national importance.

"If our timber becomes exhausted there is no foreign source to which we can turn with certainty, either of obtaining adequate supplies or of obtaining them at a reasonable cost.

"That our forests are disappearing at a rate that involves a most serious danger to the future prosperity of our country is not because we cut or use too much timber but because we permit too much timber to be destroyed by fire and other causes, and grow too little."

Hoover Returns to Washington

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—After an early morning start from his fishing preserve in the Blue Ridge Mountains, President Hoover motored back to Washington today, arriving at the White House a few minutes before 10 o'clock.

The Presidential party arose at 5 o'clock and after breakfasting at the camp began the return trip to Washington. An hour was consumed in traveling the ten-mile distance over Doubletop Mountain, as the rains of last night had put the seldom-used road in bad condition. At the foot of the mountain the White House limousines awaited for the remainder of the journey.

Mr. Hoover appears refreshed after his two-day stay at the camp.

Woman Dies in Tenement Fire

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (Exclusive)—Fire in an Ellis-street tenement today cost the life of Mrs. Mary T. Johnson, who was overcome by smoke and flames in the attic, and resulted in injury of two others of the eighty occupants of the place.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a smoker's carelessness. Assistant Chief Murphy declared the place lacked fire escapes and had inadequate stairways.

National Convention Hears Swan Song of Old-Style Corner Store

PORTLAND (Or.) June 24. (AP)—Retail and wholesale grocers from almost every State in the Union, here for the thirty-second annual convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers, heard speakers sing the swan song for the little corner grocery and laud its successor—the aggressive, progressive independent purveyor of foodstuffs who knows his groceries and his costs.

The convention, with delegates from the Retail Grocers' Association, the wholesale group and the Northwest Bakers' Association, opened today with more than 700 registering. The convention will continue three days.

A joint meeting of retail and wholesale grocers was held during the afternoon. The chain-grocery business came in for its share of the discussion and delegates left the meeting assured that "business will be better for the independent, and the chain store does not possess all secrets of the trade."

SALT CREEK OIL LEASES BINDING

Mitchell Reports He Can't Find Suit Basis

Nye Accepts Letter as End of Senate Inquiry

Chairman Expects to Score Democratic Policy

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Mitchell advised Chairman Nye of the Senate Lands Committee today that investigation by the Department of Justice of the Salt Creek oil leases has divulged "no legal basis" for institution of suits attacking contracts made by the Interior Department of this oil preserve.

The letter was accepted by Senator Nye as terminating inquiry into the Salt Creek leases conducted by the Lands Committee last winter, and he said unless new evidence is discovered a report to the Senate in line with the Attorney-General's letter is expected to be made soon after Congress convenes.

POLICY SCORED

Senator Nye declared, however, that he personally will not agree to any report unless it scores the Democratic Payne-Tillman administration of the General Land Office for carelessness when the Salt Creek leases originally were entered into.

"The evidence shows," Nye declared, "a lack of care and refusal to study claims closely at that time. Had care and study been afforded then, I am confident there would have been a fairer distribution of equity in the great oil fields than now exists."

NO PRECEDENT SET

Inquiry of leases made in the Salt Creek fields was referred to the Department of Justice by the Senate Lands Committee last February after exhaustive hearings. At that time a majority of the committee favored termination of the case, but a report to the Senate had been held up pending word from the Attorney-General on his study of the situation.

The letter of Attorney-General Mitchell declared that the law does not empower him to render reports or opinions to congressional committees and that his communication is therefore informal and not to be considered as creating a precedent of this nature.

TUNNEY STATES HE PAID WIDOW

Answer to Balm Suit Avers He Feared Publicity

Mrs. Fogarty Given $35,000 Before Heeney Fight

Court Asked to Make Woman Stand by Waivers

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) June 24. (AP) James J. (Gene) Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, in an answer today to the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty of Fort Worth, Tex., and New York City, denied that he had ever asked her to marry him, but said that he had paid her sums exceeding $35,000 to "relinquish all claims on him."

On the eve of the second Dempsey-Tunney fight, Billy Gibson, the retired champion's manager, paid Mrs. Fogarty $1 to sign a waiver to claims on Tunney, and on the eve of the Tunney-Heeney fight, $35,000 to sign another release, according to the answer, the payments being made as "a matter of good business judgment."

FEARED PUBLICITY

All her claims at the time, it is further said, "were baseless" but Manager Gibson feared publicity Mrs. Fogarty might give to them would hurt Tunney's prestige and result in lowered gate receipts and would so unnerve the champion as to jeopardize his chances of winning the bout.

The answer asked that Mrs. Fogarty be compelled to abide by her waivers and that she be forever restrained from further annoying Tunney with law suits. The charge is made that she has been seeking to exploit her acquaintanceship with Tunney for purposes of personal prestige and financial gain. No specific mention is made of the asserted marriage proposal or acceptance but general denial is made in the legal phraseology of "the defendant denies the truth of the matter in the plaintiff's complaint."

Mrs. Fogarty charges Tunney with having proposed in 1925, shortly after her divorce from John S. Fogarty of Fort Worth, and says she accepted him. He then married "another person"—Polly Lauder.

Included in the answer is an affidavit by Mrs. Fogarty made on July 24, 1928, reading:

NO LONGER FRIENDS

"I had hoped to continue to enjoy his (Tunney's) friendship, but that does not seem any longer possible for either of us."

The answer intimates that the "wide publicity" given the Fogarty breach of promise suit was "arranged by Mrs. Fogarty or her counsel" and that the contents of her complaint, together with pictures of the woman, were released for publication as soon as service was made.

GIBSON IN LONDON TO SEE DAWES

Ambassador to Belgium to Discuss International Situation With General

LONDON, June 24. (AP)—Ambassador Gibson, spokesman of the American government on disarmament at Geneva in April, arrived from Belgium tonight for a conference with Ambassador Dawes, central figure in the dramatic international developments of last week.

The small, alert and smiling envoy indicated on arrival from Brussels thatthe two ambassadors would have a general discussion of the international situation, although they have more particularly held the spotlight as agents of President Hoover in seeking solution of the naval problem. The visit of the Ambassador to Belgium will extend as long as Gen. Dawes wishes for complete analysis of issues faced by the American government.

Mr. Gibson tonight thought it unlikely that the discussions would result in any immediate announcement of great public interest, but admitted that the naval program would be one subject of discussion. He did not anticipate that he would have contact with the British Foreign Office "unless Gen. Dawes wishes."

International problems, particularly those related to Anglo-American affairs, hold a large place in popular thought even though at the moment the attention of the country is centred upon the program of the new Labor government which will be revealed in the King's speech at the convening of Parliament.

GIBSON MAY REPORT TO HOOVER IN PERSON

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium and head of the American delegation to the League of Nations' preparatory disarmament commission, may be called back to the United States later this summer for conference with President Hoover and State Department officials on naval questions.

While no definite plans have been made for the return of the Ambassador, who is now in London conferring with Ambassador Dawes, State Department officials said that he probably will be asked to present his views personally to the President on disarmament questions before the next meeting of the preparatory commission which is scheduled for next fall.

NOT GUILTY PLEA MADE BY DR. SNOOK

Confessed Slayer of Girl Lowers Eyes Under Gaze of Her Father in Court

COLUMBUS (O.) June 24. (AP)—Dr. James Howard Snook, 49 years of age, dismissed university professor and confessed hammer slayer of Theora K. Hix, 25, Ohio State co-ed, will go to trial on charge of first-degree murder in criminal court here July 22, unless he obtains a change of venue, which Dr. Snook's attorneys indicated when he was arraigned today they may seek.

Dr. Snook stood before a crowd that jammed Criminal Judge Duncan's courtroom and entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment.

As he stood up and glanced about the room, his eyes met the level gaze of Melvin T. Hix, retired educator and father of the slain student. Their eyes met only for a moment, then Dr. Snook bowed his head, moistened his lips and turned away. He spoke the words: "Not guilty," calmly and distinctly. Aside from the dramatic moment when his eyes met those of Mr. Hix, Dr. Snook displayed the calm demeanor that he has exhibited most of the time since his arrest ten days ago.

County Prosecutor Chester then asked that the trial date be set for the week of July 22, and Judge Duncan complied.

League Out of Peach Row

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (AP)—A "hands off" policy regarding the controversy between peach growers and canners over the prices for the 1929 crop has been adopted by the Canners' League of California, whose operating committees, Secretary Preston McKinney announced today, have decided to leave the price question up to the individual canners.

A series of operating committee meetings, McKinney said, failed to result in any agreement on prices to be paid the growers, who set a price of $80 per ton for No. 1 peaches and $50 per ton for No. 2 for the year's crop.

Bishop Runs $2500 Venture Up to $11,000 Profit

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—The stock market trading of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was scrutinized thoroughly today at the hearing into the bankruptcy of Kable & Co., an asserted bucket [illegible] through which the anti-Smith Democratic leader dealt.

Counsel for the trustee confined himself almost entirely to the bishop's account, bringing out that with a deposit of only $2500 the bishop ran up a paper balance of some $11,000.

BUCKETEER TALKS

The only witness of the day was Harry L. Goldhurst, principal partner of the bankrupt firm of Kable & Co. Both Goldhurst and the other partner, Charles W. Kable, are under indictment for using the mails to defraud in connection with the conduct of their business.

Goldhurst told C. Edward Benoit, counsel for the trustee in bankruptcy, that he had known the bishop for about seven years and had transacted business for him, buying securities for cash, before the formation of Kable & Co. He said no records had been kept of these transactions.

TRANSACTIONS TOLD

After the company was organized he said the bishop authorized him to buy and sell for him at his discretion and that numerous transactions were carried through, some at the bishop's direction and some just because Goldhurst thought they were advisable.

The bishop, said the witness, paid on the installment plan, a feature of the Kable & Co. business, and authorized him to buy as high as might call for an initial payment of $2000 or $3000, which would obligate the cleric to total payments of about $40,000.

The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.

GIGANTIC HOTEL MERGER NEARS

Bowman-Biltmore in Deal With United Outfit

Combined Annual Business Given at $100,000,000

Property Here Expected Not to be Included

NEW YORK, June 24. (Exclusive) A merger of the largest hotel systems in the country and extending into Canada—the Bowman-Biltmore and the United Hotels Corporation—doing an annual gross business of $100,000,000 and comprising $50,000,000 in assets, is near completion, it was learned today. Negotiations have reached the stage where the deal is in the hands of the bankers and with nothing but the terms to be decided upon, agreement of which is expected any day.

Five years ago the Bowman-Biltmore Hotels Corporation had a valuation of $25,000,000. Its chain of hotels includes the Commodore, Biltmore, Murray Hill and Belmont in this city, the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club at Rye, N. Y., the Belleview, Belair, Fla., the Griswold, New London, Ct., and the Seville-Biltmore, Havana. Other Biltmore hotels partly owned and operated by the corporation are in Providence, Los Angeles and Atlantic City. It is not expected that the Los Angeles hotel will be included in the new combine.

Some of the United hotels are the Roosevelt in this city, the Benjamin Franklin, Philadelphia, the Robert Treat, Newark, the Mount Royal, Montreal, the Bancroft, Worcester, Mass., the Ten Eyck, Albany, N. Y., the Yorktown, York, Pa., and the Penn Harrison, Harrisburg, Pa.

The United Hotels Company was incorporated in 1910 as a $10,000,000 organization headed by J. Pierpont Morgan.

OIL AGREEMENT CHECKS WASTE

Secretary Wilbur Sews Up Kettleman Field

Middle Dome Producers Will Drill No More

Similar Treaties Pending in Other Sections

BAKERSFIELD, June 24. (AP)—The belief was expressed among oil men here today that out of the visit of Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, to Kettleman Hills oil field today will come a definite plan to bring about more intelligent and less wasteful oil production.

Secretary Wilbur and his official party arrived in the Santa Fe yards here on the Wildwood, private car of the Secretary. They had just returned from Las Vegas, Nev., where the Secretary made an official inspection of the Boulder dam site.

The Secretary remarked as he mopped his brow, that although the Bakersfield climate might be warm, he'd been in warmer places during the last two days.

WASTE TO BE CURBED

Secretary Wilbur said that "an agreement has been reached under the terms of which lessees of the Middle Dome at Kettleman have agreed to delay drilling. It is to be hoped that a similar agreement may be made affecting the two other domes in the rich field."

"The Department of the Interior," he added, "hopes to make producers see the wastefulness of drilling when oil is not needed. It is all the oil and gas we are ever going to get, and yet in some fields wastage runs as high as 85 per cent. Gas is allowed to run out, and only 15 per cent of the oil is ever brought to the surface."

The plan of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and other corporations to pipe natural gas from Kettleman Hills to supply Central California cities was mentioned.

IN WILBUR'S PARTY

In Dr. Wilbur's party are Northcutt Ely, executive assistant to the Secretary; Ely's father, Sims Ely, treasurer of the Federal Land Bank at Berkeley, and various newspapermen. They were met here by Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, who has been in California from his headquarters at Washington for several months in connection with the proposed oil conservation program; Robert Patterson, supervisor, with headquarters in Taft; John Alden, assistant to Supervisor Patterson, and L. H. Blessing, petroleum engineer.

This entire party left Bakersfield immediatetly by auto for Coalinga. In that city the officials will be honored guests at a banquet scheduled by the Coalinga Chamber of Commerce.

COALINGA HEARS SECRETARY SPEAK

COALINGA, June 24. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur declared here today that "disorderly overdevelopment of the Kettleman Hills oil field by interested parties would be like so many hogs fighting to get to the trough."

The Secretary was speaking before the Chamber of Commerce of Coalinga, the nearest city to the Kettleman Hills field.

He declared that Kettleman Hills probably is the greatest oil discovery in history and that its "improper and hasty development at a time when the country already is flooded with oil will go down in history as the action of a foolish people."

Previously, Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, had stated that development at Kettleman should be slow "so that twenty years from now this community will be a fair and beautiful city as it is now and not because of overdevelopment and unwise development, an abandoned oil camp."

FINAL HONORS PAID TO BOOTH

Thousands Join Cortege for Fallen Chieftain

Joyous Hymns Ring Out at Side of London Grave

Speakers Voice Tributes to Salvation Army Leader

LONDON, June 24. (AP)—Gen. William Bramwell Booth, second leader of the Salvation Army and its head until last winter, sleeps tonight by the side of the founder, his father, in a flower-decked corner of Abney Park Cemetery.

The funeral scene today will live in the history of the army as the epitomization of all that religious, social organization represents. There was no evidence of sadness. There was regret, but no sorrow, for as the army phrased it, their general had been promoted to glory.

THOUSANDS TURN OUT

More persons witnessed the last journey today of the man of peace than paid a final tribute to the Duke of Wellington. The conqueror of men had drawn sorrowing hundreds but many thousands turned out today to see the conqueror of souls to his last resting-place.

The cortege, simplicity itself, except for the bright colors of flags of many nations under which the army has worked, attracted as much public attention as though he had been royalty. It approached the graveside to the tune of joyous hymns.

A platform covered with bright colors had been erected over the grave while all around was a carpet of summer flowers whose odors permeated the surrounding atmosphere.

SCENE AT GRAVE

The standard bearers of the procession made a circle around the grave, raising their banners high. Ten thousand voices answered the request of Commissioner Catherine Booth, daughter of the general, to sing the stirring music of the army. Then followed a moment of silence and prayer. Speaker after speaker went on to tell of their love for the general and the greatness of his work. There rested on the coffin the peaked army cap and spectacles of the general and a Bible open at the place where he had last read.

CHAIN GANG FUGITIVE TO SURRENDER

Chicago Publisher Gives Up Seven Years After He Fled Georgia Sentence

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—Robert Elliott Burns, magazine publisher and wounded veteran of the great war, will return to Georgia Tuesday to rejoin the chain gang from which he escaped seven years ago. His return is voluntary, he told Judge Joseph B. David of the Superior Court today.

Habeas corpus proceedings, started by attorneys to keep him from the chain gang, were halted until Georgia officials have him in custody. An application for executive clemency has been filed in Georgia and Burns hopes it will be granted soon.

Burns was sentenced to from six to ten years at hard labor in 1922 after he and two companions robbed a grocery store of little more than $4. After serving three months of his sentence, Burns escaped.

Coming to Chicago, penniless and friendless, he became engaged in real estate publicity. He roomed with Mrs. Emily Pacheo, thirteen years his senior. She learned of his prison record and he married her, coerced by fear of exposure, he said.

He lived with Lillian Salo for several months, and the exposure to police of his prison record was the act of his jealous wife, he said.

Pillsbury Held in Bigamy Case

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (AP)—Charles Atwood Pillsbury, 26 years of age, son of a wealthy Anaheim and Santa Ana family, was held to answer in the Superior Court today to a charge of bigamously marrying 20-year-old Naomi Crockett, Los Angeles society girl, and daughter of Frederick W. Crockett, attorney and former Circuit Court judge in Utah.

Young Pillsbury, whom Crockett said influenced his daughter to marry him by masquerading as a World War aviator, was arrested here last week.

Crockett asserts Pillsbury was still married to a Mill Valley woman when he eloped with the Los Angeles girl.

FLORENCE HONORS ITS SAINT

City's Centuries-Old Ceremony Carried Out Annually for John the Baptist Attracts Throngs

FLORENCE (Italy) June 24. (AP)—Florence's 1000-year-old ceremony of honoring the city's patron saint, John the Baptist, was celebrated today with all the color of the middle ages. Religious ceremonies, fireworks, parades and a carriage race in one of the principal streets of the town were combined to carry out the old traditions.

The ceremonies began at 8 o'clock this morning with a salute from Fort Belvedere.

A little later the Royal Society of St. John the Baptist marched in costume to receive the municipal authorities. The Mayor and his following came from the Beschio Palace in parade formation, preceded by a squadron of guards in full uniform and pages and trumpeters in costume.

The two processions with bands proceeded together to the Church of St. John, where the Mayor made an offering of candles to the archpriest of the diocese. High mass was celebrated in the cathedral at 10:30 o'clock by Cardinal Mistrangelo.

The afternoon was turned over to the civil celebrations. One feature was the giving of dowries by the municipality to poor girls who stand little chance of being married unless a dowry is one of the attractions.

The celebrations, particularly the fireworks, drew to Florence thousands of peasants from surrounding towns. The Arno was gay with hundreds of boats sailing as near the fort as they could get to watch the pyrotechnics.

The observance of the Feast of St. John the Baptist at Florence dates from a period between 662 and 671.

The government is consulting with the dominions of certain signature of this clause by which the signatory powers undertake to submit to arbitration by the court all disputes involving questions of international law."

TRENTON (N. J.) June 24. (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, vice-chairman of the National Democratic Committee, was arrested tonight on a warrant charging contempt of the Legislature for refusing to answer questions concerning the acquisition of his reputed wealth.

The Mayor was given twenty-four hours in which to obtain a writ of habeas corpus. He was to remain during that period in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms of the State Senate.

Strain Upon Truth

The strain upon truth in advertising becomes too great when the public is told that other cigarettes enjoy the toasting process. It takes three years to produce Lucky Strike's flavor. This unrivaled cigarette is a blend of finest tobaccos from each of three consecutive growths—the cream of the crop. Then comes the secret toasting process which in the opinion of 20,679* physicians makes Lucky Strike less irritating than other cigarettes. This exclusive heat treatment also purifies the tobacco and adds a touch of nut-sweet flavor—appetizing, delicious, different—the earmark of one of the world's most popular products.

WAR OATH BARS ALIEN EDUCATOR

Citizenship Denied to Yale Divinity Teacher

Prof. MacIntosh Refuses to Take Full Pledge

Limitation Put on Service of Nation in Crisis

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) June 24. (AP) Prof. Douglas C. MacIntosh, Dwight professor of theology in Yale divinity school, who would not promise to "defend the United States against all enemies," was denied American citizenship by Federal Judge Warren F. Burrows today.

Prof. MacIntosh reiterated his refusal to defend the country in any war except a "justified war." In a 300-word written statement he explained his views on the subject, saying that he "could" be willing to take up arms in defense of the United States but he reserved his right to serve "only when the cause is just."

DUTY TO COUNTRY

"I could swear allegiance to the United States as fully as to any country," he said, "and I know of no duty higher than that to my country."

Judge Burrows then said that the President of the United States, in time of war, must have absolute power and control over the nation and individual discretion cannot be countenanced. There would be no unity in defense, he said, only chaos.

"Persons taking the kind of oath you wish to take would furnish the country with citizens who are good citizens in peace time and poor ones in war time," said Judge Burrows. "When the powder begins to burn and the bullets begin to fly, there would be no one who would believe it a just cause."

APPEAL PLANNED

Dean Charles E. Clark of the Yale law school, representing the divinity professor, pointed to his character, reputation and distinguished military service for Canada and the United States during the World War, but Judge Burrows said that an alien must take the full required oath or he cannot become a citizen. Dean Clark said he will take an appeal from the decision.

Prof. McIntosh is a native of Canada.

He was graduated from McMasters University in 1903. He joined the faculty of Yale in 1919. During the World War he saw active service in France as a chaplain in the Canadian Army and later as a Y.M.C.A. worker with the A.E.F..

Dean Clark announced the appeal will be to the United States District Court of the Second Circuit in New York City.

NEW SILVER RADIO PUT ON MARKET

Screen Grid Tubes Are Distinctive Feature of Latest Invention

A new radio known as the Silver Radio, in which new features have been incorporated, has just been introduced in Los Angeles by W. W. Petley, head of the Radio Distributing Company.

"Each screen grid tube has eight times the merit of an ordinary tube," explains Mr. Petley, in pointing out the advantages of screen grid tube construction used in this new eight-tube set. "Through the use of four screen grid tubes programs are brought in without trace of AC hum regarless of local interference.

"Nearly three years ago Silver Marshall, Inc. foresaw the value of screen grid tubes. They were the first radio manufacturer RCA licensed to use screen grid tubes.

"Another feature of Silver Radio is the new overtone switch which overcomes static in summer and assures realistic reception in winter. Weather and distance of station dictates which way to 'flip' the switch for perfect reception.

"Among the other improvements Silver has achieved, is a matched impedance dynamic speaker, utilizing two new power tubes in push-pull audio which is easily controlled. A new screen grid power detector and bank selector tuning with one dial are other features of the new set."

BULGARIA IN FERMENT AT SHOOTINGS

Jugo-Slavians Declared to Have Fired on Group Without Provocation

VIENNA, June 24. (AP)—A Sofia dispatch to Neues Wiener Tageblatt today said great indignation and agitation has been aroused in Bulgaria as a consequence of the shooting by Jugo-Slavian guards of three Bulgarians, two of them women, whom the Bulgarians insist carried regular passports.

Six Bulgarian soldiers, the dispatch adds, were fired on by Jugo-Slavian guards, the Bulgarians still being on their own soil. A corporal was wounded seriously. It is said also that Jugo-Slavian authorities have interned more than 600 natives in camps along the frontier.

The Sofia government is said to be preparing an energetic note of protest to the Belgrade government.

Conditions of Cotton Crop of South Improve

MEMPHIS, June 24. (Exclusive)—Reports to the Commercial Appeal indicate that cotton crop prospects in Central Tennessee districts are now the best in the belt. northern portions of the central belt including all of Memphis territory are now making satisfactory progress after having been delayed by unfavorable weather and by high water, which was a further adverse influence.

The Alabama crop also is making good progress, but the condition generally is not as favorable as in the more central districts and weevils are present locally over most of the State.

Prospects in Louisiana and Southern Mississippi are not far from brilliant except for the presence of boll weevils.

In the Atlantics the plant is small, due to lateness and weevils are reported from Florida well into North Carolina.

Texas appears to have slumped from its brilliant prospects early in the season but is showing some recovery. Moisture conditions are exceptionally good in the northwest and west and with favorable weather during the next two or three weeks a high yield is expected in the Corpus Christi and along the lower Rio Grande.

Weevil infestation is at least as heavy as in average years. The Oklahoma prospect is the poorest in the belt owing to unfavorable weather over central and eastern portions of the State. Western portions have gotten off to a fair to very good start.

STRESEMANN ENDS DOUBTS

German Stand on Rhineland Commission Made Clear

Reichstag Hears His Reply to Criticism by Nationalists

Answer Given to Objections Concerning Young Plan

BERLIN, June 24. (AP)—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Minister, in a vigorous reply to severe Nationalist criticism, told the Reichstag today that Germany will not stand for the installation of a commission in the Rhineland as the price of its evacuation.

He answered Nationalist objection to the newly evolved Young plan by declaring the plan makes Germany's burden definitely lighter than the Dawes plan and this is the only question at issue.

Then further to take the wind out of the sails of the Nationalists he announced that President Von Hindenburg, as well as the Cabinet, stands behind the manifestations this week against the Treaty of Versailles, especially the clause acknowledging Germany's sole guilt for the war.

The Foreign Minister repeatedly declared to the Nationalists that when they were in power they also could not do otherwise than to fulfill Germany's international obligations.

POLICY UNDER FIRE

The Nationalist policy of first proving that the Dawes plan was unworkable, he said, would have let to the destruction of the industrial middle class and would have been accompanied by consequences as dire as the Ruhr controversy of 1923.

Despite his recent illness, the Foreign Minister was in excellent condition oratorically, and gave no impression of weakness, although a secretary, as a precautionary measure, placed a chair near him. He used a manuscript as the basis for his address, but frequently departed from it to reply to questions from the floor.

When the debate was finished for the day, the Nationalist introduced a motion of no confidence against the Foreign Minister, declaring that his five years in that post have been a failure.

Count Westarp, leader of the Nationalists, declared that the Young plan will enslave future generations and that what makes it worse is the fact that it will be accepted by Germany instead of being forced upon her as he said the Dawes plan was.

Dr. Stresemann's only reference to the United States, an indirect one, was his answer to the Nationalist charge that Germany is becoming a colony of France and England.

"No, we are not a colony of Frenchmen and Englishmen," he said. "To me it seems doubtful whether all Europe is not in danger of becoming a colony of those who are luckier than we. The fact that the colonists sat down together to work out amelioration for each other because others did not give them amelioration—that is something that cannot be removed from the history of the Paris negotiations."

STRESEMANN STATEMENT CAUSES DISCUSSION

PARIS, June 24. (Exclusive)—The declaration made in the Reichstag by Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Minister, that the prospective negotiations for the evacuation of the Rhineland will fall through if a new permanent commission in the occupied territory after the evacuation is insisted upon has caused much discussion in official circles here and will undoubtedly be the subject of bitter attacks in the French press tomorrow.

It is pointed out here that Chancellor Mueller agreed with the other five of the "Big Six" powers last September in Geneva to the principle of the appointment of a commission of conciliation and inquiry to survey the Rhineland after the Allied troops have been withdrawn, the membership of such body and the rules to govern it to be the subject of negotiations between the six governments.

EX-DRY CANDIDATE DIES

CLASH BETWEEN FORE AND AMEN ELIMINATED

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—The Presbyterian Church at Itasca, Du Page county, has arranged Sunday services so that caddies on the six golf courses near-by, as well as golfers themselves, may attend church and play golf without one interfering with the other.

A special Sunday-school for caddies is held throughout the golfing season, beginning at 7:30 a.m. Half an hour later services are held for golfers. The pastor, Rev. Lester E. Bond, announced that parking space for golf equipment has been provided in an anteroom.

"Many of our local residents, especially caddies, could not attend services at the usual hour in the morning," the pastor said, "and many persons who come here from Chicago to play golf would not break into their game to go to church. Now we have conformed our Sunday schedule to golfing hours and the church attendance proves we are doing the most expedient thing."

AIR FANS READY FOR SYMPHONY

First of Series Will Be on Ether at 8:15 P.M.

San Francisco Orchestra to Be Heard Over KHJ

KTM This Evening to Give Gala Program

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

While an audience waits in the civic auditorium at San Francisco this evening another audience out in radioland will be comfortably ensconsed in various poses at city, beach, country and mountain homes to hear identically the same program.

This will be in the form of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, directed by Bernardino Molinari of Rome, in the first of a series of summer concerts.

The time will be from 8:15 to 10:30 o'clock, and the stations broadcasting the event will be KHJ, Los Angeles; KFRC, San Francisco, and KMJ, Fresno.

Goossens, Ganz, Walter, Bloch, Hertz and Lescshke will be guest conductors during the summer series. Tonight's concert will include Mendelssohn's overture, "Fingale Cave," Beethoven's "Symphony No. 7 in A-Major;" Richard Strauss's tone poem, "Don Juan," and Wagner's prelude to "Die Meistersinger."

AVIATRIX TO SPEAK

KTM also calls attention to its 8 o'clock broadcast this evening in the form of the last gala program before the station moves to new quarters in the next ten days.

The studio concert ensemble will head the radio bill, assisted by a vocal and instrumental group, the Mexican Serenaders and the staff of studio soloists.

Miss Marvel Crosson, San Diego aviatrix, is scheduled to tell of her next proposed flight, and announcement of the event concludes with the statement that several film and stage players will be on hand to see the program and perhaps say a few words to the audience.

RADIO DRAMA, ALSO

The members of the huge radio audience seem to have rather marked likes and dislikes. So for those who are not in the mood tonight to listen to the delightful strains of the symphony and who are not particularly interested in the gala studio event, perhaps the drama will make an appeal.

"The Bells," the play which brought both fame and fortune to the late Sir Henry Irving and established him as one of the greatest British actors of his day, will be given over KFWB from 8:30 to 9 o'clock.

Herbert Heyes will sustain the role of Mathias, the Burgomaster, originated by Irving. Mildred Von Hollen, talented young thespian, will portray the part of the daughter, Annette, and the other parts will be adequately cast, also.

MEXICO'S FIRST MASS SATURDAY

Services to be Inaugurated in Shrine Church

Capital Cathedral to Stay Closed Some Time

Insurgents Surrendering Because of Pact

MEXICO CITY, June 24. (AP)—The first public mass in Mexico since August 1, 1926, will be said at the church of Neustra Senora De La Guadalupe—Our Lady of the Guadalupe — Mexico's national shrine next Saturday, the feast of Saint Peter and Saint Paul.

Pascual Diaz, newly appointed archbishop of Mexico, in a published statement today said that while the task of taking inventory of the churches and their delivery by the government back to the Episcopate necessarily will take some time it will be rushed to completion in the case of the Guadalupe church for the Saturday service.

Other churches will be reopened by the priests as quickly as the governmental surrender processes can be completed and priests can be sent back to them. The Mexican national cathedral on the site of the old Aztec sacrificial block, probably will be kept closed until the novelty has worn off the new religious services, since it is in a bad state of repair.

Prominent Mexico City Catholics have set in motion plans to have pilgrims to the shrine Saturday creep the entire distance on their knees. Numerous church groups have promised participation in the rite, which would be made over a three-mile cobblestone route.

Dispatches to Excelsior from Guadalajara say that insurgent chieftains are surrendering in view of the agreement on the religious question.

Their action followed an aerial bombardment of the insurgent camps with statements announcing that religious services soon will be resumed.

TEARLE SAVES ON ALIMONY

Court Rules Actor Need Not Pay Divorced Wife $2500

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (AP)—Conway Tearle, stage and screen actor, was saved $2500 by Superior Judge Trabucco today when the jurist ruled the actor does not have to pay Mrs. Josephine Park Tearle, his first wife, that amount in back alimony.

Tearle divorced his first wife in 1912 and has married twice since.

Ethelind Terry, Actress, Robbed

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—Two young bandits early today robbed Ethelind Terry, musical-comedy star, of $30,000 in jewelry.

Miss Terry, who a month ago married Benjamin E. Bogeaus, a wealthy real-estate man, was returning with her husband to their apartment from a cabaret, when they were robbed. Nothing was taken from Mr. Bogeaus.

CHANGES URGED IN TARIFF BILL

Radical Alterations Sought at Committee Hearings

Abrogation of Cuban Treaty Farm Bureau Plea

Wool Growers' Head Also Voices Proposals

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Radical changes in the House tariff bill, including provisions for termination of the reciprocal trade treaty with Cuba, higher rates on wool, and levying of duties on agricultural imports from the Philippines, were recommended at hearings on the measure today before three Senate finance subcommittees.

Chester H. Gray, legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, suggested abrogation of the Cuban-American treaty under which each country grants the other preferential tariff rates on a long list of commodities. He did not detail the reasons, but said he will discuss the subject at later hearings.

Appearing before the subcommittee on agriculture, Gray said farm products coming into the United States from the Philippines, including sugar, should be dutiable. The House rejected the proposal for tariffs against imports into the United States from its possessions.

DEBENTURE STAND

Questioned by Senators Smoot, Republican, Utah, and Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, Gray said his organization is neither for or against the debenture plan sponsored by the national grange as a part of the tariff bill.

Gray was one of more than a dozen witnesses heard by the agriculture subcommittee before it closed its hearings on that section. This finance committee group will meet tomorrow and on Wednesday will begin hearings on the controversial sugar schedules.

Before another subcommittee Frank J. Hagenbarth of Spencer, Idaho, president of the National Wool Growers' Association, sought a 36 cents a pound duty on raw wool, as compared with 34 cents in the bill and the present rate of 31 cents, and substantially higher levies on all kinds of wool waste.

WOOL DISPLACEMENT

The witness declared 35,000,000 pounds of wool waste entered the United States last year at about half the duty on virgin wool and that this displaced approximately one-third the American production of raw wool. The domestic growers failed to receive the full benefit of the present 31-cent tariff, he said, chiefly because of the wide differential between the raw and waste wool duties.

Hagenbarth's proposals were supported by N. B. Brooks of Boston on behalf of the pure wool manufacturers of New England and Pennsylvania, and by J. Byron Wilson, McKinley, Wyo., representing the Wyoming Wool Growers' Association.

Although the growers would be satisfied with a 36-cent duty on virgin wool, Hagenbarth said they are entitled to 40-cent protection based on actual differences in cost of production here and in Australia and South American nations.

Testimony for and against higher rates on various kinds of glass occupied a third subcommittee. The sundries schedule, embracing the controversial House duties on hides, leather and shoes, was delayed until tomorrow.

SLIDING SCALE OPPOSED

Opposition to the sliding scale sugar tariff, as a substitute for the higher rate of 2.40 cents a pound on Cuban sugar provided in the House bill, was expressed in a statement issued today by Royal D. Mead, vice-president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association.

Mr. Mead said Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco has been quoted in published reports as advocating the sliding scale plan after a recent conference with President Hoover and as intending to offer such a proposal before the Senate Finance Committee, which opens hearings on the sugar schedule next Wednesday.

The plan, under which rates would decrease as the price of sugar advanced and vice-versa, was described by Mead as a "scheme" which would guarantee $35,000,000 annual profits to refiners.

PROPOSAL DEFINED

"The proposal," he said, "is that the Congress of the United States shall determine what would be a fair minimum and maximum refiners' margin between the open market price of duty-paid raw sugar and the price of refined sugar, and require refiners to pay the government a penalty for violation in selling sugar above or below such margin."

In other words, he added, the sliding scale plan would assure eastern cane refiners their cost of converting raw sugar into refined and their profits.

"Does anyone believe," he asked, "that the refiners of sugar should be selected from all other industries and have their costs and profits protected by government action?"

RADIO ACT TEST SOUGHT IN SUIT

Federal Commission's Orders Challenged in Court

Two Companies Appeal from Dictum of Board

Charge of Arbitrary, Unfair Rulings Made

WASHINGTON, June 24. (Exclusive)—The Intercity Radio Telegraph Company of Cleveland and the Wireless Telegraph Communications Company of North Brooklyn today filed in the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia appeals from decisions of the Federal Radio Commission denying them radiocommunication channels they had applied for.

The appellants contend that the act of the commission in denying them the right to expand their business was arbitrary, unfair and unjust and deprived them of their constitutional rights. They say the commission unduly favored the newly formed Universal Wireless Communications Company and the R.C.A. Communications Company.

The Intercity and Wireless companies also contend that certain provisions of the Radio Act of 1927 are unconstitutional.

The case promises to be a severe test of the powers of the Federal Radio Commission and of the constitutionality of the 1927 Radio Act.

WHY THE EMPLOYEES

The question is frequently asked. Why do you permit your employees to represent the California Water Service Company in the distribution of 6% Preferred Shares among customers? Would it not be preferable to employ salesmen for this purpose?

The 6% Preferred Shares of the California Water Service Company offer an exceptional opportunity to the people of California. An offering of this kind is better represented by thorough explanation, rather than sales inducement. We think our customers will recognize the merits of this investment and would prefer talking it over with an employee who is not a salesman rather than to have someone who is not a regular member of the organization call and try to talk them into purchasing.

The employees, familiar with the operation of the business, in close contact with its management, and knowing the facts concerning our investment, are better qualified, we think, to explain our Preferred Shares, than are other people.

Last but not least, our employees, as a body, become the Company that is known as the California Water Service Company. They are citizens in the various communities in which they live; and are known to their neighbors for what they really are. It is in this manner, "Known for what it is," that the 6% Preferred Shares of the California Water Service Company should be represented.

For many years this Company through its predecessors has been actively engaged in the distribution of water service to meet the growing demands of an increasing number of communities in California.

The growth of the Company over this period has kept pace with the splendid progress of the many and growing communities served.

Violet Ray is anti-knock... the superlative fuel for all types of motors. A million motorists are finding that they need not pay premium prices for fine performance. VIOLET RAY anti-knock Gasoline... today's best motor fuel... is sold for the price of ordinary gasoline.

The REWARD that CAME to this NEW and BETTER GASOLINE

ALMOST like a grass fire the news spread, last October, that a new and better motor fuel named VIOLET RAY anti-knock Gasoline, had come on the market.

One man told another, and he another, until thousands were spreading the word of Violet Ray, and its better performance and greater economy.

This process has never stopped. It is still going on and in larger volume than ever before.

The greatest reward in business has been conferred on VIOLET RAY anti-knock Gasoline—public approval. The public wants it, as more than 3000 General Petroleum authorized independent dealers testify. It is no longer being sold—in the sense that customer resistance must be overcome—it is being bought everywhere in greatly growing volume.

There is no denying the public demand for a product, once the public has found that product good and to its liking.

That is precisely what has happened in the case of VIOLET RAY anti-knock Gasoline. In a few short months it has become the preferred gasoline among all who demand finer performance, fuel economy and maintenance economy in their motor cars.

Try just one tankful and the improved performance of your motor will tell you that Violet Ray is the finest motor fuel that refining science can produce today.

CRIME WAVE'S GROWTH DENIED

Bay City Probation Session Hears Acting Head

Speaker Shows Figures to Back Assertions

Conference on Social Work Swings Into Action

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (AP)—Judge Herbert G. Cochran of Norfolk, Va., declared tonight that despite the plague of racketeers and bandits, crime in the United States is not on the increase.

Judge Cochran, acting president of the National Probation Association, in session this week, supplied figures to support his claim. Despite the increase in population in the nation, actual commitments dropped one-third from 1913 to 1923, and the ratio has not increased materially since, he asserted.

"A lot of new crimes have been created by new laws and there has been an increase in some types of crime and a decrease in others," Judge Cochran declared.

"Burglary has decreased and hold-ups and other bold youthful crimes have increased."

Chicago with its machine-gun armed racketeers is in no sense typical of the state of the country as a whole, the judge asserted, but represents the result of corrupt politics, large unassimilated foreign population and new laws, chiefly prohibition.

An ardent advocate of probation, Judge Cochran said the law should be administered strictly and scientifically and should be limited to first offenders and to carefully investigated exceptional cases.

CONFERENCE SWINGS INTO ACTION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (Exclusive)—With delegates arriving hourly by boat and motor, the great convention of the National Conference of Social Work and its kindred organizations swung into action today with the opening of sessions of three allied groups.

The National Probation Association with 350 delegates in attendance, began its convention tonight at the Palace Hotel. The American Social Hygiene Association began its sessions at the civic auditorium with 150 delegates present, and the Catholic Conference on Industrial Problems began its deliberations in Knights of Columbus auditorium.

Two more groups of social workers will get under way tomorrow. They are the American Association of Hospital Workers, with meetings at the civic auditorium, and the International Association of Police Women, with headquarters at Hotel Sir Francis Drake.

Crime prevention and the cure of social ills, poverty, unemployment, juvenile delinquency, family problems and the numerous phases of social malajustment to the complex modern civilization will be discussed and analyzed from the professional and scientific viewpoint during this great congress of social workers.

Commissioner Aitchison Says Resolutions Sent Stopped by Securities

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Clyde B. Aitchison, Interstate Commerce Commissioner, in a statement today declared the commission "pays absolutely no attention to resolutions of chambers of commerce and civic bodies on railroad extension projects."

Referring to the rivalry over the application of the Great Northern Railroad for permission to extend its line from Oregon into Northern California, Aitchison said:

"A great deal of money is being spent on this railroad fight over the California extension. But it is all being wasted, because no member of the commission except, perhaps, myself, will even know that these resolutions are being obtained on both sides. They are stopped in our secretarial offices because we simply haven't the time to read them.

"The campaign is useless on both sides and ought to be stopped."

The statement, Mr. Aitchison said, applies to all resolutions presented by civic bodies on the subject.

"The commission does not care about any communications," he said, "unless they are in the form of evidence."

Slayer Gives Up, Pleading Self-Defense

WEAVERVILLE (Cal.) June 24. (AP)—A miner plodded out of the sun-baked hills today, brought out the Sheriff and asked his own arrest.

"Better lock me up," said A. L. Adams. "I killed my pardner, Jim Long, up there."

Then he told a story of two men isolated in a lonely cabin, laboring together for months in their search for gold.

Saturday night a quarrel flared into gunplay and Adams shot and killed Long. He said he did it in self-defense.

España Desesperada por la Suerte de Sus Aviadores

MADRID, Junio 24.—Barcos de guerra y aeroplanos están dando esta noche una batida por el mar, en las cercanías de las Azores, buscando algún indicio del paradero de los cuatro aviadores españoles perdidos desde hace casi tres días, y de los que ninguna noticia cierta se tiene.

En tan triste situación, el único rayo de esperanza lo constituye un rumor no confirmado de que un buque de carga británico había avistado por esas aguas despojos de algún naufragio, pero ningún náufrago viviente. A toda prisa han salido cuatro destructores españoles de El Ferrol, con órdenes de verificar tal noticia, y el cañonero portugués "Zaire" estaba tomando repuesto de combustible en Horta para continuar sus pesquisas comenzadas el sábado.

El primer ministro Primo de Rivera, que, inconscientemente, dio a España una falsa esperanza el sábado autorizando la publicación de un mensaje que se suponía despachado por el mayor Ramón Franco, jefe del vuelo, estaba hoy lleno de ansiedad al entrar en el salón del consejo de ministros. Manifestó que eran contradictorias las noticias que tenía, y muy oscura la perspectiva de salvación de los cuatro bizarros aviadores.

El público está loco de ansiedad, pues el mayor Franco es un héroe nacional desde su famoso vuelo a Suramérica, realizado en 1926. En el viaje aéreo que inició el otro día iba acompañado por el capitán Ruiz de Alda, uno de sus tripulantes de aquel fausto vuelo, por el mayor Eduardo Gallarzo, y el sargento mecánico Pedro Madariaga.

Los Británicos Debaten una Cláusula de los Estatutos del Tribunal Mundial

LONDRES, Junio 24.—En fuentes autorizadas se dice que el gobierno británico está estudiando la posibilidad de adherirse con el menor número posible de reservas a la cláusula discrecional de los estatutos del Tribunal Mundial.

El gobierno está consultando con los gobiernos de los dominios lo de la firma de esta cláusula, que obliga a las potencias signatarias a someter al arbitraje del Tribunal Mundial todas aquellas disputas que entrañen cuestiones de derecho internacional.

Tunney Dice que Indemnizó en $35,000 a la Viuda

BRIDGEPORT (Connecticut) Junio 24.—James J. (Gene) Tunney, campeón retirado de pesofuertes, en su contestación de hoy al juicio por violación de palabra de casamiento interpuesto contra él por la señora Katherine King Fogarty, de Fort Worth (Tejas), quien le exige $500,000 de indemnización, niega haberle pedido nunca a la quejosa que se casara con él; pero agrega que, a pesar de ello, le regaló sumas cuyo total pasa de $35,000, para "que lo relevara de toda obligación hacia ella."

La víspera de la segunda pelea entre Dempsey y Tunney, Billy Gibson, apoderado del campeón retirado, entregó un dólar a la señora Fogarty para que ésta firmara su renuncia a todo derecho de reclamación contra Tunney; y, la víspera del encuentro entre Tunney y Heeney, le dio $35,000 para que firmara otro finiquito, con declaración análoga. Esos pagos fueron dictados por un sano criterio comercial.

Los derechos que la señora reclamaba en aquella época no tenían fundamento ninguno; pero el apoderado Gibson temía que la publicidad que élla pudiera darle acarreara desprestigio para Tunney e hiciera disminuir las entradas en el circo pugilístico el día de la pelea. Por otra parte, el litigio no podía menos de enervar al campeón y restarle probabilidades de ganar en la lucha.

Tres Matuteros de Licor Sentenciados

Los que comercian en licor clandestino tienen que sufrir el condigno castigo. Tales fueron ayer las palabras del juez federal de distrito James, al sentenciar a Jud Purdue, alias Claude A. Davis, a Maurice Sugarman y a George Williams. Los tres fueron convictos en jurado la semana pasada de haber formado un complot para desembarcar 27,000 cajas de licor en las costas de Sud-california. Se dictó contra ellos sentencia de dos años en algún presidio federal. La defensa hizo desesperados esfuerzos por que se aplazara dos días la ejecutoria; pero el tribunal no accedió.

El tribunal denegó asimismo la petición de nuevo jurado para Sugarman y para Purdue. Dícese que el primero es jefe de una gavilla de matuteros. Accedió el juez, sin embargo, a escuchar dentro de unos cuantos días alegatos en favor de nuevo jurado para Williams.

El hecho de que los reos presentaran sus hojas de servicios en la Guerra Mundial no influyó en el ánimo del tribunal, pues hizo éste observar que en gran número de causas instruídas contra violadores de la prohibición, han presentado éstos sus hojas de servicios, sin que haya podido tomarse ésto como circunstancia atenuante, pues son justamente los hombres de cualidades los que mejor deben comprender que hay que observar la ley.

Fred conversaba un día con su hermana, y le decía, "Alicia ¿por qué dice la gente, 'No abandones el barco'?" (Fred was talking to his sister one day. He said, "Alice, what makes people say, 'Don't give up the ship'?")

Alicia replicó, "No lo sé. Es lo que me dijo ayer la maestra cuando se me ocurrió que no podría yo aprender mi lección" (Alice said, "I don't know. That's what the teacher said to me yesterday when I thought that I could not get my lesson").

"Sí", dijo Fred, "y eso es lo que mi padre me dijo. Le dije que no podría yo nunca aprender a escribir bien, y se contentó con decirme, 'No debes abandonar el barco, hijo mío'" ("Yes", said Fred, "and that's what father said to me. Convention of Realty Men Adopts Safeguards to Prevent Malpractice

BOSTON, June 24. (AP)—Standards of practice for the appraisal of real estate, to serve as a nation-wide check against malpractice in realty deals, were approved by the board of directors of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at a preconvention session here today.

While nearly half of the expected 2000 delegates from United States and Canada were registering at the headquarters, the directors were in session studying the standards which had been worked out for a period of more than two years by the appraisal division of the association.

A message from President Hoover to Harry H. Culver, president of the association, was delivered by airplane today. The message read:

"I cordially share your view that an outstanding opportunity for public service awaits the realtors in the field of stimulation of home ownership, which is so vitally related to the health, happiness, and civic pride of our people."

AIRPLANES' DISTANCE COMPUTED

United States Craft Do 70,900,000 Miles in Year; Number Licensed 4317

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Airplanes flew 70,900,000 miles in the United States last year.

This was announced today by Secretary Lamont in connection with the approaching third anniversary on July 1 of the establishment of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce.

Secretary Lamont said that with the aeronautics branch completing its third year of service it was fitting to review aircraft development at this time.

The secretary estimated that during the first six months of this year planes flew 8,000,000 miles over the air-transport lines. This compared with a mileage of 10,900,000 for all of 1928 and 5,870,489 for 1927.

Planes engaged in miscellaneous, commercial and private flying traveled 60,000,000 miles in 1928 and 30,000,000 in 1927. No estimate was available for the mileage flown by these planes this year.

The secretary said there are now 6585 licensed pilots and 4317 licensed planes in the United States.

Oriental Screen Vamp Dazes Traveling Journalist

BY FRED HOGUE

KYOTO, June 3. (Exclusive)—On the emerald banks of the Hodzu River, just beyond the suburbs of Kyoto, in the violet shadow of Arishimayama — "Storm Mountain"—I found an ancient Japanese village that has been rechristened "the Hollywood of Japan."

Here the Samurai in their rustling skirts were fencing under the spotlight, a Daimyo was strutting and Japanese replicas of the Francis Morgan dancing girls in flowing colored gowns were gliding through the serpentine steps of an oriental rhapsody.

When I expressed my polite surprise and appreciation, a ubiquitous press agent informed me that, in number, more scenarios were filmed in Japan last year than in Hollywood.

BY WAY OF COMPLIMENT

For a moment I lost my proverbial reticence and informed him that he was a worthy follower of Ananias, patron saint of the press agent fraternity. He darted away, only to return with a brochure printed in English which gave the number of pictures filmed in Japan last year at 817 and in Hollywood as 746.

He had spent some months in Hollywood and his time had apparently not been wasted. I suspect he is convinced that he knows more about the American motion-picture business than De Mille and Griffith put together.

When I began to cross-examine him he admitted that the Japanese scenarios are much shorter than the American and are at present made only for home consumption. As we talked further he expressed regret that his countrymen and countrywomen are so obtuse as to prefer American films to the native product.

SOARING AMBITION

But the Japanese are possessed of that ambition which rises earlier than virtue, and sleeps later than vice. They envision the time when their films will conquer the Orient and, sweeping westward across Europe and the Atlantic, will fight the American product on its own dunghill.

Scoff at accomplishment if you will; at least, they cannot be disqualified for trying. They are following American filmdom as they are following western art, but candor compels me to record that in both they still are several laps behind.

Most of their tiny, one-reel films are costume plays based on historical subjects. In this land of paternalism with a national censor sitting in Tokio a scenario must serve alike educational and patriotic purposes. And here, as elsewhere, even a homeopathic dose of propaganda is deadly to art.

LONG, LONG TRAIL

They cannot be disqualified for trying, but I suspect their enthusiasm is carrying them so far that they will have to walk back.

I was beginning to become impatient when a director in classic Japanese getas, blouse and skirt presented himself to be introduced.

By his side was Fushima an oriental-eyed Mabel Normand, and press agent, studio, mountain and stream faded out of the picture. I saw only my own face mirrored in the limpid pool of her dark oriental eyes, only the nimble dimples that played like truant sunbeams about her poppy-red lips.

Fushima wore a short white flannel skirt and red sport jacket. On her tiny feet were dainty black slippers that would pinch the toes of a baby. Fushima plays the vamp in Japanese filmdom.

STOCK PHRASE

I said, "taihain kerie"—"very pretty"—just as I had said it in Tokio to Kikimaru—"Little Chrysanthemum"—and shall say it again the good Lord alone knows how often before I am safely back in Hollywood.

She gave me her dimpled baby fingers and talked to me with eyes more tender than lotus blooms. They led us before a camera and snapped us standing there.

May and December—but think what a breath of May would mean in the heart of winter! That is what came to me on the banks of the Hodzu River, at the foot of the rapids, in the shadow of Storm Mountain.

PRUDENT RETICENCE

I shall not relate the rest of the adventure lest Midge and Betty in Hollywood should read, but after I met Fushima nothing else mattered. As it floats now like a vagrant fancy across the waste lands of my memory, several hours later, I do not believe it myself. In this lotus land of illusion, suggestion and phantasy if an Anglo-Saxon believes the testimony of his own five senses he is lost beyond recall.

If it were not for the strip of film that Fushima surreptitiously slipped into my pocket in the cutting-room and the armful of photographs that the press agent thrust upon me as I departed I should attribute the whole to a day dream that came out of Nirvana while I was standing in a gallery of the Imperial Museum before a classic Japanese painting of the ninth century.

There are things under these Japanese heavens, Horatio, that can drive to madness a mind more evenly balanced than that of the melancholy Prince of Denmark.

COOKS FEEDING CAKE EATERS

Housewife Still Bakes Most of Pastry Being Eaten in Country

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—Those who have their cake and eat it—a far greater number than those who achieve the theoretical impossibility of having their cake and eating it, too—still are mainly dependent on the will and skill of the housewife.

The fact that the housewife is doing her share to maintain frequently praiseworthy standards of generosity in this field of her responsibility is clearly disclosed in figures compiled by the Department of Agriculture. She produces more than three-fourths of all the cake consumed in the country—and enough is produced daily to enable each man, woman and child to have a portion weighing 1.6 ounces. The annual cake bill of the nation is estimated at $1,333,000,000, of which the commercial bakers account for only $310,000,000.

INVENTOR'S SON DEAD

LONDON, June 24. (AP)—Sir Mortimer Singer, 66 years of age, a native of Yonkers, N. Y., and member of the Singer sewing machine family, died here today. He was the eldest son of Isaac Merritt Singer, the inventor of the Singer sewing machine, and became a naturalized British subject in 1900. He was a pioneer in cycling, motoring and flying.

FOREIGN TRADE LOSS REVEALED

United States Position as Creditor Lowered

Survey of International Payments Completed

Last Year Shown One of Tremendous Business

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—International payments between the United States and foreign nations in 1928, materially increased by the international movement of goods, gold and service, were estimated today by a Commerce Department study to have involved more than $21,000,000,000.

Of this total, $10,648,000,000 represented credit items which the United States ran up against the world by international trade, while $10,608,000,000 represented debit items, the cost of goods, gold and service obtained by Americans from foreign purveyors.

To make up the figures, the department included every item of "invisible exchange," which embraces such items as the interest payments on foreign debts, insurance and freight costs on foreign shipments, and the expenditures of American tourists, as well as the regularly estimated items of exports and imports.

NATION'S GAINS

The "invisible" portions of the account exceeded the totals in the visible commodity trade.

The nation was found to have gained an international credit of $5,334,000,000 by export of goods; of $817,000,000 by interest on foreign investments, and of $1,634,000,000 from the sale of American securities to foreigners.

On the other side of the ledger, foreigners were shown to have sold $4,497,000,000 in goods to the United States; to have gained more than $750,000,000 from the expenditures abroad by American tourists, and to have received $1,483,000,000 from selling their own securities to American investors.

ON DEBIT SIDE

Foreigners were credited with $1,153,000,000 additional on account of American securities, formerly held abroad, sold back in this country during the stock-market boom last year. These, with a host of other minor accounts, worked out in comparison with previous years, made up the totals.

Secretary Lamont, in a foreword to the compilation, said the study demonstrated that "as a creditor nation, we are not the giant that is often supposed."

"War debts aside," he added, "we are a net creditor nation in the amount of probably less than nine billions."

The figures for the balance of international payments, he also pointed out, set a new record for size, and illustrated that 1928 was a year of tremendous international exchange business.

Lotta Crabtree Will Probated

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (AP)—The will of Lotta Crabtree, famed actress of years ago, was admitted to probate here today. It disposes of an estate valued at more than $3,000,000.

Disabled American veterans of the World War and their families will benefit from the income of a $2,000,000 trust fund which is to continue for forty years. The will also creates a $100,000 fund for destitute actors and a similar amount for discharged prisoners from San Quentin and Folsom prisons.

Lotta Crabtree died in Boston, Mass., in 1924.

MANY HIT BY PASSPORT LAW

Mexico Takes Action to Aid Employment Situation

United States Residents to Pay Border Head Tax

New Free-Zone Scheme Seen as San Diego Boycott

SAN DIEGO, June 24.—All persons who have been employed in Lower California and who reside in the United States must pay a passport fee and head tax of thirty-one pesos, or $15.50 in United States money, Jose M. Davila, new immigration chief at the Tia Juana border, stated today in explaining enforcement of new, rigid, immigration laws.

The laws are being enforced, Davila says, because of unemployment in Mexico at present. In a circular issued recently by the Mexican Immigration Department, the statement is made that a considerable number of foreigners have been doing manual labor on a wage basis while maintaining their homes and interests in towns outside of Mexico.

DOG TRACK EXCEPTED

"The presence of these workers not only makes it difficult for Mexican laborers to get employment, but they contribute nothing to the economic welfare of the country, due to the fact that their wages are spent outside the country," the circular said in pointing out the section of the Mexican labor laws which requires that 80 per cent of employees in all establishments must be Mexicans.

The order does not apply to employees of the dog track at Agua Caliente, Davila said, as these are regarded as specialties whose places could not be taken by Mexican labor.

Undersecretary of Immigration Felipe Canales has ordered the regulations enforced to the letter. Passports are refused in the case of persons who have not been working in Mexico previous to the time the new regulations went into effect, Davila said. Salesmen of San Diego firms, visiting the border city to take orders for groceries and other San Diego goods, also come under the new order and must obtain a passport as well as paying head tax, Davila said.

FREE ZONE REPORTED

A statement issued by Gov. Rodriguez of Lower California, who now is in Mexico City, stated that if the Governor is unsuccessful in obtaining an order from the central government keeping United States trains out of Mexico from 6 p.m. until ˙ a.m., his next step will be the establishment of a free zone for sixty kilometers below the border, the Tia Juana Mexican Herald will say in its edition this week, according to William Clay Silver, editor.

The free zone will amount practically to a boycott of San Diego business, Silver says, as Rodriguez plans to enforce an order requiring all goods used in the zone to be purchased from Los Angeles, San Francisco, eastern and European markets. Petitions are being prepared for a move of this sort in Tia Juana now, Silver says, and they will be forwarded to the Governor in Mexico City. They are being handled by the Tia Juana Chamber of Commerce, fraternal organizations and women's clubs in the border city.

Enforcement of the labor and immigrations laws and establishment of the tariff-free zone, which will extend south to include Ensenada are seen as moves in Lower California's fight for a twenty-four-hour-per-day open border.

Police Subdue Woman Recluse

REDONDO BEACH, June 24.—The efforts of three officers were necessary in quieting a woman recluse of the Redondo Villa tract who became violently insane at her home on Nelson yesterday afternoon. The woman, apparently about 50 years of age, was scarcely known to her neighbors, among among she had lived for about two years and was booked as Jane Doe Smith by the officers, who removed her to the County Hospital last night. Investigators believe that she has a son living in the East and efforts are being made to locate him.

ATTORNEYS CHALLENGE ALL JURORS

Imperial Sheriff Trial Delayed While Lawyers Plead Prejudice

EL CENTRO, June 24.—Selection of a jury to decide the fate of Charles L. Gillett, Imperial county Sheriff, who was scheduled to go to trial today on three grand jury indictments charging fraud and theft of county funds, was delayed when Defense Attorneys Ernest Utley and Harry Horton challenged the entire jury panel on the ground that the Board of Supervisors, which named the panel, was prejudiced against the defendant.

The challenge was made immediately after court convened this morning, and Judge A. C. Finney excused the jurors while the attorneys argued over their qualifications. There are 500 jurors in the panel.

Utley asserted that not only were the Supervisors prejudiced against Gillett, but that jurors had not been properly drawn and certified. Members of the board were called to the witness stand to testify. Without exception they denied the accusation of prejudice and declared that the names in the jury panel had been drawn in good faith. The selections, they stated, were made before the grand jury had indicted Gillett.

Judge Finney instructed members of the jury to report again at 9 a.m. tomorrow, and it was indicated that a ruling would be made at that time on the challenge.

Narcotic Farm Near Pasadena Suggested

PASADENA, June 24.—Establishment of a $5,000,000 government narcotic farm in this vicinity appeared probable today when the Chamber of Commerce received a request from the Narcotic Research Association of the Pacific Coast for an expression of sentiment regarding the project. After being considered by the chamber directors the request was referred to the health and sanitation committee.

One of two large narcotic farms provided for in the Porter bill, recently passed by Congress, will be located in Southern California if a suitable environment can be found. Each of the government institutions will expend more than $500,000 for operation costs annually, it is asserted.

He also has confessed to burglarizing two pool halls here recently, officers said.

OPEN ROAD LURES YOUTHS

Unusual Vacation Trip Arranged by Enterprising Scouts of San Gabriel Valley Troop

SAN GABRIEL, June 24.—Thrilled with thoughts of the glorious adventure ahead, thirteen Boy Scouts of Troop No. 2 of this city, accompanied by their Scoutmaster, troop committeeman and a cook, left today for a five weeks' outing which will take them through seven States, as far east as Wyoming.

A motor truck equipped with all the comforts that Boy Scouts need and filled with shouting, happy youngsters, led the way as the party started from the Church of Our Savior on Roses Road. Following it was a truck loaded with camp equipment, and an automobile in which were Scoutmaster W. C. Fowler and his mother, Mrs. Lucy F. Fowler.

The trip has been in course of preparation since last October. A truck was donated by the Hall-Johnson Company and the boys held minstrel shows which added to their finances. Sanction for the journey was received from the national Scout headquarters Saturday.

The party planned to stop in Barstow late this afternoon and after a short rest to set out across the Mojave Desert tonigh. Scoutmaster Fowler intends to stop at towns where there are Scout troops, and arrangements have been made for the boys in those towns to prepare camping places for the visitors. In several places on the trip the San Gabriel boys will give their minstrel show. The boys will pitch their tents each night and live in the open when they are not traveling.

The route will take the troop through California, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and Nevada. It is planned to stop for a few days in Yellowstone National Park.

Besides Scoutmaster Fowler and Mrs. Fowler, Troop Committeeman J. C. Thompson and the cook, Jack Ives, the following scouts make up the party: Halden Mavity, Melvin Gautier, Lester Gautier, Willard Barada, Leonard Collier, William Young, William Woodbury, Kenneth Heinrich, Kenneth Adams, Lee Ruggles, Edward Levitt, Francis Bush and George Miller.

SAN DIEGO, June 24.—With a record enrollment of eighty boys for the first of a series of summer vacation camps at Camp Marston, Pine Hills, the local Young Men's Christian Association began its summer program today, when a caravan of eight automobiles and trucks took the campers to the mountains.

The boys, 12 to 16 years of age, will spend two weeks in this first of six camp sessions to be held between now and September 2. New facilities at Camp Marston have attracted many boys to camp this year, according to Herbert H. Holmes, general secretary and camp supervisor.

A new water supply and sanitation system, twelve cabins, the Gilmore dining hall, Fletcher swimming pool and several new sports fields are some of the attractions. A professional cook prepares the meals.

TOURISTS FLOOD SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, June 24.—With the summer tourist season just started, this city's housing facilities have already been taxed to their limits, according to managers of hotels, apartment-houses, bungalow courts, auto camps and mountain resorts. Hotels daily are turning away visitors. Many hostelries report occupancy and reservations reaching capacity. Many bungalow court and apartment-house owners have leased their properties for the summer.

Anticipating the crowded condition of quarters for transient visitors and tourists, contractors planned construction of additional hotels, bungalows and apartment-houses, and many of these structures are nearing completion for summer usage.

JUNE DROP LIGHT

REDLANDS, June 24.—This district has gone through five days of real summer weather, with the mercury around the 100 mark, and the orange growers are encouraged because there has not been a greater drop of the little oranges. The June drop caused by hot weather as a rule is the bugaboo of the orange grower as it decides largely the size of the crop for the coming year.

AGED HERMIT FOUND DEAD

First Postmaster and Member of First Board of Education at Azusa Succumbs in Canyon

AZUSA, June 24.—Having lived as a recluse in the San Gabriel Canyon for a quarter century of more, Oliver P. Justice, 81 years of age, first postmaster of this city and a member of the first city school board, was found dead this morning on a cot in front of his cabin by Ranger Trout. He apparently had died three or four days ago from natural causes, it was reported.

His cabin, where he had lived alone more than twenty-five years, is located on the John Hirsch place, about thirty miles up the canyon at the junction of the Iron Fork. A representative of the White Undertaking Parlors here, Walter Piper and two deputy sheriffs will go up the canyon tomorrow morning. The body may be buried in the canyon, it was said.

After being prominent in early activities of this city, Justice practically isolated himself from the world for a quarter of a century. The last time he is known to have been out of the canyon was in 1918 when he was subpoenaed as a witness in a murder trial.

He was named postmaster here when the local office was established in the early '80s and served on the first school board. His only known relative is a sister, Mrs Courtwright, who is said to live in Sawtelle.

HUGE BOND ISSUE PUT TO VOTERS

Orange County Ballots Today on $16,500,000 for Water Program

SANTA ANA, June 24.—Orange county tonight had heard the last word in a hectic campaign leading up to an election tomorrow at which voters of the county will be asked to approve a $16,500,000 flood-control and water-conservation bond issue.

This fund is estimated to cover a comprehensive program for the entire county worked out by County Engineer Paul Bailey and numerous consulting experts. While it has won approval and active support of many civic and service organizations it has been vigorously opposed by owners of large property holdings.

Both friends and foes of the issue held mass meetings tonight throughout the county and lively discussions developed. A heavy and close vote is anticipated tomorrow.

SHE CAN BAKE 'EM, BILLY BOY

Girl Tourist on Way West Turns Out Cherry Pies, Easy as Nothing

BANNING, June 24.—Banning is a cherry country . . . and right now cherries are ripe. Trees are loaded, road sides are lined with lugs, scores of tourists and others are here buying in large and small quantities, and enterprising villagers living along the highway have out signs offering cherry pies for sale.

One of these signs reads: "We can bake a cherry pie, Billy Boy. We'll tell the world we can." The girl who wrote the sign and is baking the pies, is doing a land-office business, she says.

Yesterday at 4 p.m. a family of tourists from Missouri, which had come into the State via Blythe, passed through the Banning cherry district. They were bound for Los Angeles. W. H. Plankthorn was head of the family of mother, two girls and two boys. A part of their equipment was a gasoline stove with a bake-oven attachment. When the family reached Banning, Miss Susie Plankthorn, one of the daughters, bought a large lug of cherries. When suppertime came for the family in their camp alongside the road, Miss Susie had baked for the folks four fat cherry pies.

Weather Bureau to Give Aviators More Detailed Reports After July 1

SAN DIEGO, June 24.—Keeping pace with the development of aviation in this country, the work of the United States Weather Bureau is to be expanded July 1 so that a greater number and more complete weather reports may be available for commercial and military flyers. At the local office radical changes in the number and scope of weather reports issued and received are planned, according to Dean Blake, local Weather Bureau meteorologist.

"Beginning July 1 weather observations for aviators are to be made every three hours here instead of only twice per day as is now the schedule," said Blake. "In addition reports will be received here from other Weather Bureau stations every three hours and hourly weather reports will be available from the teletype receiver at the North Island Naval Air Station.

"The result of these frequent reports on weather conditions will be of great benefit to aviation since conditions all over the western sections of the country will be available to army and naval flyers and to commercial aviators. A more detailed report of the changes contemplated for the local Weather Bureau office will be issued within a few days."

REDLANDS NAVEL SHIPMENTS LARGEST

REDLANDS, June 24.—During the season just passed, this district shipped one of the largest navel crops in its history, almost 5000 carloads of fruit. Small sizes and heavy shipments at certain times kept the returns to the growers from being as good as the year before. The bloom this year was not so heavy, but indications are that the crop will remain on the trees for the June drop has been fairly light.

PACKING-HOUSE TO BE REBUILT

Peace and Law Enforcement Favored But Draft and Military Training Meet Condemnation

WHITTIER, June 24.—At the morning session of the thirty-fifth annual session of the California yearly meeting of Friends Church now nearing the close today, the board of religious education, presented Dr. W. Edward Rafferty, head of the department of religious education at Redlands University, who chose for his subject "The Problem of Religious Education."

Resolutions were prepared by the Board of Peace, Legislation and Social Service and were unanimously passed by the assembly, commending President Hoover on his stand for law enforcement and peace. The President, the Secretary of State, Representatives in Congress, the Postmaster-General and the press are to receive copies of the resolution.

The resolution to be sent to President Hoover, who is a "birthright" Friend, his mother having been a Quaker minister, is as follows:

"California yearly meeting of Friends Church in thirty-fifth annual session at Whittier, Cal., June 19 to 25, inclusive, 1929, stands unmoved for our time-honored principles of peace.

"We heartily commend our President for the stand he has taken for world peace and the limitation of armaments; we pray that God's blessing may rest upon his efforts. We emphatically protest against the universal draft bill recently introduced into our Senate and House of Congress, at the request of the War Department, and again reiterate our protests against military training in our schools and colleges, the citizens' training camps, and against the use of our Postoffice Department in cancellation stamps advertising the latter.

"We earnestly commend our President for his stand on law enforcement."

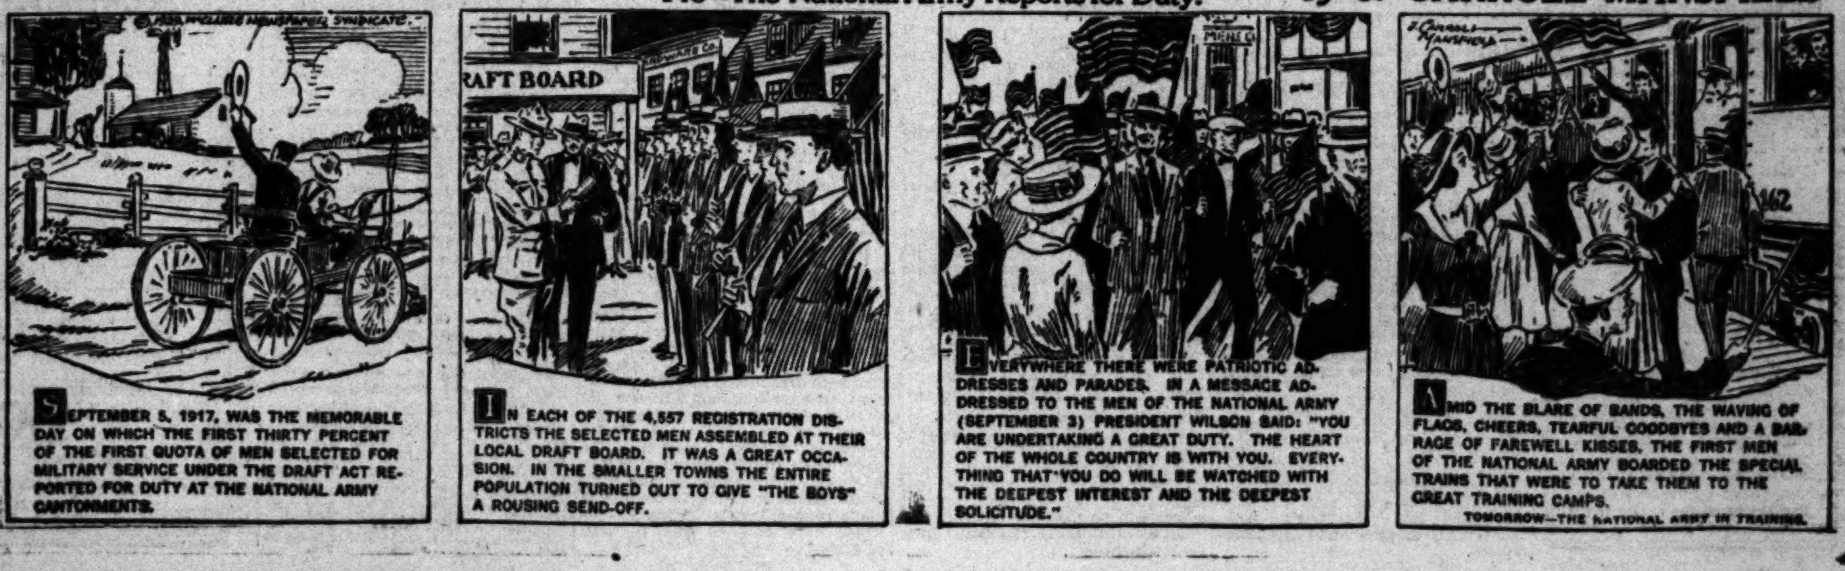
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1375

The Story of the World War
146—The National Army Reports for Duty.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



SEPTEMBER 5, 1917, WAS THE MEMORABLE DAY ON WHICH THE FIRST THIRTY PERCENT OF THE FIRST QUOTA OF MEN SELECTED FOR MILITARY SERVICE UNDER THE DRAFT ACT REPORTED FOR DUTY AT THE NATIONAL ARMY CANTONMENTS.

IN EACH OF THE 4,557 REGISTRATION DISTRICTS THE SELECTED MEN ASSEMBLED AT THEIR LOCAL DRAFT BOARD. IT WAS A GREAT OCCASION. IN THE SMALLER TOWNS THE ENTIRE POPULATION TURNED OUT TO GIVE "THE BOYS" A ROUSING SEND-OFF.

EVERYWHERE THERE WERE PATRIOTIC ADDRESSES AND PARADES. IN A MESSAGE ADDRESSED TO THE MEN OF THE NATIONAL ARMY (SEPTEMBER 3) PRESIDENT WILSON SAID: "YOU ARE UNDERTAKING A GREAT DUTY. THE HEART OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY IS WITH YOU. EVERYTHING THAT YOU DO WILL BE WATCHED WITH THE DEEPEST INTEREST AND THE DEEPEST SOLICITUDE."

AMID THE BLARE OF BANDS, THE WAVING OF FLAGS, CHEERS, TEARFUL GOODBYES AND A BARRAGE OF FAREWELL KISSES, THE FIRST MEN OF THE NATIONAL ARMY BOARDED THE SPECIAL TRAINS THAT WERE TO TAKE THEM TO THE GREAT TRAINING CAMPS.

TOMORROW—THE NATIONAL ARMY IN TRAINING.

UNDERWRITERS GAIN FORECAST

International Reinsurance Unit Shows Growth

Business in First Year Set at $2,700,000 Total

Earnings Report Expected to Reveal Substantial Net

International Reinsurance Corporation for the first twelve months ending the 30th inst. will show approximately $2,750,000 in gross business written, whereas it was expected that the premium income for the first year would not be more than $1,000,000, Carl M. Hansen, president of the corporation, stated yesterday.

He indicated that the statement of the corporation which will be issued after the 30th inst. also will show excellent earnings for the first twelve months.

The corporation is now doing a gross volume of business at the rate of $5,000,000 annually he said, and has attained a leading position both as to capital resources and premium volume among casualty and surety reinsurers both in the United States and abroad. The business is well distributed with approximately 25 per cent originating on the Pacific Coast and the other 72 per cent throughout the United States.

The increase in capital stock from 100,000 to 200,000 authorized shares of $10 par value with 50,000 additional shares issued through the offer of subscription rights on a one-for-two shares basis at a price of $4 per share has been effected, the stockholders taking the entire new issue. The corporation now has $1,500,000 capital; approximately $3,100,000 net surplus; $500,000 contingent reserve, and gross assets in excess of $6,500,000. Between $300,000 and $400,000 was added to surplus in the first five months of this year.

Mr. Hansen, who has just returned from a six weeks' tour of the country, expressed himself optimistically on conditions generally and particularly in regard to the outlook for the insurance business. Losses for the first six months among the clients of the International are somewhat below normal on the average and premium volume shows a healthy increase.

While in the East, Mr. Hansen arranged for the opening of the offices in New York City to care for the eastern territory, William R. Mearns, as resident vice-president, being placed in the charge. Mr. Mearns has had more than fifteen years' experience as a casualty and surety reinsurance executive.

He joined the Union Oil Company in 1912, when he resigned as manager of the Pacific Coast Railway to become manager of transportation for the Union. In 1914 he was made vice-president and two years later was given the post of general manager, later changed to executive vice-president.

BANK EXPANSION FIGHT DUE

Opponents of Consolidation and Centralization of Banking Resources Prepared to Make Final Stand

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Ominous rumblings in the financial world portend an approaching clash over the concentration of banking resources that will completely overshadow the bitter controversies of the past, and probably settle the fate of the independent banks. Charges of "money trust" and "monopolistic control" are beginning to come from those who view with alarm the rapid trend toward consolidation of American banks.

Many well-informed bankers believe that the opponents of centralized banking power will soon carry their fight into Congress and into the legislatures of virtually every State in the Union. R. S. Hecht, president of the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company of New Orleans, recently told a convention of Illinois bankers that the coming meeting of the American Bankers' Association in San Francisco would undoubtedly furnish the stage for another acrimonious debate over the modern trend in banking.

PROGRESS RAPID

At the same time the concentration of banking resources in the hands of a few going forward at an amazing pace. In New York, particularly, the combination of large banks is actively advancing and today there is hardly a New York bank of any size that has not figured in a recent consolidation. Yesterday the report of the Bank of America and the Chatham Phenix fusion was heard again, which follows on the heels of the Chase National-National Park consolidation.

In other parts of the country banks are either consolidating directly or banking groups in the larger cities are linking large numbers of outlying banks through holding companies. In many instances the sponsors of the chain movement are men who formerly opposed branch banking.

Citing figures from an investigation of banking in twenty-six American cities with a population of 300,000 or more, Mr. Hecht, in his address before the Illinois bankers, stated that more than 75 per cent of the total deposits in the respective communities are held by three to five banks.

Of the total deposits in the United States of about $60,000,000,000, Mr. Hecht said that 256 banks control over one-third of the nation's deposits. Put in another way, less than 1 per cent of the total number of banks now hold more than 33 1-3 per cent of all the deposits of the country.

PREDICTS HUGE BANKS

But this centralization of banking power is only the start, if another authority is right. Charles W. Collins, formerly first deputy Controller of the Currency, predicted last week before the New York State Bankers' Association that the City of New York would have within ten years banks of $1,000,000,000 capital and surplus and $10,000,000,000 in resources.

"We may look to the future of the merger movement with confidence and courage," he said. "These great banking institutions housed in temples of finance lifting skyward their pyramidal towers will be indeed symbolic of our economic strength."

What the proponents of centralized banking are working toward is amendment of the State and national laws to permit nation-wide branch banking. Interstate chain banking is iready in effect, both openly and secretly. Against both of these trends the independent bankers and their supporters are prepared to make their last and most determined stand, taking as their chief tenet the argument that centralization of banking resources menaces the financial safety of the nation.

Kemper Radio Outlook Told by Officials

Earnings of Kemper Radio Corporation will be at the annual rate of more than $2 a share on the 120,000 shares outstanding at the end of the current year, W. W. Charles, president of the company, estimated yesterday. These increased earnings are expected to result from the expansion program recently undertaken by the concern which has been financed entirely out of current income.

For the ten months ended April 30, last, net earnings after charges were $78,937.95, which after estimated charges including depreciation, obsolescence and Federal tax, are at the annual rate of 50 cents per share on 120,000 shares outstanding. These profits, however, are after charges for additions, betterments and after expenses incident to certain technical experiments which produced no income during the period and they do not reflect certain equities resulting from the amortization of time sales contracts, it was pointed out.

As of April 30, last, the corporation's current assets were $211,813, while current liabilities were $68,459 or a ratio of 3 1-4 to 1. Reserves in excess of $158,000 have been set up for amortization, Federal tax, depreciation and obsolescence and the company has no funded debt. Its stock was called for trading on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday.

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—Further July liquidation was absorbed by trade buying at slightly widening differences in the cotton market today. RESERVE BANK STATUS TRACED

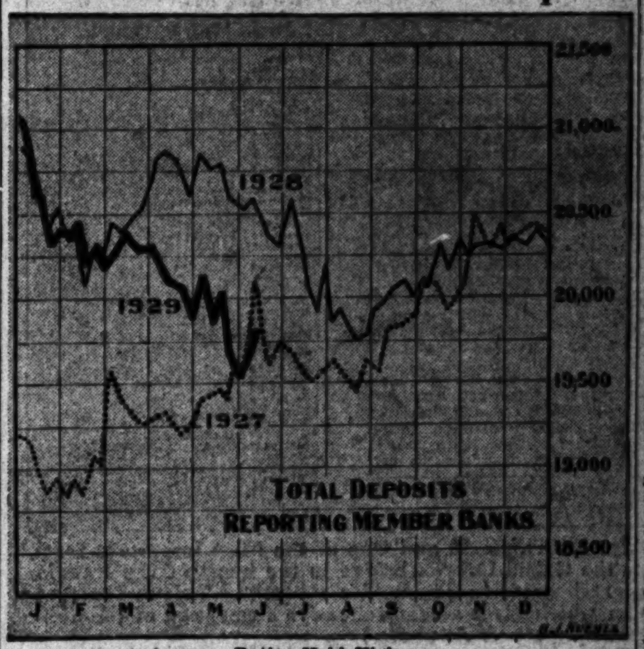
Deflation Reduces Member Deposits



Ratios Hold High

Deflation of member bank loans and investments this spring has been an important factor in the improved reserve position reflected in the persistent fall in member bank deposits. Net demand deposits now stand $573,000,000 below their level a year ago, and time deposits $219,000,000 lower.

While another pressure reducing the volume of member bank deposits likewise has been at work, through the reserve sales of governments and bills, member banks by this operation have been compelled to borrow at the regional institutions to maintain their reserves.

To the extent that the reduction in deposits has resulted from the sales of bills or governments, therefore, it cannot be described as evidence of deflation. This substantial decline in deposits has greatly lowered the reserve requirements of the member banks and helped to maintain high reserve ratios.

HOTEL MARYLAND
6½% First Mortgage Bonds
Legal for Savings Banks

EXTREME protection and liberal yield... an unusual combination... are found in the 6½% First (Closed) Mortgage Bonds of Maryland Properties, Inc., which owns and operates the Hotel Maryland, in Pasadena.

Land value alone is nearly double the face of the bonds. And it is land owned in fee, in the very heart of Pasadena, with Colorado Street frontage. Buildings bring the total security up to $2,000,000 on this $800,000 issue.

The bonds are certified as legal investment for savings banks in California. They are exempt from the California personal property tax.

The Maryland is nationally known, and has an established following. It is under the personal management of H. M. Nickerson. President of the company, to whom the prestige of the hotel is largely due. Investors may therefore feel entire confidence in its continued satisfactory earning power.

Merchant Marine Dividend Arrears Payment Ratified

NEW YORK, June 24. (Exclusive) Stockholders of International Mercantile Marine Company at a special meeting today ratified the recapitalization plan under which holders of $100 par preferred stock will receive $20 in cash in lieu of accumulated dividends of $80 per share in addition to one share of the new no par common stock for each share of preferred stock now held. Common stockholders will receive one-fifth of a share of new no par common stock for each share of $100 par common.

This will replace the present outstanding capitalization of $101,596,800 represented by 517,250 shares of $100 par preferred and 498,718 shares of $100 par common with 616,994 shares of new no par common, which will be carried on the balance sheet at $30,000,000.

P. A. S. Franklin, president, in answer to a stockholders' question concerning the trans-Atlantic situation said that the freight line was doing better than last year but was not making money. He added that earnings of the company, however, are improving and if they continue, he anticipated dividend resumption on the new stock in the near future. Retiring directors were re-elected.

THE CONSERVATIVE INVESTOR CAN NOW GET 7%

ARE you aware of the fact that bonds are now priced on the same advantageous basis which prevailed in 1914, before the war, and that the conservative investor can now get 7% —with dependability? It is true that bond prices showed a steady advance from 1920 to 1928, but since May of 1928, there has been a decline in the average price of 40 representative issues of approximately 8 points. So bonds may now be purchased on a highly attractive income basis.

On our current offering list, there are three outstanding examples of this favorable situation. The first is a quasi-municipal, public utility project with bonds secured by a 52% first mortgage on all properties. The second is a sound first mortgage issue backed by unusual security and high earning power. The third is secured by a direct first mortgage on all properties of a prosperous Los Angeles industrial company, appraised at over 3½ times the amount of the issue.

All of these securities present highly attractive investments. We shall be pleased to furnish complete information; use coupon below.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, June 24. (P)—Mills are displaying a little more interest in 64s and finer domestic wools. Inquiries are for medium grades, but spot supply is restricted and activity on both grades is confined largely to delivery of previous orders as rapidly as the wools arrive and can be graded. Supply of fine wools is fairly liberal on certain lines and indications point to development of a little better demand. The receipts of domestic wool at Boston during week ending the 22nd inst. amounted to 9,968,800 pounds as compared with 7,770,000 pounds for the previous week.

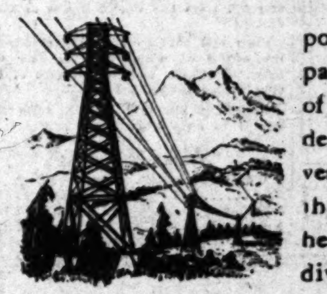
Electric Power & Light



PRODUCTION of electricity in the United States in 1928 amounted to approximately 88,000,000,000 k.w.h., an increase of 10% over 1927 and equal to the entire annual production of the rest of the world. Total customers are estimated at 23,000,000, while the gross annual revenues of power and light companies are set at $1,875,000,000. Yet many of the definite possibilities of this industry are comparatively undeveloped.

Furnishing necessities of modern life under careful state supervision, power and light companies constitute one of the most stable and dependable fields of investment. Securities of these companies are held by 1,500,000 individual investors as well as by banks, insurance companies, endowment funds, etc.

Outstanding among recent investment offerings in this field are the bonds of an important utility system serving a population of 2,700,000 in nine states. Net earnings are over 7.3 times interest charges on this issue which is now selling to yield 5.70%.

General Water Works and Electric Corporation

We regard this public utility system as having particularly bright prospects, and recommend as desirable an investment in the Corporation's securities.

THROUGH subsidiaries, 172 communities in ten states are served with electric light, power, water, gas and/or other essential products. The territory's population is estimated at 400,000.

The Corporation's broad powers allow it to acquire and develop additional utility properties. Centralized management and other economies can be fairly expected to reflect greatly increased profits both in the properties now operated and in the system as it may be later expanded.

The Class A Common Stock offers a favorable opportunity to participate in future profits. This stock is priced at $26.75 per share flat, is listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange, is entitled annually to $2 per share cumulative dividends before dividends are paid on the Class B Common, and is redeemable at $45 per share. Subject to change, dividends may be applied to the purchase of additional Class A Stock of $24 per share.

Profit Taking Halts Rally in Wheat Futures

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—After a new upward jump of 3c a bushel today, wheat values met with extremely heavy profit-taking sales and fell back about 2c. Today's advance, coming on the heels of a series of other sharp gains and carrying the market up to around 21½c higher than at the beginning of June, was accompanied by such an array of widespread ill-starred crop conditions as seldom before has been heard of.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ⅛@1⅛c above Saturday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to ⅝c down, oats ⅛@¼c off to ⅛c up and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 10c.

Cloudbursts over miles upon miles of the winter wheat harvest region of the Southwest were reported today to be intensifying the evil effects of previous excessive moisture at critical times. From this cause and other reasons the area of winter crop deterioration was pictured as extending in a broad belt from Texas northward across Oklahoma and Kansas into Nebraska, covering about a third respectively of the two mid-most States, and unfavorable reports also were received from adjoining commonwealths west and east. On the other hand, the spring wheat belt both north and south of the Canadian line was sending increasing complaints of urgent need of moisture, with word that parts of the wheat lands of Canada were suffering from frost.

Sustained general buying on a big scale, and at times of an excited character, kept the wheat market moving strongly upward most of the day until near the final hour, special attention meanwhile being given to outstanding features, as for example, a Calgary dispatch saying that unless rains came soon, a large area of Alberta Province, Canada, would not produce more than half a crop. Another particular instance was relative to messages from a thoroughly accredited Chicago expert estimating on personal observation that between Newton, Kan., and El Reno, Okla., wheat had deteriorated fully one-third from what it has been promising.

Houses with eastern connections did the selling which brought about the late setback in wheat prices, but which left the market still substantially above Saturday's closing level. Among the reasons ascribed for immediate taking of profits was that domestic receipts of wheat in the Southwest are surprisingly large for this time of year. There also were cable advices from Europe that despite uneasiness over the North American crop outlook, purchases abroad for import, 1,000,000 bushels today, were from Argentina and not from the United States or Canada.

Corn and oats were swayed chiefly by the action of wheat. Notice also was taken of 403,000 bushels' increase of the corn visible supply today.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive mainly to an upward trend in the value of hogs.

Management—A Vital, Though

INTANGIBLE QUALITY

SINCE the character and ability of a corporation's management largely determine the future trend of corporate profits, United Power Gas & Water Corporation Cumulative Preferred Stock appeals particularly to far-sighted investors, for it is backed by the same efficient management which has placed its two subsidiaries, Federal Water Service Corporation and Peoples Light & Power Corporation, among the notable utility successes of recent years.

This great $200,000,000 utility system supplies power, gas and water to 2,850,000 people in 23 States from coast to coast. Gross annual earnings amount to $22,000,000 and net earnings are over 2.85 times present annual dividend requirements. And yet the Corporation has just started to grow and a highly attractive common stock purchase privilege offers an opportunity to share in future profits. We suggest:

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Edison Features Utility Trading While Rest of Market Manifests Stability

While eastern security markets labored under advancing call money rates yesterday's prices on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange displayed a marked firmness and although operations were somewhat restricted there was plenty of evidence to show that support was readily forthcoming should any signs of liquidation appear. Utilities were again the chief attraction.

A brisk buying movement was resumed at the opening in Southern California Edison common and original preferred with the strength holding through to the close of the market without interruption. The common touched a high for the day at 63 7-8 and finished at 1-8, up 5-8 of a point over the week-end and the original preferred scored an advance of 1 3-4 points to 63 3-4, having opened the day at 62 1-2. Pacific Gas and Electric was up 1-2 at 65 3-4.

Trading on the petroleum board was decidedly light. Rio Grande, usually the leader of this division in activity, recorded a transfer of only 800 shares under which it firmed up 3-8 to 29 7-8. Union of California and Union Associates came in for a stronger play but softened 5-8 and 3-4, respectively to 48 3-4 and 48 1-4. Richfield yielded 3-4 to 42 1-8, while Standard of California held steady at 73 1-4.

Globe Grain dropped 1 1-2 points to 28 1-2 and Byron Jackson 3-4 to 36 3-4. The balance of the market held firm for the most part.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Displaying a marked uneasiness over the tightening credit situation expected at this time of the year, prices on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday turned softer. However, no severe liquidation was encountered and, with one or two exceptions, the recessions were fractional.

Mexican Seaboard continued to hold the center of speculative interest and after a strong opening fell back to 45 5-8, off 1 5-8 points over the week-end. Bandini improved along with Exeter Oil, while Midway Northern slumped 6 cents to 35.

Kemper Radio, a new member on the industrial list, made its first appearance yesterday and traded actively between 2.50 and 2.65, closing at the latter price. Electrical Products rights broke 25 cents to 50. The stock fell off a point to 22 3-4.

Sales totaled 130,794 shares, valued at $227,067.

Bonus Awarded Staats Staff

Employees of the William R. Staats Company of Los Angeles and Pasadena who have been with the company six months or more yesterday received a midyear bonus amounting to one-half of one month's salary. Approximately seventy-five employees participated in the bonus, which was distributed by John Earle Jardine, president.

Mr. Jardine announced that the growth in business and volume of sales has been satisfactory thus far in 1929. It is the policy of the organization, he said, to distribute a portion of the profits to the employees in the form of a bonus.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—The bond market displayed the best activity in several weeks today, but prices moved irregularly lower in the face of higher credit conditions.

Although convertibles accounted for their usual large proportion of the day's total business, railroad and oil company obligations, as well as a few utilities, enjoyed a broader market. Up to noon trading in three or four of the popular stock option issues absorbed virtually three-fourths of the volume as American Telephone 4½s, International Telephone 4½s and Atchison 4½s changed hands in large blocks, but after midday other sections of the list drew considerable attention.

The International Telephone bonds and the Missouri Pacific convertible 5½s reached new high ground, closing at 134½ and 111, respectively. The former sold as high as 135¼ and the latter at 112 in the early afternoon. The American Telephone issue showed a net advance of ⅛ on its closing price of 132 after a turnover of nearly $2,746,000, par value.

Selling of stocks after the sharp advance in the call money rate caused a net decline of ½ in the Atchisons, while Baltimore and Ohio convertible 4½s sold off by a smaller fraction.

Rails were mixed. Atchison general 4s, one of the old time standbys, receded ½ to 90½, where it was within ½ point of the year's low. Losses appeared on fair-sized trading in Chicago and Northwestern 6½s and 4½s, Pennsylvania gold 4½s, Rio Grande, Rio Grande Western 4s, St. Louis and San Francisco 4½s and Big Four general 4s.

Seaboard Airline 5s moved up more than a point in the speculative rail group, which found Ulster and Delaware 5s advancing 4½. Other rails to improve were Boston and Maine 5s, Rock Island 4½s, Northern Pacific 6s and Erie 5s.

Considerable activity appeared among the oils, but price changes were only nominal. Shell Union 5s, Sinclair Crude 5½s and Skelly 5½s receded slightly, while Standard of New Jersey 5s, Sinclair Consolidated 7s and Sinclair Pipe Line held to the previous close on fair trading. Humble Oil 5s were slightly firmer.

Irregularity in the utilities resulted in losses in American Telephone 5s, Duquesne Light 4½s, New York Telephone 6s, Utilities Power and Light 5½s and Tennessee Electric Power 6s. Montana Power 5s and Utah Power and Light 5s were strong.

A rise of 2¼ in Pierce-Arrow 8s to the new 1929 high of 109 was a feature of the industrial section.

United States government securities ruled a trifle higher on small transactions. Foreign bonds maintained their recent firmness, with French Republic 7s. The Mexicans and most of the Brazilian issues advanced fractionally.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

RATE ADVANCE HALTS UPTURN

to have been arranged as high as 12 per cent, indicating that a further rise in the official rate was likely this week. Time money rates also were somewhat firmer.

NEWS FAVORABLE

Except for the higher call money rates and reports of another substantial increase in California crude oil production last week, most of the day's news developments were favorable. Wheat rallied about 3 cents a bushel, but lost about half its gain; Youngstown steel plants were reported to be operating at practically capacity, a better demand was noted for copper, refined sugar prices were advanced and stockholders of the International Mercantile Marine Company approved the recapitalization plan.

Some of the high-priced industrials and rails were again whirled upward in rather spectacular fashion. Auburn Auto, which sold as low as 221 this year, soared 17 1-4 points to a new high record at 324 1-4, and closed at the top. New York and Harlem jumped 16 points to 327 on odd-lot sales. Allis Chalmers ran up more than 7 points to a new high at 252 and retained all but a point of its gain. Adams Express soared 35 points to 625.

Curiously, General Motors and Radio Corporation common, which had been the subjects of bear attacks on the theory that they would be among the first to sell down in a money pinch, made their best prices of the day after the maximum call money rate was posted, closing with net gains of 1 3-4 and 2 5-8 points, respectively. American Can also was heavily bought in the late trading, closing 2 1-2 points higher at 148 3-4, or less than 2 1-2 points below the year's high.

COPPERS WEAKER

Copper shares, with the exception of American Smelting, were under pressure on the theory that distribution was taking place in those issues. Anaconda opened with a block of 10,000 shares at 118 1-4, sold down to 114 3-4, and closed at 115 1-4, off 2 1-4 net.

Mexican Seaboard opened nearly 3 points higher on the announcement that its new Kennedy well showed such a tremendous volume of gas at 6410 feet that extreme measures were necessary to control the flow. Other oils were sluggish, Skelly selling down 2 points.

Rails, in which a big summer market has been predicted, started upward at the start, but the buying movement died down when money rates went up. Atchison, New Haven, Norfolk and Western, Union Pacific and Pennsylvania all attained new high prices for the year, the last-named selling at the best price in about twenty years.

Baldwin Locomotive, which is reported to be considering a 4-for-1 stock split-up and the declaration of a stock dividend this week sold down 9 points on a few transactions. The Fisher and Cutten interests, which control Baldwin, are reported to still have in mind a merger of Baldwin, Westinghouse Electric and other companies.

Foreign exchanges drifted within a rather narrow range, slower cables holding steady around $4.84 13-16, making further gold imports likely.

The rise in wheat was attributed to reports of frost in Canada and a decrease in the domestic visible supply. Corn eased slightly on forecasts of better crop weather. Cotton closed unchanged at 50 cents a bale higher.

UTILITY INITIAL VOTED

NEW YORK, June 24. (Exclusive) Directors of the Commonwealth Southern Corporation declared today an initial quarterly dividend of 1-80th of a common share on the common stock, payable September 1 to stockholders of record August 1.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—Marking up of call money rates from 7 to 8, 9 and 10 per cent today checked a strong advance on the curb market. The closing was irregular, with prices generally above Saturday's final quotations, but considerably down from the day's high levels.

Shortage of funds in the loan market was laid partly to window-dressing by banks preparatory to the mid-year statements. Tight money is anticipated for the remainder of the month.

Wide gains and several new high price records were established before the selling broke out in the afternoon. The advance was stimulated by approval of recapitalization plans, favorable earnings reports, dividend declarations and further rumors of impending mergers with the oils, air stocks and public utilities sharing the leadership.

Middle West Utilities pressed forward to a new high at 206 and closed at 203⅞, for a net gain of 4⅞. The preferred stock tallied a like gain. A recapitalization plan involving retirement of all preferred stock was reported under consideration by this Insull property. The company is expected to share on Morgan & Co.'s power plans. Announcement of valuable stock purchase rights and stockholders' approval of a two and one-half for one split up sent Lone Star Gas new and old shares to record levels, but the gains were reduced to small fractions in the late selling. The company produces oil, as well as gas.

New highs were established by United Gas Improvement and Central States Electric issues before selling was encountered. Arizona Power again scaled a new peak. The Upper New York State utilities recovered part of their losses of last week. Niagara Hudson Power was steady all day, while Commonwealth and Southern closed fractionally higher on announcement of initial stock dividend at an annual rate of 5 per cent. Weak spots were Electric Bond and Share, Electric Investors and Southeastern Power and Light.

Cosden Oil soared to 72, a new peak, and closed at 68, for a net gain of 5 points. This stock has had a sharp rise in the past year. Joshua Cosden, former head of Midcontinent Oil Company, is managing director of Cosden Oil. Gulf was strong. Improvement in this group was in face of increased production.

Aviation Corporation of the Americas, which recently extended its South American ir lines, Aviation Credit, which reports earnings of $90,000 in its first two months of operation, and E. W. Bliss Company led the advance in the air stocks. Bliss, maker of munitions, has entered the aircraft field with license for British Bristol Motor. It closed at 51⅞ for a net tally of 4⅞.

Marconi Marine Communications opened with a block of 13,000 shares at 24⅝ and advanced a fraction higher on a heavy turnover on reports of progress in impending merger developments.

Rayon price cuts were reflected in declines in Association Rayon preferred, British Celanese and Celanese preferred.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

"People Who Invest Cautiously"

No. 2
in a series of messages to investors from the President of S. W. Straus & Co.

"AT this time, when evidences of prosperity are so abundant, and you hear so much talk that everybody is dealing in the stock market, it is important to remember that the great majority of conservative people are still just as cautious and just as insistent on safety of principal as ever.

"These people, men and women of moderate as well as of large means, constitute the class of investors who have been Straus customers ever since the beginning. Many of them invest large sums frequently. But a great many of them invest moderate sums, and we are proud that we have made a successful appeal to so many thousands of thrifty men and women.

"The constant increase in our business has been built on this appeal to thrifty, provident people who want the best yield, the best income consistent with safety of their principal. I feel that it is highly significant that we have a great many men and women clients who have invested all their funds, exclusively, with S. W. Straus & Co. for a quarter of a century."

Nicholas Roberts
President, S. W. Straus & Co.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Around 1600 head were offered yesterday, 611 of which were held over from last week. Quality of the run as a whole was mediocre, plain half-fat steers and cows still predominating. Demand for this kind continued narrow and the resultant trade was slow at steady to weak prices, some sales looking 15@25c lower on the late rounds. The better grades, in light supply, met fair inquiry at firm prices. About half of yesterday's supply was still unsold at a late hour.

Three cars of 1190-pound Santa Rosa Island steers topped at 11.50, while four cars of 985-pound islanders made 11.35. Other medium steers went over from 10.75@11.25, while common steers were rather numerous from 9.25@10.50, mostly 10.00@10.50 on the general run of common steers and under 10.00 on Mexicans.

Odd lots of good heifers cashed from 10.00@10.50, while most heifers went over from 8.50@9.50. Odd lots of good cows cleared from 9.00@9.25, while the majority of cows, common and medium kind, turned from 7.25@8.65, mostly 8.00@8.50. Very common kind sold around 7.00. Cutters and low cutters cleared from 5.50@6.50. Most bulls sold from 7.50@8.25, with common kind fairly numerous around 7.00.

CALVES—Active demand cleaned up the moderate supply readily at generally steady prices. Four loads of 188 to 245-pound vealers turned from 12.75@14.10, while small lots of choice vealers went over for 14.50. Plain calves and vealers turned from 11.00@12.50, with very thin kind down to 8.00.

HOGS—Fourteen loads were offered, two of which were held over from Saturday. Demand was narrow and yesterday's trade was slow, with six loads still unsold at a late hour. Prices were uneven, mostly steady to 15c higher than Friday. A car of good 172-pound New Mexicos topped at 12.00. Next best price was 11.75, with seven loads of butchers selling from 11.45@11.75, including a car of 233-pound Texas offerings at 11.60. Packing sows turned mostly from 9.00@9.25.

SHEEP—Active demand developed and an early clearance was made at fully steady prices on all classes. Two decks of good 76-pound Central California lambs cashed for 13.75, with 10 per cent at 11.50. Two and a half decks of good 64-pound island lambs turned for 13.50, with 15 per cent at 11.00, while other island lambs, cull and common light weights, turned from 9.00@12.50. A deck of shorn 88-pound island ewes made 6.25, while a part deck of 107-pound full wooled ewes turned for 7.50. Several lots of cull and common island ewes went over from 2.00@3.50. Saturday a deck of good and choice 78-pound Central California lambs scored 14.25, with three decks of good and choice 77-pound weights at 13.75.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, June 24. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Surprisingly slight decline is noted in buying of steel from warehouse stocks in the Chicago district. Finished steel buyers becoming impatient over deferred mill deliveries are ordering as much as four or five carloads of steel from warehouses in one order. It is estimated June business this year will be 5 to 10 per cent ahead of June a year ago.

Southern No. 2 foundry pig iron is now selling at $15 Birmingham, which represents a reduction of 50 cents a ton. This cut in price is in line with expectations, since southern iron has been moving slowly for months and stocks have been piling up on furnace yards at St. Louis.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—The raw sugar market was firmer today with a better demand from refiners. Prices were 1/16c higher with sales of about 98,000 bags of Cuban and 109,000 bags of Porto Rican for June and July shipment at 3.58, duty paid. There was also a sale of 15,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment to an operator at equal to about 3.56½, duty paid.

In refined all refiners announced that they would advance prices 15 points at the opening tomorrow to the basis of $5 for fine granulated, and this led to an increased demand. Withdrawals on old contracts were also of fair proportions, and second-hand offerings at around 4.82½ were less in evidence.

Futures closed steady. Approximated sales, 104,000 tons. July, 178; September, 188; December, 196; January, 198; March, 204; May, 212.

BY PORTER FLINT

When the cement plug in the Milham Exploration Company's Kennedy No. 1 well, on Section 28, 21-17, at Kettleman Hills, was drilled out yesterday, a strong flow of gas nearly according to field reports, and large quantities of hematite were pumped down the hole to check it.

Indications are that this project will be completed shortly, it is said. The well has been drilling in oil sand for some time and from time to time, baroid and hematite have been forced down the hole to control the gas which has caused considerable concern to operators.

In anticipation of early completion of Milham's Kennedy No. 1, drilling ahead at 6419 feet, the Elliott No. 2, down 6330 feet, and the Beal No. 1, sidetracking at about 5670 feet, additions may be made shortly to the absorption plant now treating 77,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, which is flowing from the Elliott No. 1 discovery well, along with about 3500 barrels of oil per day.

The plant, which was recently enlarged, yesterday put out 46,788 gallons of gasoline, and will continue at that rate it is said.

New Locations

The Mid-State Development Company, which is said to own the south-half of Section 16, 21-17, near the Kennedy No. 1 well of the Milham Exploration Company at Kettleman Hills, has just made location for a project nearby on its holdings.

At Maricopa Flat, the Midway Northern Oil Company has made location for its No. 1 well, to be situated on the northwest quarter of Section 7, 11-23, and that operations will start shortly.

The Ohio Oil Company has made location for its Pyramid No. 1 wildcat, to be situated on the northwest quarter of Section 20, 32-25, in the Buena Vista Lake area in Kern county.

The K. C. L. Oil Company, according to reports, will drill No. 1 wildcat, situated on the southeast quarter of Section 7, 19-15, about thirteen miles due north of Coalinga, in Fresno county.

Good Completions

The General Petroleum Corporation brought in its Santa Fe No. 218, at Santa Fe Springs, yesterday for an initial output of 7000 barrels of 34.5 deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 6940 feet. This project was drilled to about 7046 feet, but was plugged back for production.

General's Santa Fe No. 145-B, was placed on production and is yielding approximately 5000 barrels of oil per day from a depth of 6853 feet. This project started coming in so rapidly that 3000 feet of three-inch drill pipe had to be abandoned in the hole, and it came in barefooted. It was intended to resume drilling after the cement was drilled out, and to carry it down at least 200 feet farther. It is putting out about 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

The Jalk No. 114 well, with bottom of the hole at 7748 feet, is flowing approximately 400 barrels of oil per day. Cement was drilled out at bottom of seven-inch casing at 7520 feet, and it tested wet. It was cleaned to 7748 feet, was swabbed and compressors installed to increase the flow.

General's Santa Fe No. 222, with bottom of the hole at 5850 feet in the Buckbee sand, is nearing completion, according to reports.

The Texas Company's Mattern Three No 11, at Santa Fe Springs, was completed yesterday, and is yielding about 4312 barrels of 38.5-deg. gravity oil per day from the O'Connell sand, along with approximately 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The recompleted Mutual No. 2 well, is flowing 425 barrels of oil per day. This project was brought in by Texaco from the O'Connell sand. The Batson No. 5, will drill out today, and indications are that it will be placed on production today or tomorrow.

Improvement Noted

Improvement is noted in the situation in the Palisades tract, three miles west of Santa Barbara, where field reports indicate that operations on many projects there may be resumed sooner than at first anticipated due to early repairs made to a water main which supplies water to that district.

For the past four days, drilling activities have been practically at a standstill, with the exception of one or two, which have been able to continue. The Exeter Oil Company's electrically equipped Edwards No. 1 well, which is situated about 800 feet due north of the Ring Oil Company's Nugent No. 1, and about 200 feet southeast of the Olympic Oil and Refining Company's Lomas No. 1 discovery well, is coring ahead below 2116 feet. Showings of oil have been picked up, and gas is in evidence in the hole, it is said.

Dunlap & Knapp's Hamilton & Linke No. 1 well, is drilling ahead below 2100 feet. It picked up a cap rock believed to be the same which was encountered in the Lomas No. 1, situated about 100 feet in a northwesterly direction.

The Ring Oil Company's Nugent No. 1, remains inactive, pending agreement among half a dozen operations, who are said to have combined to drill this project jointly, in an endeavor to pick up a deeper formation.

Construction Starts

The Union Oil Company has started work on a sixteen-mile-pipe line to be laid from the Kern county pump station to Poso Creek. Preliminary work is under way, and actual placing of the line is expected to start by July 1.

The line will cost aproximately $150,000, it is said, and will be used to transport oil from the Mack-Sarrett lease, in Kern county, to the main pump line at Kern River Front.

Three-Day Session

Drilling and production engineers from all parts of the United States will hold their first meeting tomorrow at the Biltmore. New discoveries made within the past year in oil-well drilling and production methods will be discussed.

Southern California oil fields will be inspected by airplane and automobile on the closing day of the session.

Still Blowing

The Western Gulf Oil Company's Hollister No. 1 wildcat, situated opposite Anita Station, in Santa Barbara county, is still out of control, according to field reports, and is blowing approximately 25,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

After blowing for a day, salt water began flowing, and an endeavor will be made to cement it off shortly. Bottom of the hole is below 3100 feet.

No Showings

The Texas Holding Company's Tex-Cal No. 5 well, at Huntington Beach, is drilling ahead at 2600 feet in sandy shale. No favorable showings have been picked up, it is said.

Resumes

The Burlingham Oil Company's Burlingham No. 1 wildcat, near Compton, which was tied up in a fishing job when the bailer was lost with bottom of the hole at 2175 feet, has been cleaned out, and drilling operations have resumed. This project is situated on Section 17, 3-13.

Investment Counselors for over a Quarter Century

What Are You Doing to Assure Investment Success?

Since the setback in security prices only a few weeks ago, we have had a market where almost daily a number of stocks registered new high prices for the year. Simultaneously a number of others established new lows. This has proved two things.

1—To the investor working in cooperation with such an organization as Brookmire it has shown the outstanding value of sound investment counsel, especially in a selective market where there is no definite trend.

2—To the investor using his funds to buy securities on a basis more or less of random advices, it has shown the growing difficulty of achieving success.

We have said before and we now say again—

"Never in our 25 year history has there been a time when skilled investment counsel can be of more value."

Brookmire's sole business is investment counsel.

Brookmire clients have at their disposal the facilities of the largest organization of its character in the United States.

They secure advice from a staff which is supervising the investment of more than $1,000,000,000.

They know every recommendation made to them is unbiased, for Brookmire does not buy or sell securities.

To learn what Brookmire Service is and how you can use it, simply mail the coupon. It is too important a subject to neglect.

This stigma of stinginess!

FOURTH IN LOS ANGELES . . among building-loan associations . . . the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . has $13,000,000 resources . . with $3,000,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve.

We have 10th floor offices in the I. N. Van Nuys building, without shame or humility, because this institution has grown to State records through 36½ years by means of small-town economies and caution. There are many conveniences and advantages in the ground floor leases of other building-loan associations in the City of Los Angeles. They can afford those advantages. So could the MUTUAL OF POMONA. Our statement of earnings will prove that conservatively. Why don't we move downstairs?

SMALL-TOWN TRADITIONS OF ECONOMY . . old-fashioned carefulness . . with officers and directors who have grown with the MUTUAL OF POMONA . . have no desire for expensive offices.

Only when efficiency and greater return per dollar of office rent can be proved to our doubting satisfaction, will the MUTUAL OF POMONA move downstairs. Why, we have no greed for growth, anyway. We would rather keep our record of one-loan-loss in 36½ years than double in size. That assures an extra measure of safety with your 6%, or so we think.

DISABLED VETERANS ASSEMBLE

National Commander Hits Bureau's Administration in Report to Convention

DETROIT, June 24. (AP)—Recommendations for a more adequate national defense, civil military training camps, restricted immigration, a universal conscription law and increased allowances for National Guard units were indorsed today by 6000 delegates to the ninth annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, at the opening business session of the convention.

The report of the organization's executive committee, adopted without debate, also suggested that the Veterans' Bureau regional offices establish employment agencies for disabled men and that there be a merger of all Federal offices for the relief of veterans.

It also was recommended that the Veterans' Bureau establish a system of home treatment for tubercular cases with a maintenance allowance for each patient.

Charges were made that the Veterans' Bureau functions only when demands are made on it through a routine of "red tape."

"It is most regrettable," said National Commander Millard W. Rice in his annual report, "that the administration of the Veterans' Bureau has been, and still is, such that he gets who demands, and that on the other hand, he who asks nothing gets nothing and those who are uninformed and inexperienced have to be penalized."

Nephew Reputed Cochran's Heir

YONKERS (N. Y.) June 24. (Exclusive)—While no official confirmation could be obtained from relatives, it was reported today that Thomas Ewing, Jr., who is a nephew of the late Alexander Smith Cochran, carpet manufacturer-philanthropist and one-time husband of Ganna Walska, is to be the principal beneficiary under his uncle's will. Mr. Cochran died last Thursday. His estate is variously estimated to be worth between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000.

The young Mr. Ewing is about 26 years of age.

FITTS ACTS IN PANTAGES CRASH CASE

Wife of Theater Man Charged With Second-Degree Murder

Mrs. Lois Pantages, wife of Alexander Pantages, theater chain owner, yesterday was charged with second-degree murder in a complaint issued at the instance of Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

The complaint resulted from the death last week of Joe Rokomoto, Japanese gardener, following a collision between his automobile and one driven by Mrs. Pantages.

"I have gone into the matter of Mrs. Pantages since my return this morning from the district attorneys' convention and I [illegible] convinced that the facts ju[illegible] prosecution on the charge [illegible] murder in the second degree," said Fitts in a statement to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jones.

"You therefore are instructed to file a murder charge against Mrs. Pantages and put every resource of this office behind the prosecution," concluded the District Attorney.

Due to the fact that a preliminary hearing probably will not be possible for some time because of the injuries sustained in the crash by Mrs. Pantages, Fitts announced his intention of interviewing all witnesses.

The accident occurred on the 16th inst., at Sunset Boulevard and Serrano street. Everyone in Rokomoto's automobile at the time, including his wife, a woman friend and four children, was injured.

Following the crash Mrs. Pantages was charged by the police with driving while intoxicated, under Section 112 of the State motor vehicle law.

CRYER NOMINEES REJECTED

Council Refuses to Confirm Moreland and Socha for District Water Board

Council yesterday refused to confirm as members of the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California the names of Max E. Socha, banker, and Watt Moreland, truck manufacturer, sent in by Mayor Cryer. The vote was eight to seven against confirmation.

Councilman Jacobson protested against the confirmations, which were proposed by the Water and Power Committee, Councilman Hall, chairman, on the grounds that to do so will "tie the hands" of the incoming Mayor, John C. Porter. Councilman Davis contended that there is no necessity in hurrying through the selections which, apparently, are for life.

The city is entitled to ten directors on the board of the water district. The city is restricted to 50 per cent of the voting power of the board, although more than 80 per cent of the funds will come from Los Angeles.

Whether one or ten directors sit on the board, Los Angeles has the same voting strength, but Mayor Cryer, last December, sent in the names of ten appointees, declaring that Los Angeles should have as many men as possible at the board's meetings to protect the city's interests. The Council then confirmed but three of them, Commissioners Richards, Whitsett and Haynes of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners.

The vote for Socha and Moreland was as follows: Alber, Colden, Hall, Hughes, Ingram, Sanborn, President Bonelli. Against confirmation: Davis, Jacobson, Lewis, McAllister, Martin, Randall, Webster, Foster.

BRIGHTER HOPES SEEN FOR INDIAN

Defense Association Holds Tea-Room Gathering

Director of Survey Group Outlines Program

Hoover and Wilbur Lauded for Fair-Play Stand

Indications that the American Indian is at last to have a chance in the scheme of things in this, his native country, were subjects of discussion at a meeting of members of the American Indian Defense Association and their friends, given at the Windsor Tea Room last night.

Some of the things that it is hoped to accomplish for the Indian were touched upon by Dr. Lewis Meriam, director of the Indian Survey Group of the Institute of Government Research. It was the investigation and report filed by Dr. Meriam that led to the promised reform of the United States Indian Bureau, which had its beginning in the separation of some of the high officials in that organization.

PROBLEM COMPLEX

Dr. Meriam emphasized the fact that the Indian problem is a very complex one and that there is no single formula to be introduced for the eradication of all the evils that beset the Indian. There are some 200 tribes scattered over twenty-six States. Their problems differ and require different treatments, one from the other. As to formulating fundamental principles of reform, he said about the best probably would be a program looking toward the merging of the Indian with the white population, where possible, or the fitting in of the Indian to live in this population in health and decency.

The great encouraging factor in the program for the Indian, he pointed out, is the desire and willingness of President Hoover and Secretary of Interior Wilbur to give the Indian a square deal. The new Commissioner of Indian Affairs and his chief assistant are the type of men, also, to bring about the desired reforms in administration of their offices, he said.

STIRRING ADDRESS

John Collier, executive secretary of the association, and one of the outstanding champions of the cause of the Indian in the past decade, gave a stirring address on the present and the future of the Indian. He warned those present that with the promised reforms accomplished the battle in behalf of the Indian is not done. Give him physical relief, give him the best in social welfare work, save him from the pillaging to which he has been subjected, and still reform will have fallen short of the fundamentals if the Indian is not given the right of citizenship and he is established within the guarantees of the Constitution, Collier said.

The new Indian officials and the higher administration officials are going to be subjected to tremendous pressure from high sources to prevent the inauguration of the much-needed Indian reforms, according to Collier.

Paul Kellogg, editor of the Survey, discussed some of the broader aspects of the Indian problem and their relation to the international policies of the United States, both as affecting Europe and Mexico. He paid tribute to the excellent work done by Collier and Dr. Meriam. Collier had paused for a personal word of praise for California people who had worked tirelessly for the Indian, such as Mrs. Stella Atwood of Riverside, Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, Kate Vosberg, Mrs. Mable Childberg, Walter Wilke, the late Charles Lummis and others.

FILMS TO BE DISCUSSED

Talking pictures, color photography, stereoscopic pictures and the aims and ambitions of film scientists will form the subject matter of an address to be delivered at a luncheon of the University Club tomorrow by Frank E. Woods, executive secretary of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

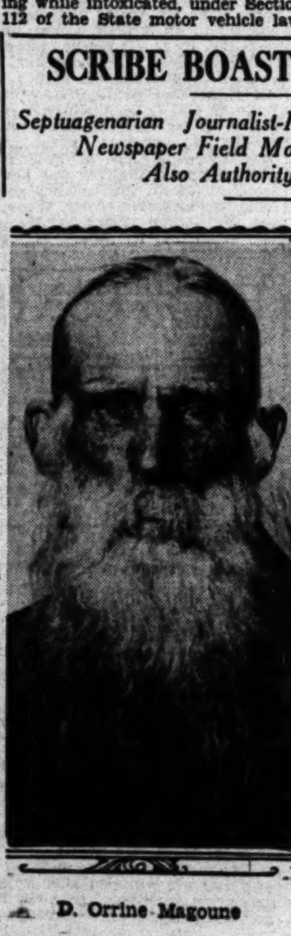
Septuagenarian Journalist-Printer Visiting This City in Newspaper Field More Than Half-Century and Also Authority on Song-Writing



D. Orrine Magoune

D. Orrine Magoune, who is enjoying his seventy-fifth summer, came to Los Angeles yesterday. Quite naturally he visited the newspaper offices. He is a literary gentleman and wears a Trader Horn beard. For more than a half-century he has worked at every job in a newspaper plant from printer's devil to editor, and his store of experiences has developed an answer to most of the problems now facing the newspaper profession.

The venerable and versatile journalist-printer counts musical composition among his accomplishments and proudly displays copies of several songs which, he says, have been popular hits and each of which has his name displayed in bold letters on the covers, stating the words and music are children of his brain.

Since 1866, when he worked as a printer's devil on a paper in Davenport, Iowa, he has been connected with newspaper work. His first editorial work was on the Western Weekly of Davenport, a prohibition publication.

IN FORTY STATES

From this beginning began travels which have led him into forty States and into the newspaper offices in most of the towns and cities included in this rather large territory.

Magoune's idea of a good news-

BEAUTY RETURNING TO SAN SALVADOR

Helen Araujo

Some months ago a young woman named Helen Araujo arrived in California from her native nation of El Salvador. Advance notices reported her as "one of the most beautiful girls in Salvadorean society."

When the Panama Mail liner Ecuador departed yesterday for Central American ports, Senorita Araujo was a passenger. In the intervening months the young woman has been attending an exclusive finishing school in the San Francisco Bay region and at the conclusion of the school term last week she was given the highest award ever granted by the school for successful scholarship.

QUIZ BEGINS IN MISTAKEN CREMATIONS

District Attorney Starts Investigation of Charges Against General Hospital

Investigation of details surrounding the asserted "mistake" cremations of charity patients at the General Hospital was begun yesterday by detectives of the District Attorney's office. The investigation was ordered by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon, in charge of grand jury matters, and evidence is expected to be presented to the inquisitorial body next Friday.

Action by the office of the District Attorney followed the complaint last week of Mrs. Ruth Iffland that the body of her grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Ashenfelter, had been cremated "by mistake," although preparations were being made by relatives to ship her body east.

The Iffland complaint marks the third of a similar nature made in the last thirteen months, according to records of the District Attorney's office.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN AGAINST REPETITIONS

Supervisor Shaw yesterday took steps to correct conditions at the County Hospital which last week resulted in premature cremation of the body of a patient who had died at the hospital.

A report from Dr. N. N. Wood, superintendent of the hospital, indicated the mistake had been made through the misunderstanding of a telephone message. Supervisor Shaw suggested that no more bodies be cremated without written orders from the superintendent, and Dr. Wood replied that he already had put into force that rule.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD APPOINTMENTS MADE

Dr. J. N. Lacy of Huntington Park and Mrs. Jennie Tucker Baker of El Monte yesterday were appointed by the Board of Supervisors to serve on the County Board of Education. The appointments are for one year. There are three other members of the board.

OUTDOOR RELIEF HEARING HEATED

Supervisors Stop Orbison in His Attack on Holland

Board Refuses to Move for Reinstatement of Pair

Friends of R. R. Miller and Emily Wooley went to their defense yesterday at a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors, and protested against the action of the board in abolishing the positions of superintendent of outdoor relief and his assistant, which positions now are held by Miller and Miss Wooley. No further action was taken by the board, however, and the virtual dismissal of Miller and Miss Wooley still stands.

Supt. W. H. Holland of the Department of County Charities, whose opposition to Miller has been a subject of public comment, came in for considerable criticism, but when Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, who is conducting an occupational clinic for Los Angeles county poor under the auspices of Miller, attempted to make definite and specific charges against Holland, he was stopped by Supervisor McClellan, chairman of the board.

"I don't think this a place for personalities," said Mr. McClellan. "And I don't think charges against Mr. Holland ought to be read here with Mr. Holland not able to hear them. We ought to do things in the open."

CHARGES STARTED

Dr. Orbison had proceeded as far as "Mr. Holland has outlived his usefulness in two ways—he is not normally well and healthy enough to keep track of his department—I speak of mental factors—a lack of vision . . ." when he was interrupted.

"Mr. Holland is not under discussion at this time," Supervisor Graves said.

"I would like to have Mr. Holland make a few statements," declared Supervisor Shaw, who is the Supervisor in charge of the County Charities Department.

"So should I," replied Dr. Orbison, "but he's not here."

Somebody suggested he had read that a "new policy" was to be adopted in regard to Dr. Orbison's work.

"The Board of Supervisors adopts its own policies, not the newspapers of Los Angeles city or county," replied Chairman McClellan.

"ENTIRE APPROVAL"

Dr. Orbison then read a letter he received from Mr. Holland, which stated that his work in vocational guidance met the "entire approval" of the superintendent of charities, who would "be pleased to have" Dr. Orbison go on with his job until the "end of the term." Dr. Orbison said that means until July 1.

"This doesn't seem to indicate that Mr. Holland was dissatisfied with my work," said Dr. Orbison. "It sounds to me like he has been telling you gentlemen one thing and me another. The facts are he doesn't know what it's all about."

Supervisor Shaw then asked John Stevens to read some letters the Board of Supervisors had received from representative citizens regarding the work of Mr. Holland and Dr. Orbison.

A letter was read from William Lacy, former head of the Chamber of Commerce, warmly commending Mr. Holland and his work, particularly that of caring for indigent Mexicans, of which there are a large number in the county. Mr. Lacy said that Los Angeles county is unfortunate in having attracted a large number of persons barely able to support themselves, but who "cause trouble by criticising faithful and competent officials."

OTHER LETTERS

A letter from Mrs. Frank R. Shafer then was read, but it was of a different tone. It commended the administration of the Outdoor Relief Department under Mr. Miller, and pointed out how such administration not only has saved the taxpayer money, but has restored the self-respect of temporary indigents by treating them in a "human way." Economy in human life, Mrs. Shafer pointed out, is more important than economy of county funds.

A communication from representatives of the Council of Social Agencies, the Survey Club, the American Association of Social Workers and the social welfare committee of the Community Welfare Federation, which bodies purport to represent 154 social agencies in the city, was the first petition to be considered.

WORK PRAISED

It calls on the board to reconsider the action of abolishing the positions held by Miller and Miss Wooley.

Disaster at Hollywood Narrowly Averted When Heavy Machine Smashes Twenty Cars

Just two minutes before thousands of persons attending a lecture at the Hollywood Bowl were due to begin pouring out of its gates a heavy truck and trailer got out of control of its driver descending the Cahuenga Pass grade, and after wrecking twenty automobiles and a street car, piled up in a heap at the Bowl entrance last night.

No one was injured, but officials considered it providential that the accident occured before the rush for the gate began. The truck was driven by John Pancima of Compton. It belonged to the United Concrete Pipe and Construction Company and was traveling south.

The crowd at the Bowl had gone to hear a Christian Science lecture by John W. Doorly of Boston. According to officials it was one of the biggest crowds to attend the Bowl this season. Cars were parked for many blocks on the pass on both sides of the entrance. The truck with a heavy trailer became unmanageable as it started down the hill. Pancima, the driver, stayed with the truck as it careened down the pass headed directly for a street car.

He attempted to swing the truck between the street car and the automobiles parked at the curb, but the trailer prevented him from holding the control over the steering wheel. The trailer swung into a car and this movement brought the

The Lancer

THIS is all there is left of the West . . . this brown, barren, desolate Navajo reservation up here in Northern Arizona near the new bridge.

It is not only the West, it is the West of the days when the white man was just beginning to come in—before his ruthless cruelty, his rapacity and his dishonesty, roused the Indians to war and fury.

I am afraid it will not be this way very long. The new bridge will bring in tourists by caravans.

THE INDIAN STORE

I am staying in a charming desert inn—with long, cool, old-fashioned rooms and bedrooms with deep adobe windows.

It used to be an old Mormon trading post—half store and half fort. The store is still there. The cash customers are nearly all Navajo Indians.

CASH CUSTOMERS

I get a kick out of the transactions of the Indians. If an Indian wants to buy three oranges he shoves over 5 cents for one. After that is rung up on the cash register he puts over another nickel, gets another orange, and finally the third nickel. The Navajos do not know the origin of their race. I do. They must have been Scotch.

STORE BLANKETS

The Navajos make blankets to sell to other people; but seldom use them. They take the money from their blanket weaving and buy "store" blankets made in Pendleton, Or. The colors would dim the luster of a colored cake walk. The reason the Navajos use them is their flexible quality. They are easy to wrap around. They also buy their own Navajo jewelry—when they are in funds.

A TERRIBLE YEAR

This has been a terrible year on the reservation. There was not enough rain last year. The sheep died by hundreds. As a result every trader's store on the reservation is filled with old Navajo jewelry that has been pawned. Some of this stuff is absolutely priceless. The traders are entitled by law to sell it after sixty days, but most of them hold it for a year or more. If there is a good rain this year it will be redeemed in the fall.

A PLUTOCRAT

The J. Pierpont Morgan of the reservation is Mr. Fat Goats. Nearly every silver belt on the range is in pawn, but Fat Goats wears his with conspicuous opulence. He came in a little while ago with his shy, pretty wife to buy her a present. He tried to steer off toward a Pendleton blanket, but she came out with a new umbrella. Mr. Goats has 2000 sheep, a big herd of horses and cattle, a red bando around his head and one of the few mustaches to be seen on any Indian. He also wears little turquoise pendants dangling from his ears.

GOING WHITE MAN

When the tourists begin to come in here the Hopis will go white; but it will be a long time before the Navajos do. They follow their flocks into one of the least accessible parts of the United States. Their lives are the lives of the Mongol warrior-herders with whom Genghis Kahn conquered the world. There is no doubt in my mind that they came from the same stock—and not very long ago, as time is reckoned by ethnologists.

John Howard Repudiates Confession That He Killed Victor Cooley

ADMITS KISSING VICTIM'S WIFE

Blame Assumed to Protect Her, He Testifies

He Recounts Caresses, But Denies Loving Her

Widow Possibly Will Go on Stand at Trial

Although he admitted that he hugged and kissed Mrs. Pearl Cooley and was willing to stand a manslaughter charge for her sake, John L. Howard, night garage manager, yesterday denied in Judge Hardy's court that he ever was in love with Mrs. Cooley, who is the widow of the man Howard is charged with murdering.

Howard was on the witness stand nearly all day and his cross-examination will be resumed this morning. He took the witness stand early in the morning session and repudiated the confession obtained by District Attorney's officers and in which he was quoted as admitting that he went to the apartment occupied jointly by himself and Victor A. Cooley and there struck Cooley with a hammer as they struggled on Cooley's bed.

ATTACK DENIED

Howard denied all knowledge of the hammer attack on Cooley and said he finally made a "confession" when he was led to believe that Mrs. Cooley was in custody and that he could save her from prosecution and get off himself with a manslaughter charge.

But he was not willing to stand for a charge of murder, Howard let it be known under cross-examination by Assistant Chief Deputy District Attorney Jordan.

"Did you ever kiss Mrs. Cooley?" asked Jordan in opening the subject of the relations between Howard and the slain man's widow.

"Yes, several times," Howard replied.

"Did you ever hug her and go on parties with her to various cafes?"

"Yes."

"And yet you say you were never in love with her?"

"That is right," responded Howard.

PRESENTS GIVEN

Howard also testified he had given Mrs. Cooley several presents on her birthday, but he denied ever asking Mrs. Cooley to marry him. Howard said that his relationship with Mrs. Cooley was merely on the basis of friendship and he stated that Mrs. Cooley had told him on one occasion that she could never love any man but her husband.

He denied he ever had talked over with her the possibility of marriage, but admitted that on several occasions he had had breakfast with her.

Due to the injection of Mrs. Cooley's name into the testimony it is regarded as a possibility that either the State or defense will call her as a witness. She has been in constant attendance at the trial, although to date she has not taken the witness stand.

In repudiating the confession introduced by the State, Howard branded practically the entire document as false and one obtained by duress.

He made the statement, he said, after he had seen Mrs. Cooley in the District Attorney's office and was told that she might get in trouble over the slaying of her husband. Likewise Howard also repudiated an oral statement he made to a Pasadena police officer, who quoted Howard as confessing to the slaying of Cooley.

The accused man was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by Jordan, who with Dep. Dist.-Atty. Aggeler is prosecuting.

Jordan sought to show Howard made the confession freely, but the witness declared such was not the case.

"Police Officer Thomas told me no one knew what had happened in the apartment the night Cooley was attacked," said Howard. "He said that there may have been a fight, and that would involve a manslaughter charge, with a sentence of about fifteen months. I said that the only statement I would make would be to clear Mrs. Cooley, whom I had been told was in custody."

REASON OFFERED

Going further in the matter of his confession, Howard said he knew Mrs. Cooley was innocent, but rather than see her held three or four months in jail awaiting trial he was willing to confess and "try and get away with a manslaughter charge."

Under his direct examination by Defense Attorneys Josiah Coombs and John A. Deweese, Howard said he knew nothing of the attack on Cooley until he returned to their joint apartment late at night April 16 and found Cooley sitting on the edge of the bed. When he saw that Cooley had been attacked, he said, he called the police and ambulance.

The State charges Cooley was attacked about 10:30 p.m. On cross-examination, Howard admitted he had visited Mrs. Cooley for a few minutes around 9 o'clock on the evening of the assault. He returned to the garage where he was employed after that and spent the balance of the evening working on cars, going to the apartment where he and Howard lived about midnight, he said.

SLUGGING CHARGED

Howard also testified that a week after the attack on Cooley he was slugged while working in the Cooley garage. The assault occurred early in the morning, he said, and he had no knowledge of who struck him.

Asked whether the police refused to believe he had been attacked, Howard said that was so and that he finally told them they were "95 per cent right" so that he could get away from the receiving hospital.

It was expected yesterday that the cross-examination of Howard will continue through the morning session today, and, in view of the unexpected delay, Judge Hardy ordered the jury to report a half-hour before the usual time for convening. The judge also indicated there will be only a short noon recess today, as he instructed the jurors not to make any luncheon engagements.

Howard's testimony may lead to the State calling a number of rebuttal witnesses and with the possibility of Mrs. Cooley being summoned to the stand it appeared likely yesterday that the case will not go to the jury before late tomorrow or Thursday.

Annual Demand Made for Flood Control Funds

County Counsel Mattoon yesterday wrote his annual $300,000 letter to State Controller Riley containing a demand for the money that the State nine years ago voted to spend on Los Angeles county flood control.

The law provides that the money be paid in ten annual installments, the County Counsel to make a formal demand on the State Controller each year. This year's payment is the ninth, as the law became effective in 1921.

The county recently voted a $35,000,000 flood-control program and now is spending about $320,000 a month on large dam enterprises, including the San Gabriel dam, the largest in the world.

HEAT DROPS DEGREE IN LOCAL AREA

Slightly Cooler Weather Predicted for Today by Government Bureau

The weather yesterday was again a mite cooler than the day before, the maximum for the day being 81 deg., compared with 82 on the day before and 98 on the 19th inst. when the peak hot day of two years was recorded.

Yesterday's heat, however, was 7 deg. above the June normal maximum, according to United States Weather Bureau figures. The humidity yesterday was 54 per cent at noon, which means that the air's water content, which has so much to do with how oppressive heat is, was that near saturation or rain. The humidity was slightly above normal and slightly more than the day before.

Today may see a further slight temperature fall, it was predicted by the bureau. The forecast is fair Tuesday and Wednesday, with light fog near coast at night.

HARVEST HALTED BY NORTH'S HOT WAVE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (AP)—Intense heat halted harvesting operations in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys of California today. The temperature was carried to new high marks for the year in some sections.

In Stockton the mercury climbed to 110 deg., the hottest June day in ten years. Sacramento, with a temperature of 105, reached Sunday's high mark. Cooling ocean waves broke San Francisco's five-day heat wave and United States Weather Bureau experts predicted the same ocean breezes which brought relief to the bay district will lessen the heat in the interior.

Maximum temperatures in various parts of the State follow:

Del Monte, 82; Eureka, 64; Fresno, 110; Los Angeles, 80; Needles, 114; Red Bluff, 108; San Diego, 74; San Jose, 100; Santa Rosa, 95; Sacramento, 105.

HEAT AT PHOENIX SETS ALL-TIME RECORD

PHOENIX, June 24. (AP) — All heat records in the history of the Phoenix government Weather Bureau were broken today when the mercury climbed to 117.9 one-tenth of a degree higher than the previous high record of 117.8 established July 16, 1925.

The Weather Bureau has been maintained in Phoenix for the last thirty-three years.

Deadline Nears on Listings for Telephone Book

The final day for making changes in the fall issue of the telephone directory is Saturday, according to E. E. Manning, division manager of the Southern California Telephone Company. A half-million copies of each book will come from the press ready for delivery early in September.

There will be a greater number of pages in the next issue, due to the fact that there are now 11,000 more telephones in service in Los Angeles than there were five months ago. There now are more than 367,000 telephones in service in the city, according to Mr. Manning.

NOrmandie, WYoming and PLeasant, all new prefixes, will appear in the directory.

PROTESTS TO BE HEARD

The Council today will take up protests against the improvement of Santa Susana avenue between Marilla and Schoenborn streets, the Pickford street and Verdun avenue improvement district and the vacation of a portion of Beech street between Gloriosa Drive and Glenalbyn Drive.

TRAIN BANDITS SOUGHT HERE

Used Car Purchase Linked to Espee Robbery

Woman Who Drove Auto for Trio Identified

Address in Registering of Machine Fictitious

Search centered in the Los Angeles area yesterday for the bandits who held up the Southern Pacific train at Martinez and, after shooting the engineer, escaped with $20,000 from the express car. One of those being sought is a woman who drove one of the cars in which the robbers made their escape.

The woman has been identified as the one who accompanied three of the men when they bought a used car from a finance company several weeks ago. Pictures of three known bank robbers also were identified by the finance company officials.

PICTURES SENT

The pictures of the suspects were in the files of Frank Dewar, chief of the sheriff's robbery detail. Dewar immediately sent them by train to officials in San Francisco so they may be shown to the train crew and the wounded engineer. The suspects are believed to have returned immediately to Los Angeles.

This belief was strengthened when the sheriff's men learned that three men answering the description of the bandits left the Southern Pacific Owl at Glendale Sunday on its run from San Francisco.

James Hendricks, to whom the used car was registered, gave a fictitious address at 655 Laguna avenue. Dewar learned that Hendricks was unknown there and it was ascertained the same family has lived there for five years.

SAME AUTO USED

The three men and woman who were present when the bargain was made for the car told the dealer they were going to make a trip to Mexico. They paid $55 for the machine. It was this car the bandits used when they left the train.

Five miles away they set the car afire and fled in a second car driven by a woman. In the charred wreckage of the first car the police found five sticks of dynamite. Dewar has asked the San Francisco officials for a description of the wrappings on the explosive to determine if it had come from the same source as the dynamite that was used a year ago in blowing up the Los Angeles Aqueduct.

BANDITS IN TWO RAIDS GET $2500

One Holds Up Branch of Bank of Italy and Other Robs Leighton's Cafeteria

Bold daylight robberies commited at the point of a gun yesterday netted bandits nearly $2500.

One hold-up man obtained $1500 from the Bank of Italy branch at Forty-eighth street and Vermont avenue. Leveling a revolver at Teller W. L. Cullingworth, he handed him a note asking for $2000. The teller gave him a quantity of five, ten and twenty-dollar bills. The bandit thrust them into a blue paper bag and walked out. In the bank at the time were Manager A. Cornwall, Miss Bonnie Woods, a clerk, and a woman customer. Cullingworth described the robber as about 28 years of age, five feet ten inches in height, weighing 160 pounds and wearing a gray suit, straw hat and large shell-rimmed glasses. After the robbery, bank officials stressed their standing offer of $1000 reward for the capture dead or alive of any bandit who has held up a Bank of Italy institution.

Leighton's Cafeteria at 712 South Hill street was the scene of the other hold-up. Manager D. W. Seiffer gave over about $886. The robber dashed out and sped away in an automobile. The outstanding part of his attire, Seiffer told police, was a brilliant red necktie.

at the World's Fair in Chicago in 1893.

A similar record with the Lehigh Valley Railroad is held by "Daddy" Lentz, veteran of that road, whose home is at Bethlehem, Pa., where he has grown up with the industry of building railroad cars. In point of service he is a few months older than Hennessey. In point of years, he is the youngster of the two, having been born seven months later than the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul veteran.

Mr. Brazier, younger in both service and age than his compatriots, is, nevertheless, a veteran railroader with more than fifty years of active service to his credit. He lives in New York City and is the author of a book of memoirs, covering that service.

Arrangements for the convention have been handled by V. R. Hawthorne of Chicago, general secretary of the Mechanical Division, American Railway Association.

Liquor Charge 'Fixing' on Trial

Charged with attempting to "fix" a liquor case, William A. Callahan and Richard Cavallera went on trial yesterday before Judge Aggeler in Superior Court.

The two are asserted to have received $395 from Martin Violitch in order to quash a Wright Act charge in Municipal Court. They were ordered into custody after the matter of the asserted "fixing" attempt had been reported to the trial judge in the Municipal Court case.

BURGLARY REIGN MAY BE LINKED TO CRIPPLE

Billy Russell, 28-year-old cripple, who cannot walk without the aid of crutches, was booked on suspicion of burglary yesterday after he had been caught, police charge, in the act of ransacking an apartment on the ground floor at 1054 Ingraham street. The occupant of the apartment, E. A. Tupper, told the officers he returned home to surprise Russell while the latter was delving into a steamer trunk. He knocked the man's crutches from under him and held him until the arrival of Detective Lieutenants Massey, Kirksey and Sperry.

Russell, who said he lives at 423 West Eighth street, explained his presence there by saying he was looking for another tenant who he believed lived in Tupper's apartment. Search of his pockets revealed only a pen knife, which the officers assert was stained with paint and putty. In an effort to link Russell with several recent burglaries in which entrance was gained through a window the detectives declare they will make a chemical analysis and comparison of the paint marks found on his knife blade with window sash paint from houses lately burglarized.

Going back to the time he was employed on the Burlington (Iowa) Hawkeye, he tells a story about how Bob Burdette left Peoria, Ill., to go to Burlington and, incidentally, to become famous. Burdette, he says, was editor of a paper in Peoria which got into trouble with powerful interests in the town. They obtained an injunction from the courts prohibiting publication. Burdette paid no attention to the court order, issuing the paper the same day under the title, "The Evening Injunction," and in much smaller type he added, "Formerly the Peoria Journal." The incident was called to the attention of the owners of the Hawkeye, who immediately sent for Burdette to take the place which made him famous.

FATHER AND MOTHER

Mr. Magoune says his literary talents might be regarded as hereditary, as his father was a minister and lawyer who for twenty-five years was president of Grinnell College in Iowa. His mother was the author of many poems, some of which, he says, are much read even now.

His advice to aspiring song writers, coming from many years of successes and failures, is that the one sure-fire way to making music popular is to write it in "six-eight" time—speed it up and it's a fox trot; slow up a bit and you have a perfect waltz.

Many more stories and bits of wisdom no doubt were stopped because of the fatigue of four days' travel over the western desert, and he left with his story half told, leaving the office with a card introducing him to "Brother Tom" of the Midnight Mission.

Funeral Rites for Dr. Finlay Will Be Today

Funeral services for Dr. Alexander Finlay, athletic trainer at the University of California at Los Angeles and former trainer of the Los Angeles and Oakland baseball clubs, who was killed Friday night in an automobile crash, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at the Will A. Reynolds chapel, 8540 Melrose avenue. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Dr. Finlay, known as "Scotty" to hundreds of college and professional athletes, whose trainer he has been, came to California twenty years ago from Glasgow, Scotland. He was 44 years of age. His home was at 7911 Norton avenue.

Death came Friday night when an automobile in which he was riding with two other men crashed into a broken-down truck and trailer. Another occupant of the car, Bert H. McIntee, 687 Shatto Place, also was killed.

Dr. Finlay leaves his widow, a son, Jack, his mother and a brother in Scotland and a brother in China.

BANKER ON BOARD OF HOLLYWOOD HOSPITAL

E. J. Nolan, president of the Bank of America of California, has been elected to the board of directors of the Hollywood Hospital, according to an announcement made yesterday by C. H. Wade, president. Nolan succeeds E. F. Bogardus, resigned. During the last month Mr. Wade, president of the State Mutual Building and Loan Association, who served as secretary of the hospital for many years, was named president, succeeding Dr. M. F. Palmer, while Edwin O. Palmer was named secretary to fill the vacancy created by the elevation of Mr. Wade. At the same time Henry O. Wheeler was elected to the board of directors.

county welfare department has built up constructive methods of scientific social welfare work, the aim of which is rehabilitation and restoration to independence, rather than mere distribution of doles," the petition states.

"The splendid and outstanding success of the county department of public welfare has won the confidence, respect and co-operation of every social agency in the community, and has attracted national attention and interest. It is the belief of the undersigned that the action of your honorable body in abolishing the positions above referred to will mean the elimination of constructive work which has been accomplished by your honorable body in the past four years.

"Our appeal is based not only on grounds of scientific social work procedure and economy, but on a desire to see your honorable body continue its leadership in a field of social work that calls for enlightened treatment in the hands of an active and skillful personnel at every turn."

The petition closes with a survey of the work of the outdoor relief department during the past four years, during which time the work has been headed by R. R. Miller and Miss Wooley.

"Our intimate contact with these heads has convinced us that the outstanding achievements noted are due to their personal planning and direction," the petition says.

Those who signed the petitions are Miss Sidney Maguire, chairman; Mrs. George H. Clark, E. B. DeGroot, Harry Henderson, Irving Lipsitch, Rev. Thomas O'Dwyer and Miss Dorothy Wysor.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS

Several speakers addressed the board in behalf of the petition. A. E. Briggs of the Municipal League urged trained workers in charity work and careful supervision. Mr. Briggs said the offices under consideration should not be abolished, as "that will result in chronic pauperism in many cases."

Irving Lipstich, representing the Jewish welfare organizations, and chairman of the executive committee of the Council of Social Agencies, said he was appearing "in behalf of principles, not personalities."

"We are asking for trained workers in all important positions," he said.

Miss Dorothy Wysor urged the retention of Miller and Miss Wooley and their reinstatement.

"They are doing an outstanding piece of public work, in a way no one else can do it," she said.

Father Dolan of the Bureau of Catholic Charities declared the outdoor relief offices should not be abolished just because the Supervisors want to fire the incumbents.

"The work of outdoor relief is most essential, and under no consideration should it be abandoned," he said.

Lew Head compared outdoor relief work to that of the police department.

"There is no more reason to abolish outdoor relief positions than there would be to abolish the police force because some policemen ought to be dismissed," Mr. Head declared.

Supervisor McClellan closed the meeting with the observation that "we can't all see and think alike," but he expressed the hope that the Board of Supervisors is "doing the right thing."

"We want to do good, and we feel that we have done the right thing," the chairman said. "I believe you will find that everything will work out all right."

FINE BUSTS BOUGHT

Likenesses of Joan of Arc Are Now in Local Dealer's Hands

Two Joan of Arc busts, said to be valuable antiques, lately have come into possession of P. Kalemsky, for twenty years an antique dealer, 2607 East First street.

"They were made in 1873 by Paul Duboy in France and are of French bisque," Kalemsky said, "and experts pronounce them very fine. I got them of another dealer in San Francisco about two weeks ago. The busts show the maid in slightly different poses."

HOME CONTEST NEARS END

Entrants in the 1929 National Better Homes Architectural competition, sponsored in California and Nevada by The Times, are being notified of the closing date of the competition and of the place to which to send their designs.

The contest closes at midnight next Sunday. This means that the competing designs must be in this office or must be in the mail postmarked on or before that time.

ADDRESS GIVEN

Designs, prepared and wrapped as set forth in the program announcement, should be addressed to the Better Homes Editor, The Times, Los Angeles, Cal. Where entrants are unable to mail their designs and drawings within the time limit, they may be brought directly to the managing editor's desk in The Times editorial rooms.

However, no drawings or designs so brought directly to the office will be accepted under any condition unless they are wrapped and prepared exactly in accordance with the rules governing those sent through the mails. The designs will be accepted at this office up to the closing time as specified, but they will not be accepted when brought in person after that hour.

JURY PERSONNEL

The personnel of the jury of awards, to pass on the designs and select the winners, as announced in last Sunday's Times, includes the following: Architects David Witmer, Myron Hunt and Pierpont Davis; K. P. Lowell, for the builders, and Preston S. Wright, for the realty dealers. An interior decorator member of the jury also will be selected.

Three prizes of $500 each will be awarded the three best designs in this district. The winning designs then will be sent to New York to compete with the winners from twelve other districts over the country for three national prizes of $5000, $3000 and $1500.

CITY BACKED IN BUYING OF ROAD BONDS

Purchase of Securities in Third-Street Project Held to be Justified and Safe

The city will be justified in purchasing $1,051,000 in street bonds on the opening and widening project in Third street between Vermont avenue and Figueroa street, according to an opinion filed with the City Council's Finance Committee yesterday by City Attorney Stephens. The committee put over consideration of the opinion for one week.

The project now is held up awaiting a Supreme Court decision. Meanwhile, the people in the district appealed to the Council through Councilman Foster for some means of advancing the project. The street bonds have been issued, but purchasers are wary, due to the litigation.

Mr. Foster proposed that the city itself purchase the bonds during the interim, thus assuring action on the improvement. It is Mr. Stephens's opinion that the city will be taking no risk in buying the bonds, which can be sold when the matter is adjudicated.

The opening and widening costs are estimated at $2,264,000, of which the city has allocated from its funds $164,000. The city also has agreed to allocate $562,000 toward the improvement of the right of way.

Last Rites for Early Resident This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Lyman Sackett of 1642 Wilcox avenue will be conducted at 2 p.m. today from the Hollywood Christian Church, 1717 Gramercy Place.

Mrs. Sackett, who was nearing her eighty-first birthday anniversary, died Friday of heart disease following an illness of but a day. She was the widow of Horace David Sackett, with whom she came to Los Angeles in 1887.

Shortly after her arrival here Mr. and Mrs. Sackett built a three-story hotel and store building at Hollywood Boulevard and Cahuenga avenue.

Mrs. Sackett was a descendant of the Lyman family of New England and was born in Coventry, Ct., July 24, 1848. She leaves a son and three daughters, Warren L. Sackett, Miss Mary Sackett and Mrs. Zella S. Dunlop, all of this city, and Mrs. Emily Sackett Cooper of Blythe.

STRONGHEART GETS LAST CUE

Death Calls Pioneer Canine Film Star

Children's Favorite Succumbs

DEATH called Strongheart, pioneer animal film star, from his long retirement yesterday.

The end came at the residence of his mistress, Miss Jane Murfin, 6531 Ogden street. Strongheart who was 13 years of age, had been in failing health for some time. He underwent an operation three months ago which failed to give the hoped-for relief.

The veteran canine actor, especially beloved of children the world over, was the first animal to attain stardom on the screen. His sensational success was the signal for a mad rush to Hollywood by the masters of his canine brethren.

Strongheart was trained in the kennels of the Berlin police department. He had a gallant record of service in the German Red Cross in the World War.

Miss Murfin, well known as a playwright and scenarist, brought the dog to this country eight years ago. She engaged in motion-picture production associated with Larry Trimble, who acted as director and trainer of the animal.

Strongheart's first picture, "The Silent Call," met with sensational success. Among his subsequent starring vehicles were "Brawn of the North," "The Love Master," "White Fang," and "North Star."

"The Love Master" was a love story in which Strongheart and his mate, Lady Jule, carried the romantic roles. They returned from location at Banff, Can., with a household increased by ten pups.

PROTESTS DENIED

Protests against the improvement of Louisiana avenue between Heath avenue and Bundy Drive were denied yesterday by the City Council. The opening of Louisiana avenue will act as a westerly extension of the Tenth-street project. Councilman Webster explained to the many protestants present that the property owners will not be called on to pay their assessments for several years.

PAIR NEAR DEATH BY OWN ACTS

Knife Slashes and Poison May Prove Fatal to Two Men, Surgeons Say

Two men were taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital in dying condition yesterday following the attempt of each to end his life.

One is Ernest Prior, 60-year-old retired business man of Denver, who has been living with his grandson at 2725½ South Cimarron street. Observing blood on the floor near the bathroom, the grandson, Charles Fishback, 15 years of age, entered the bathroom, according to the police report, and found Prior with his throat cut, and a large butcher knife beside the body. Neighbors told police the man had been ailing for some time. Surgeons at the hospital reported his condition critical.

Frank South, a gardener, 39, of 2316 Ewing street, while engaged in attending the lawn at 1840 Glendale Boulevard, swallowed a mixture of ant paste and iodine. At the hospital, where he, too, was said to be in a serious condition, he refused to give any motive for his act. Police ascertained South is the father of several small children.

SAFETY PLANS UNDER WAY

The Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday reported to the Council that plans and specifications now are in course of preparation to remove the fire hazard from case oil facilities at Berth 181.

WIRT REMANDED TO JURY TRIAL

Accused Wife Slayer Held Without Bail

Letter by Him to Victim Put in Evidence

Says She Was "Punished for Double-Crossing"

Lee A. Wirt of 2759 Marengo street was ordered held without bail to await trial by Superior Court for the asserted murder of his wife, Mrs. Frances Lee Wirt, following the conclusion of his preliminary hearing yesterday before Municipal Judge Ballard.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Blalock introduced into evidence a letter by which the States expects to prove its charge of premeditated murder. It was found in Wirt's pocket after he was arrested at the home of a friend in Stanton two days after the asserted murder, Detective Lieutenant Sanderson testified. H. C. Nutt, police handwriting expert, declared it was written by Wirt.

The letter, addressed to Mrs. Wirt at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where she died three hours after a shotgun had been discharged into her body, read: "Dear Frances: I am worried about you, but you can't blame anyone but yourself. You may think I did that but I didn't. The gun went off some way, I didn't pull the trigger. You have been punished for double-crossing me. I was happy until you blamed me for your trouble. As ever, your forgotten Lee."

Other witnesses called by Blalock included L. Pearlstein, jewelry broker of 2933 West Eighth street, who testified that Wirt quarreled with his wife and with A. R. Ramos, a State's witness, while he was there attempting to collect for a diamond ring. Wirt threatened to shoot Ramos, he declared.

The woman died on the 15th inst. in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, to which she was removed after the shooting, witnesses declared. Her death was due to the wound, County Autopsy Surgeon said.

BAIL BONDSMEN WIN ACQUITTAL BY JURY

John A. Schiff and Aaron B. Lacy, bail bondsmen, were found not guilty of being dissolute persons by a jury in Municipal Judge Thompson's court yesterday. After hearing the evidence Judge Thompson instructed the jury to return the not guilty verdict. The two men were arrested by Police Detectives R. L. Johnston and B. G. Anderson in the Hall of Justice some time ago. The officers asserted they had been soliciting business in the Municipal Courts.

PASTORS COMMEND HOOVER

Ministers' Association Resolution Praises Refusal to Draw Racial Lines Among Representatives

By formal resolution yesterday the Ministers' Association of Los Angeles and vicinity commended and supported "the sanity and Christian principles of President and Mrs. Hoover in refusing to draw racial lines against properly chosen representatives of the people."

Introduced by Rev. Dr. R. M. Donaldson, the resolution was unanimously adopted by more than 200 members of the Ministerial Association at a meeting at First Methodist Church.

LOYALTY AID PLEDGED

Another feature of the meeting was the adoption of a resolution to lend every possible financial and moral support to the success of loyalty Sunday, to be observed the 30th inst., and which will be marked in Los Angeles by special programs at the churches and a mass meeting at 3 p.m. at Hollywood Bowl. More than 40,000 persons are expected to attend the Bowl program, which will include addresses by Gov. Young, Mayor-elect Porter and United States District Judge McCormick.

Dr. F. M. Larkin, secretary of the California Church Federation, said a concerted effort is being made on the part of the criminal element of the country to discredit President Hoover. Dr. George W. Truett, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, pastor of First Baptist Church at Dallas, Tex., told the Ministerial Association that "the moral safety of the nation and of the world is largely dependent upon the pulpit."

NOTORIETY HUNTER SCORED

"The pulpit calls for heroic, red-blooded men, men whose lives are as noble as their sermons," he said. "The life of the minister who does not live the principles he teaches is a ghastly lie."

Warning his hearers against the sins of impatience, idleness, envy, jealousy and love of luxury, Dr. Truett said "the preacher who seeks an easy job already is on the toboggan." Criticising those ministers who allow themselves to be attacked by the "microbe of notoriety," Dr. Truett declared that "the itch for publicity and popularity is dangerous to spiritual effectiveness."

MRS. HOOVER DEFENDED IN DE PRIEST EPISODE

WASHINGTON, June 24, (Exclusive)—Representative Mary T. Norton, Democrat, of New Jersey, today defended Mrs. Herbert Hoover in connection with the entertainment of Mrs. Oscar De Priest, wife of the Chicago negro Representative, at the White House.

"When the people of Illinois elected a negro they expected him to be shown the consideration due a member of Congress," said Mrs. Norton.

"Mrs. Hoover did not elect him. She merely represents her husband in extending courtesy to Congress, regardless of color, race, religion or politics, and should not be condemned by anyone for doing that which she considered—and which any other fair-minded mistress of the White House would have considered—proper. It was an official courtesy only.

"It is a shame to embarrass Mrs. Hoover for an act for which she had no alternative."

Today's Bible Text

And now, little children, abide in Him; that, when He shall appear, we may have confidence and not be ashamed before Him at His coming. 1 John ii:28

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

They call it Boulder Dam, but it will be built at Black rather than Boulder Canyon. Maybe we best compromise by calling it the Colorado muzzle.

JAPAN FOR PEACE

The Japanese indicate a willingness to go as far or farther than any other nation in pruning down the machinery of war. They need a large navy for many reasons, but are not wishing to use one for conquest. They will cut to the bone the minute John Bull and Uncle Sam are ready to act in kindred spirit.

MAKING OF BOOKS

French experts are preparing a work of fifty volumes to show the origin of the World War and American authorities are putting out a work in 150 volumes as a history of the great mix-up. The next thing will be to find somebody to read these books. What we want is a snappy little single volume that will tell who won the war.

HARD TASK

It is admitted that there is a great waste of both oil and gas in the operations of the petroleum industry. But this is a hard thing to correct. Everybody that has a well or a prospect wants to be in on production. There is a cry for royalties. If any agreement or understanding can be reached to bring production down to the actual needs of the people it will be a miracle.

HARD LUCK

Frank Gould is said to have had a run of bad luck in opening up his Monte Carlo on the Riviera. It is said to have cost him nearly $5,000,000 to get his casino under way and he has gone into the red to the tune of $800,000 in the first three months. Maybe it is best to leave these gambling concessions to the professionals. They know better than to give the outsider a show.

THE COUNTRY BEAUTIFUL

Those who would preserve the scenic splendors of our highways recently sought a slogan which would briefly express their purpose. So they offered a prize. The trophy goes to Marion Boyd, a Detroit girl, who offered the apt phrase, "This is your country—beautify it." It doesn't exactly sound like a slogan, but in a terse and patriotic manner it puts the proposition up to the individual—which is where it belongs.

ANOTHER SURPLUS

There appears to be a slightly unexpected surplus of something over $100,000,000 in Uncle Sam's vest. The income tax collections at the last drag were nearly $200,000,000 ahead of the hard-pan estimates. It must be a novel sensation to wake up in the morning and find your roll of hundred millions fatter than you thought, but Uncle Sam is no stranger to this experience. People are talking about hard times, but there seems to be a lot of money still in circulation.

THE BADGER GAME

The Wisconsin Legislature having repealed the State law which aided the enforcement of prohibition the wets are seeking to dig up methods of obtaining liquor under a semblance of law. The latest offering provides for the creation of a State medical commission which should have the control and disposition of all wines and liquors. The booze would be sold and delivered to such as made affidavit that they intended to use the stuff for medicinal purposes. The liquor would be sold at a modest price and there would be no charge for a prescription. In this way they figure that they could put the bootleggers out of business. Of course no gentleman would assert that he needed the liquor for his health unless he was very low and feeble—or dog-gone thirsty. Also it would be difficult to find patriots willing to serve the State on this medical commission. On the other hand, there is the chance that Uncle Sam would make it mighty hard for the commissioners to obtain their supplies. Take it all 'round there are several matters to be studied over before putting this brilliant project into effect.

A COLOSSAL BLUFF

Threats filtering into Hollywood from the East that the American Federation of Labor will call a gigantic sympathetic strike to enforce the demands of the Actors' Equity Association upon the talking film industry have the aspect of a colossal bluff.

To be effective, such a strike would have to be general throughout the production and exhibition ends of the industry, and it could not be made so without the most widespread contract-breaking in the history of labor disputes and without a series of other acts upon which the courts everywhere would sit down hard. That the mechanical stage and studio union members, who have about everything they themselves want, should jeopardize their well-paid jobs to pull chestnuts out of the fire for a comparatively few actors lacking a real grievance, is improbable in the extreme.

Such a strike would not only be forbidden immediately by a series of injunctions, but would lay ground for damage suits and other legal actions that would disrupt if not bankrupt every union involved—for, under recent court rulings, a union is legally liable in such cases. A sympathetic strike is absolutely illegal. Men may legally quit work to redress their own grievances, when they have any, but no court in the land holds that they may break contracts to take part in somebody else's dispute.

President Green of the American Federation of Labor is by no means so astute as his predecessor, the late Sam Gompers, but he is probably not foolish enough as to counsel his newly built-up stagecraft and studiocraft unions to hazard everything on such an adventure. Such a strike would actually and in the long run benefit the theater owners and producers, since it would give them an opportunity to rid themselves for good of unionite thralldom. If President Green is contemplating such a strike seriously, and is not merely permitting his name to be used for propaganda purposes, he is counting on an impossible degree of shortsightedness on the part of his opponents.

That both exhibitors and producers have been shortsighted on previous occasions is true, but a different financial set-up in most, if not all, of the companies engaged in making and showing talking pictures has been brought about. This new money, which in some cases at least is controlling, is owned by men neither spineless nor shortsighted, the men of the electrical industry, who have learned how to deal with racketeers and racketeering and have not permitted the closed shop to get a foothold in their own businesses. These men will fight, and fight until they win.

Further proof that this sympathetic-strike talk is largely bluff is proved by the fact that the federation has apparently found itself unable—or is unwilling—to help the musicians' union members thrown out of work all over the country by the introduction of talking pictures. It is not even backing up the musicians' union in San Francisco. The federation was powerless to aid the United Mine Workers, President Green's own pet union, which broke its back in a long struggle for an impossibility. It was unable, at the period of its greatest strength, to save the federation unions in the garment trades, which were defeated and dispersed by an aggressive rival.

It is possible that the studio and exhibition unions might be cajoled into a strike upon the assurance that the struggle will be short and victory sure, but no such assurance can be given, or at least no such promise can be kept. The federation might be able to finance a short strike if its funds did not get tied up by court order the moment it attempted such an illegal move, and if its own membership did not revolt at pouring out money to help Equity members who never did anything for them; but one of more than a few days' duration would smash it. History of previous labor struggles shows that in fact the federation is very canny about giving away anything but advice. It might furnish employment to some sluggers and other "entertainment committees," pat the strikers on the back and tell them it hopes they win, but that is about all.

There is some talk also in Hollywood of a studio strike accompanied by sabotage and violence. That sort of thing is not done in Los Angeles; saboteurs here quickly find themselves in jail. The idea of men and women calling themselves artists, dealing in pineapples and stink bombs, is itself a little quaint.

A settlement with Equity and the unions on the basis of Equity domination and the closed shop would only be possible at the ultimate expense of the public. There is a limit to what the public will stand, and the people who have been enjoying talking pictures at reasonable prices are apt to turn to other entertainment if the admission costs are largely increased, as such a program would entail. There is no doubt that the best course of the producers lies in resistance to unreasonable demands, in which they will have public sympathy and support. If they yield on the theory that the public will have to pay the bill anyway, the public, which will not fail to be informed, is likely to decline, without thanks, to do anything of the kind.

MONEY CRAMPS

The newer and smaller currency is said to be handier than the present bills. This is a trifle ambiguous. Our money is too handy as it is. If we should be told that the new currency would be less easy to spend we should be reassured.

The new currency will require the shipment of but four tons of bills a day, instead of six as at present, by the Treasury Department. This makes us feel better. Tons of paper money have bothered us. Eight hundred tons have already been distributed to the four corners of the country waiting for the day of release.

When the layman is told that smaller money will not cramp the hand so much in counting, he is still no clear on the advantage. Many a man would be willing to offer himself as a victim of such cramps—of course, in the interests of science. At present currency cramp does not appear to be virulently contagious.

The new money will fit more snugly in the pocketbook. This is encouraging. Maybe it will be more satisfied to stay at home. At the present time, the dollar is but a transient. Life is but an exchange of photographs of the Presidents. A dollar with a contented home-loving spirit will be something new.

That it will go into an ordinary envelope easier gives us grave concern. If money that would never fit in an envelope were invented, it would be better. We have always been warned against sending currency through the mails. We wonder at Uncle Sam lending himself to the idea.

That the new money will last longer is hopeful, and so we are for it. We have been looking for money that would last longer.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

WE WERE lunching with ye olde New York newspaper man, and with that hope which springs eternal had taken a table far in the corner, thinking we might have it to ourselves. But of course the place soon filled, and two young business women took the other two seats. They paid no attention to us, being engrossed in something interesting. They were talking about vacations.

I JES' LOVE TO TRAVEL!
ME, TOO!

"I think I'll take in Yosemite and the Redwood Highway and the Columbia River country and Vancouver," said one. "It'll either be that, by car, or a boat jaunt down to Ensenada and Mazatlan. I'm just crazy to see Mazatlan."

"So'm I. But it'll have to be next year. I'm going to Honolulu this year."

"That's a swell trip. I took it last summer. Is Grace goin' with you?"

"No, she's goin' to take a run up to Alaska."

The New York man's eyes bugged out as no New Mexican's would at sight of the Woolworth tower.

Big Western Ideas

"Back East," he said, "girls situated about as those apparently are would be planning to go to Atlantic City or somewhere on the Massachusetts coast or up in the Adirondacks—all trips from two to six hours away. Out here distance means nothing. People have been used to big ideas of travel ever since the days of the pioneers. Many a Southern Californian drives farther on his regular week-end outing than the average New Yorker goes for his summer vacation! Did you hear that girl speak of 'running up to Alaska'? In New York we always think of Alaska as the end of the world."

HOW EXTRAORDINARY!
QUITE SO!

Laid Up for Repairs

Jim Jolly was a rakish craft
Who spread his sails with glee.
He got "prescription" from his "doc"
By quarts and jugs, you see.

But now he's limp, his engine knocks,
He's bleared and broke—and how!
He's fired his old wet "doc" for keeps—
He needs a dry dock now.

MAXIM WILDE.

A Wizard at Deduction

A small, dapper old gentleman, whose brisk step and quick eyes almost belied his white hair and lines of age, was walking in one of the best blocks in Santa Monica Boulevard yesterday when a young man who had been sitting on a bench under a fine tree smilingly accosted him.

"Sir," he said, "if you will permit me to say so, I am a man who observes and thinks. I have been observing you as you approached and have come to several conclusions. I can see you are a man of importance in the business world, of keen intellect, but of waning physical strength. You have, in fact, reached the time of life when you need just such a young man as I am to help you in the greatest accomplishments of your declining years. And if you were convinced that I am possessed of exceptional powers of observation and deduction, as well as all the other qualifications you would require, you would be glad to make me your confidential secretary. Am I not right?"

YOU AMAZE ME!

"Quite right. But it would require some little demonstrating of your abilities, not mere assertions."

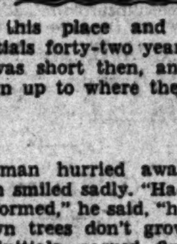
Quite Ready For the Test

"Naturally. Well, let me give you one demonstration. I am a stranger in this neighborhood. I have been here only a few minutes. Yet I have noticed that the house in front of which we are standing is one of ancient grandeur, a very fine home, but not in the new style. Yet everything about the place shows the loving care of people to whom the old things are dear. So I deduce that it is the home of one of our older families, but that the present owner is an exceedingly tall young man of highly romantic nature."

"You are, indeed, marvelous at deduction," said the old gentleman. "How did you figure all that out?"

The young man pointed at the tree inside the lovely yard, on which were carved two hearts, interlaced, in which were linked two sets of initials.

"Only a young and romantic man would have done that," he said, "and only the owner would dare to do it on so fine a place as this. And only a very tall man could have reached that high. So it is clear that this property has been inherited by a tall young man of romantic nature. Do I get the job?"



DO I GET THE JOB?
NO!

"You certainly are a wonder," said the old man, enthusiastically. "But I'm afraid I can't use you just yet. You see, I happen to own this place and I carved those initials forty-two years ago. The tree was short then, and they've just grown up to where they are."

Moral

As the young man hurried away the old gentleman smiled sadly. "Had he been really informed," he said, "he would have known trees don't grow that way—that initials carved five feet from the ground forty years ago would be practically the same height today. But he's another who relies too much on natural brightness and too little on solid facts. And these boys who look good outside but haven't much inside always get shown up."

AMANULLAH QUITS

By James J. Montague

Though an Asian king, as a general rule,
Is commonly mean as a Mullah,
I was strong for king of the modernist school
Like our little young friend, Amanullah.
He tried to cast off all the old-fashioned ways
Of the crafty and rude oriental,
And also his people to glory to raise
By being both kindly and gentle.

He brought to them airplanes and radio sets,
He brought to them new Paris novels.
He urged them to bathe, and to pay up their debts
And clean up their tumble-down hovels.
He pointed his finger to hustling Japan
And said with a touch of bravado,
"Why do not you dumb-bells make Afghanistan
Like the land of that bright young Mikado."

And what did they do to this hustling young king
Whose notions were modern and snappy,
And wanted his people to get in the swing
And be prosperous, busy and happy?
Their statesmen came out with loud howls of dismay
And promptly and boldly disowned him,
And kept up the racket till one gloomy day
The army moved in and dethroned him.

And so he went over the border to wait
Still hoping his mossbacked, old nation
Would come to its senses and open the gate
And restore him to power and station.
But now, being listless and beaten and blue,
While the people he toiled for defame him,
At last he admits with a sigh that he's through
And I really don't very much blame him.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

SECOND WHISKY REBELLION

[Detroit Free Press]

The extensive preparations being made by the Federal government to combat smuggling into this district should open the eyes of the public to the real nature of the situation.

A numerous element in the citizenry is in open and defiant rebellion against the Constitution of the United States and certain laws enacted to give effect thereto, whatever other name they may give to their activities.

A far larger element is financing the rebels by purchasing the stuff they sell.

The rebels themselves are armed and do not hesitate to kill, when their illegal business is interfered with or they are threatened with the statutory penalties therefor. Some of them are supplied with machine guns. They maintain their "fleets." They fall short of "waging armed rebellion" against the United States only when they are left to ply their outlawed trade in peace. The government could not ignore this challenge without failing in its duty to uphold and defend the Constitution.

THE BATTLE OF DETROIT

[New York World]

For the last five days a steady stream of bulletins has been pouring out of Washington and Detroit announcing an unparalleled effort to stop the smuggling of liquor from Canada across the Detroit River.

We have in this case a perfect illustration of the way prohibition works. For more than a year the prohibition authorities in Washington have ignored a situation which is shocking. They have ignored it because there is really nothing they can do about it short of asking Congress for millions of dollars and calling out the Army and the Navy. Then the spotlight flashes on the situation suddenly. At once there is "the greatest of all drives." The drive continues until at least part of the public is convinced that something has been accomplished. Then the spotlight flashes somewhere else, and off hurries Mr. Loman to some new situation.

There was one of these great "drives" in the Detroit area in September, 1926, and another in June, 1927. There will be still another one some day in 1930, when the ballyhoo of the present affair has long since been forgotten.

THE AIR DERBY FOR WOMEN

[New York World]

Precisely who are bent on clipping the wings of the ladies who are to take part in the coming air derby, and what authority they have in the matter, is not exactly clear. But Miss Amelia Earhart is out with a statement against them, so that it may be assumed that their efforts threaten to be effective. It is to be hoped so. Those who have authority are quite right when they insist on conditions that will tend toward safety. Aviation, it is quite clear, is entering a new phase. The day of the spectacular stunt is passing. The object now is solid accomplishment, with a minimum of mishap; and this object, with its consequent effect on the mind of the public, would be seriously jeopardized by an irresponsible race in which a number of women flyers might be killed.

SATISFACTORY TARIFFS

[Detroit News]

There will be a satisfactory tariff bill, as we understand it, when everybody gets into the same line of trade.

Law Abiders Safe

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Thank you for your reasonable editorial the other day on the so-called "dry killings." The average newspaper has not one word to say about so-called eminently respectable citizens who are furnishing bootleggers with millions of dollars to break the laws of the United States of America, but let an alleged bootlegger get shot while attempting to escape, and oh, what a howl goes up.

As a matter of fact, law-abiding citizens who have no dealings with bootleggers have nothing to fear.

You will note the headlines of typical "wet" papers bold-type the "killings," but soft-pedal what the President says about the real criminals. If prohibition fails, it will be because the majority of the newspapers misrepresent, and distort the truth. The people who are supporting bootleggers are the real criminals. LAW AND ORDER.

The Humane Department

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I thank you most heartily for your recent splendid editorial regarding the urgent necessity for a clean-up in the humane department. As an interested spectator at the several hearings conducted at the request of the citizens committee before the health and sanitation committee of the Council I was amazed and shocked at the revelation. Many more witnesses could have been called.

The humane department has absolutely no alibi and the evidence submitted against the gross inefficiency and inhumaneness has caused widespread comment and indignation. Mayor Cryer has long known conditions in the department and could have remedied the situation, but preferred to remain apathetic and inactive. Humanitarians will long remember the Cryer administration.

The humane department has been a dumping ground for the payment of political debts. I recall but two commissioners who have been experienced, genuine humanitarians—Rosemonde Rae Wright, the fearless and powerful defender of animals, and Mrs. W. H. Weldon, veteran humane worker. Mayor Porter will enshrine himself in the hearts of all citizens if he will purge the department of "humane treatment of animals" of the politicians.

HARRIET RIVES STRONG.

Brilliant Word Pictures

LOS ANGELES, June 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Concerning the recent letter in The Times criticising Mr. Fred Hogue's statements, I wish to take issue with the writer of that letter—because, to my notion, Mr. Hogue has stated the case very fairly, viewing the matter largely. I have been in both China and Japan several times myself.

Regarding our exports to China, how much of the $165,000,000 are merely oil, gasoline, oil-products and old newspapers, old rags, clothes and bottles? When one speaks of exports, the average reader fancies that this refers mainly to manufactured goods—not to oil products and such detritus as old newspapers, etc. A California seaport may export a large total annual money value of things—but in some cases from 60 to 90 per cent of that will be oil products; and hence, one might convey an erroneous impression by merely quoting them as "exports."

Mr. Hogue's descriptions are not only far more accurate than one could expect, but they also are among the most brilliant word-pictures that I have read in a long lifetime. Indeed, he makes most of these young travel writers look like a lot of sophomores who haven't anything worth while to say—and don't know how to say even that in a way to interest veteran world travelers such as myself. G. W.

Sentiments Reciprocated

TUJUNGA, June 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] While cutting out your article in today's Times, entitled "The Antipodean Disaster" to send to my family in New Zealand, deep feelings of appreciation are naturally pouring out to The Times for the expression of such kindly sentiments. I wish to thank you for it.

LEONARD BAIN.

Something Further

LOS ANGELES, June 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Now that Mayor-elect Porter has told us all about the last grand jury and the Marco case, will he not enlighten an anxious public as to that body's startling reversal in the Jacobson case and why it was taken?

Mystery of Bock Beer's Origin

In the days prior to the enactment of prohibitive regulations the spring season was always heralded by the posting of bock beer signs all over the country as is still done in Germany. The origin of this beverage dates so far back that it is lost. There are many explanations, but none is authoritative or even generally accepted. One is that a Bavarian knight, famed for his ability to consume great quantities of liquid, on one occasion became so helplessly drunk that he fell in a stupor, but upon recovery he refused to acknowledge that he was drunk, but insisted that he had been butted by a goat (geisbock.) The exceptionally strong brew he had indulged in was afterward called bock beer.

IT'S MILKING TIME

BY EUGENE BROWN

Letters of a Prodigal Nephew to His Absent-Minded Uncle

XXXVI

Dear Uncle Sam: Well, here I am with nothing much on but an old pair of golf pants waiting patiently for my relief. You see for a while there I didn't really understand that I had any coming. I hardly knew that I was a farmer. But now that the table is about to be spread a lot of us will find that we have a chance to horn in.

The inspectors can't tell whether a bozo's hands are calloused from holding the plow or shaking dice.

It was a funny thing with me. Some time back when I happened to have $15 that hadn't been spent I up and bought me one of these hill sites. You pay all you've got down and the other million in monthly installments to run abreast of the German reparations for the next few centuries.

The lot wasn't so fierce from the viewpoint of a surveyor. In fact, it was a three-cornered affair and only about umpty feet the long way. But I got it. The bright guy who sold it to me said I could put a garage and a dog kennel in one angle and stake the wife out in another. This would leave the other fragment for a gold mine, an oil well or what have you? An eternal triangle with a Hollywood exposure seemed impressive, but I had my doubts.

I asked the realtor what he would suggest. He thought deeply for a few moments and then exclaimed with real enthusiasm: "Why don't you start a farm?"

"What could I raise?" inquired I, in puzzled manner.

"I don't know exactly," responded the salesman, "but maybe you could raise the mortgage if you kept your nose at the grindstone long enough."

"It doesn't exactly look like farming land to me," argued I, reflectively. "The only way you could get birdseed into that soil would be to use a shotgun."

"Well, you try some blasting powder," suggested the realtor, "and when you bust some of it loose send a sample to the university chemist and he will tell you what to do."

"But those chemists are too busy testing the honor of our bootleggers to bother with our soil problems," protested I.

"Not at all," countered the salesman. "You will get service all right. Personally, I think you ought to raise something different. There's a ranch for almost everything you can think of. They are raising pretty nearly everything from prunes to merry hell, but I can't remember of seeing any lignum vitae hereabouts. Why don't you start a lignum vitae farm?"

"Lignum vitae?" exclaimed I, in amazement. "Isn't that the stuff they use for filling the foreheads of our umpires?"

"I wouldn't say," answered the realtor, "but they tell me it is about the hardest wood there is. Naturally it would be hard to get and if that is so you would always have a fat market for your crop."

"But not here," protested I. "I couldn't raise a crop of horned toads on this land without having them roll down on the next tract when the wind blew or a rain came."

"Oh, that's easy," explained the salesman, airily. "Just put a six-foot retaining wall around your land and watch it grow."

"That's it!" snorted I, scornfully. "Put a $25,000 fence around a $5000 farm and watch Andrew Carnegie turn over in his grave. That's no way to get rich. I didn't buy this for farming land, anyhow."

"I know it," admitted the realtor. "But it hasn't been zoned for business yet. Out here if property isn't zoned for business or apartments it is called a ranch. Until we need your lot for a new City Hall or a movie theater you are a rancher."

So that is how I come to be in on this relief.

I am not worrying about my crop, as there isn't any crop as yet. But I want my government to send me a package of lignum vitae seed and a pickax. Then we will let nature take her course. I don't see how we can plow my farm unless we can put stilts on one side of the horse. Otherwise, the animal is likely to roll across two or three other farms and bring up on Hollywood Boulevard. So I may need a lot of relief.

I don't want it in debentures either. They tell me a debenture is about like an unsecured note. How could I use one of those things at the bank? They would throw me out the way they did last fall. So no debentures unless they have the indorsement of the mint. I want my relief in the form of a cash advance and if you send it by special delivery I would like the money in big bills. Those are the kind I have to meet.

Don't try to put me off with a few kind words over the radio. This is serious. If I don't get the dough pretty quick I may have to use my own roll to keep my margins afloat.

You may kindly tell Herbert Hoover that I am the party with the high forehead and the low shoes who voted for him last fall and I should have something coming to me by this time.

If the response isn't satisfactory I may write to Al Smith. What is my country for if it is not to be milked?

Wishing you many of the same.

So no more at present.

An Army of Struggling Artists

Paris is one of the poorest places in the world to sell a picture and the reason is that there is a surfeit of art in that city. One person in seventy-five is endeavoring to make a living by painting and the total number of artists in the city is estimated at 40,000.

COUNCIL COVERS BEACH NUDITY

New Resolution Aimed at Sun Bathers Who Show Too Much Tan Space

Asserted conditions of nudity at the beaches reached the Council yesterday when Councilman Alber introduced a resolution reciting that the present custom of pulling swimming suits down to the waist was objectionable to many people, and that there should be a law against it.

The resolution, which proposes that an ordinance cover the subject of partial disrobing, was referred to the Parks and Playground Committee.

WORK BEGUN ON SADDLE CLUB BARNS

Ground-Breaking Marked by Formal Ceremony at El Vaquero Site

Ground-breaking exercises yesterday marked the beginning of construction of the new $20,000 stables at El Vaquero Saddle Club, following the recent purchase of the picturesque Whitley estate in San Fernando Valley as the site for the club.

Betty Boyce, actress; Kennedy Ellsworth, president of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Gordon L. McDonough, manager of the San Fernando Valley branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, wielded an immense shovel in the ground-breaking ceremony, typifying the high speed of construction which will be necessary if the building is finished in the time specified in the contract with the architects, Ellis & Sheeley. The first unit of the stables must be completed within eighteen days, the contract provides.

The new building will provide stalls for 100 horses. It will be of Spanish architecture with full tile roof, stucco exterior and tile patio with a fountain in the center.

EQUITY PLAN TO BE VOTED ON TONIGHT

Prominent Members of Film Colony Will Give Views on Situation

Forty prominent actors and actresses are expected to attend a meeting tonight in the Beverly Wilshire Hotel to vote on whether the policies of the Actors' Equity Association that are being executed now by its president, in its effort to gain control of the talking motion-picture industry, are in accord with the principles of the association.

Conrad Nagel, Lois Wilson, Rod La Rocque, Ralph Forbes and Basil Rathbone, all members of Equity, have invited the forty outstanding men and women of the local film colony to attend the meeting, Nagel stated last night.

"This gathering is not one of protest against Equity or against its principles," Nagel said. "Many of us in this controversy, however, feel that the way the situation is being handled by President Gillmore is not as it should be.

"I feel that the way the thing is working out the burden is being placed on the people least able to bear it. Those people are the small free lancers.

"We talked this matter over with Gillmore several days ago and wanted him to bring the policy matter to a vote before a closed meeting of paid-up Equity members. He advised us to gather a substantial group first and said he probably will act on the outcome of this meeting."

An open meeting of the association was held last night in the Hollywood Woman's Club. Hisses and catcalls were accorded the mention of several names of world-known actors who have not actively sided in with Equity in its present attempt to intrench itself in the motion-picture industry.

President Gillmore announced tonight's meeting at the Beverly-Wilshire in the light of being an out-and-out protest meeting against Equity and the name of Nagel mentioned in the announcement was jeered by the several hundred in attendance.

Whales Will be Scouted by Airplane

Whales of the Arctic Circle will have to find a new hiding place if the specially constructed whale-sighting Lockheed-Vega, which was scheduled to leave here early this morning for Oslo, Norway, with Joe Crossan at the controls, lives up to expectations.

The trim ship, fitted with windows in the bottom of the fuselage and a special closed-in observation look-out on the cabin, was to take off from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, land in New York and be loaded on a boat bound for Norway on July 4, next.

Riisen Larsen, Norwegian scientist, will receive the plane in Norway and will fit it with skiis. He plans to circle the waters far to the north of his country and sight schools of whales on the off-season. If the plan is successful it means that Norwegian whale hunters will be able to operate many more days in the year than they can at present.

CANTALOUPE ADVERTISING AUTHORIZED

Imperial Growers Name Committee to Conduct Nation-wide Campaign

With a view of extending the market for this season's crop of Imperial Valley cantaloupes, produce officials yesterday decided to sing the praises of the famous fruit through the medium of a co-operative newspaper advertising campaign. Accordingly three directors of the Western Growers' Protective Association, Tracy Miller, vice-president of Miller-Cummings, Inc.; O. W. Schleussner, vegetable sales manager of American Fruit Growers, Inc., and Fred G. Hilvert, vice-president of S. A. Gerrard Company, commissioned the agency of Lord & Thomas and Logan to prepare the campaign.

Emphasis, it is announced, will be placed on the timeliness of buying cantaloupes now while the limited season is at its height, and on the fact that the fruit this year is better than it ever has been before. A cool spring, the growers declare, made possible a crop having unusually tender yet firm meat and a pleasingly high content of sugar. Also the cantaloupes this season have been subjected to a more rigid quality inspection, particularly the Crowned Lyon, Blue Goose and American Beauty brands.

California, it was pointed out, supplies the nation with two-thirds of its cantaloupes annually and in conjunction with Arizona and Colorado ships 85 per cent. During the brief season each year 20,000 carloads of the fruit are shipped out of the Imperial Valley. Therefore, produce men declare, this giant western industry is of vital importance and interest to Southern Californians.

Neighborhood Mourns Over Collie Death

Residents of an apartment building at 1700 South Westmoreland Boulevard are mourning the loss of their most beloved tenant; neighbors of the vicinity, their pet and H. P. Bowman, a virtual member of the family, in the death of Princess Pat, a 16-year-old Scotch collie.

PRINCESS PAT

Princess Pat, which was known to almost every resident of that neighborhood, and with all of whom she was on friendly terms, died at noon Sunday of heart disease.

She was given to Mr. Bowman sixteen years ago by the late Senator Wallace W. Greene of Kansas City, Mo., who was shot and killed by a burglar four years ago.

For years Princess Pat had been esteemed virtually as one of the family by Mr. Bowman and his wife and at the apartment building where they reside Mr. Bowman asserts the collie was as welcome by the management as she was by most of the guests.

Injuries Prove Fatal to Auto Crash Victim

Leonard Lambert of 427 East Seventh street, died yesterday in General Hospital as the result of injuries received on the 8th inst., in an automobile collision at Manchester and Cypress avenues.

Mrs. Ella Moss, a minister, 54 years of age, of 1023 West Twenty-first street, was injured seriously when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband, collided with another car at Vermont and Franklin avenues. She was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where she was given emergency treatment for internal injuries and fractured ribs, and then removed to California Lutheran Hospital. The driver of the other car, according to the police report, was John Brickley of 2107 1-2 San Fernando Road. He was not held.

BUNION 'GHOST' FAILED TO WALK

So Say Five ex-Employees of C. C. Pyle

Heads Lopped Off on Texas Trail, They Aver

Women Derby Aides Tell How Unpaid Jobs Lost

Although the now-famous C. C. Pyle bunion derby is over, and the famous "C. C." is now a resident of Los Angeles, troubles for that individual are just beginning to pile up, it was revealed yesterday when a group of his former employees lodged complaints against him with the State Labor Commission here. Summary dismissal in Texas and failure to pay their wages are the burden of the complaints of five men and women who started out from New York with Pyle and his bunionists, but who fell by the wayside.

Wage claims totaling $2761 were filed with Deputy Commissioner Thomas Barker here yesterday by Florence A. Carr, Ritz Hotel, actress; Scotty Findel and Ernie Mack, 1303 3-4 West Twentieth street, actors; Jeannette Richards of New York, private secretary to C. C. Pyle, and Leon L. Spencer, patrolman along the derby right of way.

Although, according to the stories told Barker by the claimants, they all started out from New York with Pyle and his derbyites, they fell by the wayside, one by one, Pyle discharging them at various Texas points.

Miss Carr, a member of Pyle's vaudeville show that accompanied the runners, told Barker that she lasted until the group reached El Paso, where she was summarily discharged by Pyle without cause. She claims $716 in wages, at $135 a week.

Miss Richards, Pyle's secretary, was discharged at Fort Worth, Tex., with $265 due her for seven weeks' work at $35 a week, she says.

Findel and Mack, actors with Pyle's vaudeville show, assert they were discharged at Amarillo, Tex., with $1600 due them. Spencer, engaged in New York as a patrolman to keep the runners running and the road clear of interference, was discharged in Texas on May 11, with $180 due him, he told Barker.

Pyle, summoned before the deputy commissioner, ignored the summons and was served with a forthwith subpoena, which brought him into the commission's office yesterday with his attorney, J. J. Wilson. The latter raised the issue that the commission is without jurisdiction for any claims asserted to have been incurred in another State. Barker set the case over until July 1, next, pending settlement of the question of jurisdiction.

Mother Asks Aid in Search for Daughter

Discouraged over her own fruitless search of a year and a half, Mrs. Lora Delafaro of 543 East Avenue 28 yesterday asked Capt. Allen, of the police missing persons detail, to help her locate her daughter, Viola, 20 years of age. The girl disappeared from home December 19, 1927, and has not been heard from since.

VIOLA DELAFARO

The distracted mother reported Viola had ambitions to obtain work in motion pictures or on the stage and said she fears she has met with disappointment and now is unnecessarily ashamed to return and confess defeat. Shortly before leaving home the girl had some photographs made but which she herself has never seen.

FAREWELL FOR CANADIANS

A farewell frolic and dance will be given at the Hollywood Roof Ballroom, 1549 Vine street, tomorrow evening, in honor of a number of former Canadians who are leaving to spend their vacations in the Canadian Rockies. All former Canadians, other Britons and their American friends are invited. The affair will be under the auspices of the Canadian Society of Southern California.

ARROYO SECO FIGHT LOST

Supreme Court Rules Against City in Six-Year-Old Row Over Rock, Sand and Gravel Excavating

The six-year-old fight of the city to prevent the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Company from excavating rock, sand and gravel on its property in the Arroyo Seco has been decided definitely against the city by the State Supreme Court, which in San Francisco yesterday handed down two decisions covering the three cases which have arisen from the issue. Each decision was made in favor of the company, although one of them does uphold the right of the city to enforce restrictions as to the manner in which the excavating may be conducted.

The chief point of contention, however, in all three cases, was the right of the company to conduct its excavating operations. Two of the cases had been instituted by the company in the form of injunction suits to restrain the city from preventing the excavating. They were directed at two city ordinances, one of which was passed specifically to forbid the excavating in the Arroyo Seco, the other being the residence district ordinance.

Each of these injunctions was granted by the Superior Court and they came to the Supreme Court on appeal by the city. The Supreme Court covered them in one decision, which upholds the decisions of the Superior Court. As to the residence district ordinance case, it was held that the placing of the territory involved in the residence district was an unreasonable exercise of the provisions of the ordinance. In regard to the other ordinance the Supreme Court agreed with the lower court that the city had exceeded its police powers in passing the ordinance.

The second decision was on an injunction procured by the city in the Superior Court and which was appealed to the Supreme Court by the company. The finding of the lower court was reversed in this case. The Superior Court has held that no gravel should be excavated from the land covered by what is known as the O'Neill lease in the Arroyo Seco because the adjoining property could not be protected adequately by the erection of cement walls.

The Supreme Court held that the evidence was insufficient to justify such a conclusion and overruled the finding of the lower court in this respect, but it sustained the Superior Court in that part of its decision which had upheld the right of the city to require that electrical instead of steam shovels be used to minimize smoke, noise and dust, that pools left by excavation must be drained to prevent collection of stagnant water, and that a flow of 19,000 second feet of water must be assured to control flood danger.

BANKER'S BODY TAKEN TO HOME

Funeral of J. Dabney Day Set for Tomorrow

Sister of Widow Coming to Offer Consolation

Financier's Associates Laud Business Ability

The body of J. Dabney Day, one of the city's foremost financiers and philanthropists who died suddenly on Saturday, was taken from the W. A. Brown mortuary yesterday afternoon the Day residence at 310 South Lafayette Park Place, and will repose there until after the funeral service tomorrow. Death occurred at the Day beach home, Las Tunas, near Topanga Canyon.

Mrs. Day's sister, Mrs. J. Howard Ardrey, wife of the vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, will arrive here Saturday from New York to be with her. Mr. Ardrey will be with Mrs. Ardrey. Mrs. Day said yesterday she has been wonderfully sustained by faith during her sorrow and is bearing up well.

FUNERAL PLANS

The services will be conducted as heretofore announced. They will begin in the home at 2 p.m. tomorrow with Revs. J. A. Vaus, Cortland Myers, H. O. Anderson and J. W. Johnson officiating. Burial in Hollywood Cemetery will follow the service at the home, with Alexander H. Ardrey, Martin Cornman, J. Bert Easley, D. M. Montgomery, W. C. Reordan and C. A. Rude acting as pallbearers.

A splendid tribute to Mr. Day as a financier was expressed yesterday by two of his closest business associates, M. J. Connell, chairman of the board of directors of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank, and George W. Walker, chairman of the bank's executive committee. Mr. Day was president of the bank. When it was formed out of the Citizens' National Bank and Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank it was he, Mr. Connell said, "who was responsible for the present advanced plan of administration of its affairs."

"During the consolidation," Mr. Connell said, "Mr. Day devoted his time continuously to establishing the existing plans and order of administration of the two institutions as one. His long and varied experience in the field of finance enabled him to complete the work without any interference in the affairs of either institution and he installed and perfected the operation of its administration as a consolidated bank.

"In fact," Mr. Connell said, "it was because he did it so well and on so sound a basis with various departmental heads and departments functioning harmoniously that Mr. Day was enabled particularly for some time past to devote a large part of his time to the public enterprises of a charitable and benevolent nature which brought him so prominently before the public.

"It is this thoroughness in administration and wisdom in planning that assures continuance of the institution along the lines he laid down so that in his absence the bank is to continue to be an example of and tribute to the outstanding administrative and executive ability of one of California's ablest bank and finance executives."

"The system which he installed," Mr. Walker said, "was so efficient that it has stood the tests of use without change and effected a remarkable co-ordination of the various departments of the bank's affairs. He selected carefully the officers who were placed in responsible places and the conduct of business proceeded as smoothly as when it was first set going."

PARKING LIMIT SOUGHT

A petition asking that a one-hour parking limit be established in West Thirty-fifth street between Vermont avenue and Catalina street was received by the Council yesterday and referred to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

THEY'RE NOT AFRAID OF SHERIFF

Screen Players Make Film for Officials

Sheriffs and deputy sheriffs hold no terror for Bessie Love and Johnny Mack Brown, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer screen players. This was demonstrated yesterday when the pair spent the forenoon in the office of Undersheriff Biscailuz as the outstanding figures in scenes of a motion picture being prepared for the Sheriff's Relief Association.

The picture, the third made by the association in as many years, depicts a plot with a narcotic background. It will be shown throughout the county to stimulate interest in the activities of the relief organization, which aids dependents of those killed or injured in the service of the Sheriff. It is being directed by Harry Mann.

On July 28, next, the association will have its annual barbecue at Schutzen Park.

AMITY HELPING IN PORT TRADE

Los Angeles' Promotion of Friendship Reflected

Commerce Shows Increase in Foreign Circles

Unification Made Imperative to Care for Growth

BY CHARLES C. COHAN

There is every indication that the unified port of Los Angeles and Long Beach will become the foremost in the world. Every factor that contributes to its growth in maritime importance is hitting on all cylinders.

Los Angeles is taking a leading part in this nation in studying the psychology of other countries with a view to promoting international understanding and friendship and this far-sighted activity is reflected in a material increase in commerce.

Many impressive instances of this are in the records of governmental and civic agencies here which have been devoting close attention to this phase of progress.

FRIENDLY TRADE

It has been found that commerce increases far more rapidly on a basis of friendly understanding than on solely economic needs.

A well-known government representative here tells interestingly of the effect of promoting friendship with the people of trans-Pacific countries.

"Getting acquainted with them, visiting their homes, learning their viewpoints and giving them better opportunity to understand ours, has been working wonders in our foreign trade," he says. "We've even got a good many of the Chinese over in China to put lemon in their tea. Whatever the cause of the increase in our lemon exports to China, the fact remains that from 1924 to 1926, for instance, there was an increase of 300 per cent in our shipments of lemons to that country, and that means something to Southern California."

MUTUAL BENEFIT

It is pointed out that the friendly relationships result in the desire of other peoples to make use of a greater variety of American products while at the same time America finds occasion to utilize many more of the commodities produced in other lands.

Southern California now more than ever is the keynote locality in the American contact with trans-Pacific lands. As its importance in this regard increases, it necessarily must move to meet the requirements of increasing trade and travel via the Pacific.

This is a phase of the unification project which is receiving merited emphasis.

ARCHERY WILL BE TAUGHT AT U.S.C.

Archery will be taught as one of the specialized activities of the physical education program of the 1929 summer session of the University of Southern California, which opens its six weeks' session on Monday, July 1. Gymnastic dancing, tennis, swimming, folk dancing and interpretive dancing also are included in the schedule. Instructors in the physical education classes included Miss Germaine S. Guiot and Prof. William Ralph La Porte, and visiting professors include David K. Brace of Texas University; C. L. Glenn, H. E. Morrison, N. P. Neilson of Los Angeles and E. L. Roberts of Brigham Young University.

MARY BRIAN WINS BIG ROLE

Irene Rich Plays Lead Opposite Will Rogers for Fox; Norma Lee Leaves Stage for Part With M.-G.-M.; Universal Buys Story for Pollard

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Clever little Mary Brian has been steadily climbing upward at Paramount studios.

Now, according to word received yesterday from B. P. Schulberg, Miss Brian is to have the honor of playing the lead in "Kibitzer," opposite Harry Green, while, as you remember, the other featured member of the cast is Neil Hamilton.

"Kibitzer" will be directed by Edward Sloman, the picture to be a talking version of the stage play of the same name.

IRENE RICH TAKES LEAD WITH ROGERS

How history does repeat itself. Take Irene Rich, for instance. Miss Rich played opposite Will Rogers in his very first Samuel Goldwyn picture "Jubilo," and in others succeeding it. The team proved very popular, and that was the real start of Miss Rich's film career.

Irene Rich

Now the actress is hurrying West from New York, where she has been vacationing, to play opposite Rogers again, this time for Fox in Rogers's first picture under his new contract, "They Had to See Paris." Frank Borzage is directing.

Florence Oakley was to have taken the role, but was taken ill with influenza a few days ago, and is said to be unable to undertake the part.

Norma Lee Comes West

Norma Lee is the latest well-known stage player to desert New York for Hollywood and the talkers.

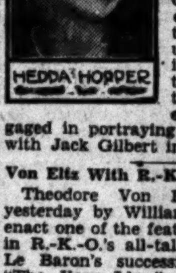
The actress has been signed to occupy the leading feminine role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picturization of "Kempy," by J. C. and Elliott Nugent. Miss Lee, who in private life is Mrs. Elliot Nugent, created the character in the original stage production.

When Miss Lee's husband and father-in-law came West to join M.-G.-M., she stayed to complete an engagement with Arthur Richman in "The Tender Age."

Miss Lee's claims to metropolitan note rest on her clever portrayals in several plays, including "Dulcy," "By Request," "The Poor Nut" and the comedies mentioned above.

Hedda Hopper Signs With M.-G.-M.

Since the talkers came into vogue, no actress has been more sought-after than Hedda Hopper, who, as you recollect, gained her first acting experience on the stage for several seasons before going into pictures.



HEDDA HOPPER

Now Miss Hopper has been secured by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer on a long-term contract, under which she is to play featured roles in talkers. At present she is engaged in portraying a leading part with Jack Gilbert in "Olympia."

Von Eltz With R.-K.-O.

Theodore Von Eltz was signed yesterday by William Le Baron to enact one of the featured characters in R.-K.-O.'s all-talking version of Le Baron's successful stage play, "The Very Idea," which Richard Rosson is directing.

The R.-K.-O. lot is like home to Von Eltz, who appeared in leading roles for Robertson-Cole and later with F.B.O., his last work for R.-K.-O.'s predecessor being in "The Voice of the Storm."

The drama was "Tonight at Twelve," by Owen Davis. Universal at once followed Pollard's idea and bought the talking-picture rights to the piece, which Pollard will direct.

Before the director starts work on "The Barnstormers," which is to be the next co-starring vehicle for Laura La Plante and Joseph Schildkraut, he will film "Tonight at Twelve." Casting for the picture is to start at once.

Universal Buys Big Story

When Harry Pollard, Universal director, visited New York several months ago to familiarize himself with the "Show Boat" music of the Ziegfeld show, he saw a dramatic play that captured his fancy.

Fay Wray's Big Role

Definitely established as a talking-picture success through her first audible role in "Thunderbolt," Fay Wray has been assigned her most important part since Eric Von Stroheim selected her to take the part of Mitzi in "The Wedding March."

FAY WRAY

Miss Wray will have the feminine lead, the role of Louise, a French waitress, in "Behind the Make-Up," an adaptation of Mildred Cram's novel, "The Feeder."

William Powell and Hal Skelly have been assigned the other two important parts.

Collier to Direct Tracy

When that amusing stage cut-up, Lee Tracy, goes into his next Fox talking picture, "Harmony at Home," it appears certain that he can't go wrong, artistically speaking.

Tracy is to have as his co-directors no less a distinguished duo than William Collier, Sr., and Kenneth Hawks.

Oil Fire Snuffer Will be Placed in Few Days

Three days are expected to elapse before engineers will be able to drop a giant bell over the blazing mouth of the McKeon oil well No. 2, at Santa Fe Springs, in an attempt to snuff out the fire, it was stated last night by field engineers.

An underground crew, intent on tapping off most of the force of the roaring well through a side line sixty feet below the surface, has completed a chamber around the well and started last night to cut into the casing.

Cement placed around the pipe splice will have to set before the underground workers can divert part of the pressure through their pipe and allow the surface bell to be swung into place over the top outlet, engineers said.

Gasoline Price Here Unchanged

The boost in the wholesale price of gasoline 1 cent several days ago so far has resulted in no retail price increase, it was ascertained in a check of wholesalers and retailers yesterday.

Local pump prices are apparently stabilized at 19 1-2 cents a gallon with no outlook of immediate flurries. The majority of local retailers are selling on a 4-cent profit margin.

Several brands of cheaper gas are on the market and are selling at various combinations of cut-rate prices. These, however, are not numerous enough to affect the stabilized market of the major brands of gasoline, it was pointed out by oil company officials.

GARDEN PARTY ANNOUNCED

St. Barnabas House Auxiliary yesterday announced a garden party from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. next Saturday at the Argus Gardens, 1805 Hill Drive, Eagle Rock, the proceeds to be used for extending the work of St. Barnabas Convalescent Home. This home provides for patients after discharge from General Hospital until they are able to work. A program and cafeteria luncheon are announced.

BROTHER TOM CELEBRATING

Twelve Years of Service to Needy of City Will Be Commemorated This Evening

Twelve years of ministry to the needy, the widows and orphans and the down-and-outers of Los Angeles, will be celebrated at Brother Tom Liddecoat's Midnight Mission at 396 South Los Angeles street, this evening.

The anniversary ceremonies will start with dinner to be served at 6 p.m.

On June 25, 1917, Brother Tom's Midnight Mission opened its doors at 121 South Los Angeles street. At that time only the midnight meal was served to about 100 men. Sleeping accommodations, consisting of clean floor space, were provided for about 200 men, and the daily attendance at the mission was approximately 1000.

Later the mission moved to 136 South Los Angeles street, where it was housed until May, 1928, when it purchased and moved into its present quarters.

The Midnight Mission is unusual as a charity organization because no salaries are paid to any workers, nothing is for sale and no collections are taken. It is maintained by free-will contributions and $12,000 received annually from the Community Chest. Cafeterias, cafes and hotels see to it that the Midnight Mission need turn no hungry ones away, and merchants and other individuals help it to clothe its family of needy men, women and children.

The annual report for the year ended December 31, 1928, shows 527,481 meals served; 136,287 lodgings furnished; laundry service, 53,334 pieces; barber service, 20,394; baths, 12,339; garments distributed, 32,541; 1791 shoes repaired; employment obtained for 9204 individuals; medical aid given to 3117; while the chapel report shows that during the year 15,340 persons professed salvation in the daily meetings, which are continuous from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m., and conducted by numerous groups from the churches of all denominations.

One of the most interesting departments of the institution is the women's and children's home, where from ten to thirty-five widows, deserted wives and children are housed, fed and clothed until other plans can be made by them.

ARTISTS TO SCREEN NEW WAR STORY

Eleanor Boardman Plays Leading Role in "She Goes to War"

Inaugurating a new starting policy at the United Artists' Theater, "She Goes to War" will have its first showing Friday, succeeding John Barrymore's starring picture, "Eternal Love."

The picturization of Rupert Hughes's story has been filmed on a large scale, it is said. It depicts for the first time the feminine side of the war and combines human drama with spectacular scenes.

Eleanor Boardman has the leading role as the snobbish young woman who thinks she will add to her personal glory by overseas war work and who finds a different viewpoint when she is forced to choose between menial labor and returning home to her friends. Scenes of tank warfare, it is said, offer one of the dramatic highlights in the film. Featured with Eleanor Boardman in the cast are John Hollard, Al St. John, Edmund Burns, Margaret Seddon, Yola D'Avril and Glen Walters.

Film Detective Rivals Holmes in 'Broadway'

Sherlock Holmes as a detective is finding a rival in the person of Dan McCorn, the detective of "Broadway," the Carl Laemmle, Jr., feature of New York night life, which is the current attraction at the Biltmore Theater.

McCorn, known as the "white cop" is enacted in the cast of the film by Thomas E. Jackson, who for almost two years took the same part in the original stage production of the noted play by George Abbott and Philip Dunning, and like the hero of Sir Conan Doyle's mystery stories has gained renown.

In the film McCorn is easy-going, slow of speech, but keenly alert. His methods when "out to get his man" are entirely unlike those of the badgering or highly secretive type of police. In a casual and unruffled manner he goes about his business making inquiries and talking little, and in the end the villain does not confess his crime as a result of accusation, but in his frenzied effort to find out what the detective knows of his guilt inadvertently divulges himself as the criminal.

Glenn Tryon, Evelyn Brent and Merna Kennedy head the cast of "Broadway" and others besides Jackson who are seen in important roles include Robert Ellis, Paul Porcasi, who is also of the New York stage cast, Otis Harlan, Leslie Fenton, Arthur Hausman, George Davis, Marion Lord, Betty Francisco, Ruby McCoy and Edythe Flynn.

"Follies" Goes to Boulevard

The "Fox Movietone Follies," with its songs, dances and girls, moves to the Fox Boulevard Theater for a one week's run starting Thursday. The picture comes direct from the Criterion.

A cast of 500, headed by Sue Carroll, David Rollins, Sharon Lynn, Dixie Lee and Stepin Fechit, share in presenting such song hits as "The Breakway," "That's You Baby" and "Walking With Susie." The "Fox Movietone Follies" is the first of a series of yearly film revues to be produced and presented much in the same manner as the Ziegfeld, Earl Carroll and George White musical extravaganzas in New York.

Because of the "Follies" the Boulevard Theater announces that with the exception of the Boulevard Band no other stage presentation will be offered. Added attractions will be Our Gang's first all-talking comedy, "Railroadin'" and a Mickey Mouse cartoon.

Director Moves to Fox Studio

Taking with him his staff of arrangers and a musical library consisting of thousands of opera and popular music scores, Howard Jackson, the symphony conductor, has moved from the James Cruze, Inc., studios to the Fox lot.

Jackson conducted the symphony orchestra for "The Great Gabbo," a Cruze picture. He will perform a similar duty in Fox's "Sunny Side Up."

FILM VERSION DIFFERENT

In the M.-G.-M. all-talking screen version of "The Trial of Mary Dugan," showing at the Fox Westlake, audiences see a departure from the original stage version. Bayard Veiller, author and director of the drama in which Norma Shearer is starred, altered the action of his play so as to incorporate a number of exterior scenes that run as a prologue to the courtroom sequences. In addition to Miss Shearer, the cast of "Mary Dugan" includes Lewis Stone, H. B. Warner and Raymond Hackett.

REISNER WON'T STARVE

Charles Reisner, who directed "The Hollywood Revue," could earn a living in three professions other than pictures. He could go on the stage as song and dance man, he could write songs or he could write vaudeville sketches. Reisner, before coming into pictures as scenario writer and director, was an actor in musical comedy and in vaudeville.

He wrote a number of song hits, one of the most popular being "Good-by Broadway, Hello France," a war-time favorite.

"STARK MAD" AT RITZ

"Stark Mad," opening today at the Fox Ritz, relates the adventures of an expedition which sets out for the Central American jungles to find a lost hunter. A mad hermit, a gorilla, the haunted ruins of an ancient temple and other things make "Stark Mad" a thrilling picture. The cast of this Warner Brothers production includes H. B. Warner, Louise Fazenda, Claude Gillingwater, Jacqueline Logan, Lionel Belmore and others. "The Trial of Mary Dugan" comes to the Fox Ritz tomorrow for three days.

Modern Circe Is Film Menace

Kay Francis
Lends her sophisticated presence to "Gentlemen of the Press," the current picture of newspaper life at the Million Dollar Theater.

FRENCH ACTOR WILL APPEAR

Emil Boreo, French star, will greet his countrymen from the stage tonight at Loew's State. The evening is dedicated to the many French societies here and all people of French birth residing in the city.

Monsieur Henri Didot, French Consul in Los Angeles, will be guest of honor and hundreds of the sons and daughters of France are expected to attend.

Boreo, who is appearing on the stage this week as an added feature of the Fanchon and Marco stage idea, was popular in Paris theatricals. He starred in "Chauve Souris" and created the dance of the wooden soldiers. Prior to his stage career in Paris he served in the war as a member of the Paris intelligence department. William Haines in "A Man's Man" is the current screen offering.

Warners Give Flood Story Popular Run

"Noah's Ark," which is revived at Warner Brothers' Theater this week, is screened practically the same as the original presentation, with nothing startling in new effects, either in sound or silent sequences. The film is being given a popular run.

As in the first showing, the picture's chief assets are found in the flood scenes, which include some very fine photography. Dolores Costello and George O'Brien are the featured players, and engage in dialogue in one brief sequence.

The production really contains two themes, one the modern, the other a throwback to the biblical days of the great flood. Noah Beery portrays an important part to pleasing advantage.

As compared to the present all-dialogue picture, "Noah's Ark," with its spasmodic conversational passages, will find a somewhat obscure back seat—which is to be expected, in view of the progress of sound films.

Bakewell Gives Dual Portrayal

William Bakewell, free-lance juvenile who essays the dual characterizations of King Louis XIV and his mad twin brother in Douglas Fairbanks's "The Iron Mask," now on view at the Pantages, is himself a picture "fan."

Although well on the road to stardom, young Bakewell admits he is subject to absolute "crushes" on stars of the film firmament which are as faithful and enduring as the adoration of the most obscure fan. "My real ideal," says this player, "is Douglas Fairbanks. I admired Mr. Fairbanks long before I worked with him in 'The Iron Mask,' and I got the thrill of my life out of those scenes we took together. I treasure the photograph he autographed for me and wouldn't dream of disposing of it."

Bakewell recently completed the featured juvenile characterizations in "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," the latest Warner Brothers all-technicolor, all-talking, singing and dancing production, and in Fannie Hurst's "Lummox," which Herbert Brenon directed for United Artists.

NEW REVUE AT POM POM

Youthful artists' models have been selected by William Meiklejohn for the showgirl personnel of his new musical revue, "Parisian Nights," which opens at the Pom Pom, Hollywood, Friday night. "Parisian Nights" will be an artistic blending of the latest tableaux, songs, dances, and stage novelties from Paris and Hollywood, dedicated to the forthcoming Elks' convention. The new collection of Pom Pom girls includes models who have posed for Henry Clive, John Decker, Rolf Armstrong, and others. Many of these girls will double from the film studios during their night-club engagement.

BRICE IS AFTER TALENT

"The negro is nature's own comedienne," says Monte Brice, supervisor of comedy at Pathe. He recently completed six pictures starring "Buck and Bubbles," from the Orpheum, and has gone to New York in search of other negro talent. Brice, it is said, was largely responsible for the Beery-Hatton comedies at Paramount.

COWEN RIDES

William J. Cowen, R.-K.-O. director, has a new form of exercise. Hi 2-year-old daughter Toni, is learning to ride. Each morning sees Cowan and the little girl at the stables. Director Cowen forecasts a successful feminine western star in his family.

Film Features Announced for Criterion Bill

The Fox Criterion announces that in addition to its feature attraction, "Madame X," M.-G.-M.'s all-talking emotional drama which comes to the theater Thursday, the comedy element will also be given in other talking films on the program.

Laurel and Hardy's hilarious talking comedy, "Berth Marks," also an M.-G.-M. production via the Hal Roach studios, is included on the bill, and also a Mickey House cartoon comedy, "The Barnyard Battle."

Favorable reports regarding "Madame X" come west from New York where the M.-G.-M. drama has opened to a large patronage at the Sam Harris Theater, it is said.

Writers' Club to Give New Plays

Tomorrow and Thursday nights the Writers' Club will entertain its members with a most attractive and interesting dramatic program. The performance will be given in the play room of the club.

One of the features of the performance will be the presentation of a new play, "Black Butterfly," written by Gloria Blackton. The play deals with the adventures of two negro servants in a fashionable New York home and will be presented by John Bowers and Marguerite de la Motte.

Following "Black Butterfly," the Writers will give another playlet of entitled "When Buddha Laughs." Dagvar and Pauline Forney are the authors, and characters are Dorothy Burgess, George Marion and Walter Byron under the direction of Clifford Brook.

Other plays scheduled are "Mamma Knows Best," a comedy, with Ruth Roland and "The Fourth Degree" by Maverick Terrell.

LIONS WILL EXERCISE

The "lion nursery," new open-air exercising pen for the cubs at Gay's Lion Farm, near El Monte, will be opened today, to house the nine babies of the farm, ranging in age from two weeks to three months. On this plot of African jungle the cubs will be put through the preliminary training that will later qualify them to act before the motion-picture camera. Dutch Girl, the baby of the group, was named after the daughter of Louis Reidhorst, general manager of the Goodyear rubber plantation in Sumatra, who visited the farm on the day the cub was born. Broadway Melody, another youngster, was so named because of his musical tendencies. And Al Malaikah, five-weeks-old baby, was christened during the recent Shrine convention.

MARY EATON SELECTED

Millard Webb, who successfully directed "Glorifying the American Girl," with Mary Eaton in the lead, claims that she is the one girl in the professional world to combine all the requirements for talking pictures, from stage and screen. Four years were spent by Paramount looking for the proper girl to represent American girlhood, and Miss Eaton was finally selected.

BOTELER AS EDITOR

Wade Boteler, popular free-lance character comedian, is busy on the last scenes of his editor's portrayal in the Gregory La Cava-directed featured at Pathe, "For Two Cents." Wade is of Scotch-Irish descent, so it would seem that he is in a good position to enact the proverbial city editor—conservative when need be, or fiery tempered upon call.

FELIX YOUNG TO POSTPONE MAYAN PLAY

Extra Rehearsals Needed to Insure Smooth Opening of New Drama

To enable him to perfect his forthcoming production, Felix Young has announced that the world premiere of "Top o' the Hill" at the Mayan Theater will be postponed until July 8.

Rather than take a chance of unpreparedness, Young favors a few extra days' rehearsal to insure a smooth opening performance. The belated arrival of Helen Menken from New York did not leave sufficient time for the star to participate in rehearsals with the company, Young said.

William Boyd, a ranking favorite, has the leading part opposite Miss Menken, and others in the cast are Hilda Vaugh, Anderson Lawler, Alden Gay, John Webb Dillion, Ida Darling, Jean Temple and Russell Morrison.

Youthful Cast Will Appear in Paramount Film

Another youthful, talented cast, similar to the one which appeared in "Close Harmony," will be seen and heard in "The Man I Love" at the Paramount Thursday.

"The Man I Love" is a romance of the prize ring, with Richard Arlen and Mary Brian portraying the ideal lovers. Arlen is seen as a fighter and a contender for the championship of the world. Mary Brian is his wife. The fiery Russian, Baclanova, enters the story as a wealthy woman fascinated by the glamour of the ring. Leslie Fenton is seen and heard as her lover, and others in the cast include Harry Green and Jack Oakie. Harry Green was credited with giving a commendable comedy performance in "Close Harmony." He has another such role in "The Man I Love" as Arlen's manager and trainer.

Many of the ring's fighters appear in the picture in the gymnasium scene where Arlen is training. William Wellman, director of "Wings," "The Legion of the Condemned," "Ladies of the Mob" and other films, directed the new romance from an original story by Herman J. Mankiewicz, who based all of his climaxes on actual newspaper accounts of lives of fighters.

"Dear Teacher," a two-reel musical revue featuring Smith and Dale, vaudeville comics, heads the list of audible short subjects for the forthcoming week at the Paramount Jack Powell and other performers are also seen in the subject. Milton Charles will play two late numbers.

Individual Acts Given by Stars in Film Revue

Inaugurating an innovation in the films, stars reveal their own individualities and do not appear in roles conceived for them by somebody else in the "Hollywood Revue of 1929" at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Each member of the score of celebrities of the film and stage world to sing and dance in the production appears on the program without a character name or a character part, except in one rapid-fire comedy skit included on the schedule of twenty numbers.

This unusual situation is due to the fact that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Hollywood Revue of 1929" is exactly what the name implies—a revue of the Ziegfeld, Carroll or White pattern.

The stars are colorfully costumed and are surrounded by girls in bright dance choruses and ensembles. The "Hollywood Revue of 1929" has no plot. Conrad Nagel and Jack Benny in the roles of dual master of ceremonies serving to introduce the various members of the show.

Orpheum Gives R.-K.-O. Hour

With Jay C. Flippen officiating as master of ceremonies and Mayor James J. Walker of New York participating as guest of honor, R.-K.-O. hour will be presented from the Orpheum stage tonight as a special prologue to the regular program, which includes John Charles Thomas, United States Indian Band, Albertina Rasch ballet, George Beatty and others.

Sophie Tucker, Eddie Leonard, Gus Arnheim and Cocoanut Grove Orchestra, Sylvia Miller, University Collegians, Bill Robinson, an augmented R.-K.-O. orchestra of 120 pieces will assist in the broadcast. Arnheim and his orchestra, recently seen at the Orpheum here, are in New York en route to Europe.

Palace to Show 'Coquette' Soon

"Coquette," Mary Pickford's starring vehicle, and a 100 per cent talking production, will start Friday at the Broadway Palace Theater. The production will be given its first popular run and is a dramatic unfolding of a father's love for his daughter, who is a frivolous flirt.

Included in the cast of well-known players in "Coquette" are such names as John Mack Brown and John Sainpolis, who portrays the father. The drama is enacted in the South.

DIRECTOR IS VERSATILE

Michael Curtiz, director of Noah's Ark," coming to Warner Brothers on Thursday, has directed many types of films. "Noah's Ark" is one of several biblical plays handled by Curtiz. He has directed a number of crook stories, among them being "Tenderloin" and "Alimony Annie." "Good Time Charley," a story of San Francisco's Chinatown, was another Curtiz production for Warner Brothers.

Mercolized Wax Gives Skin Youth

To make your skin naturally lovely and to preserve this youthful beauty, use regularly a little pure mercolized wax. Get an ounce at any drug store and use as directed. The wax peels off the outer layer of aged, or blemished skin gently but surely, removing all such imperfections as pimples, freckles and dry, coarse skin. With the removal of the worn out cuticle, the new skin is revealed, clear, fresh, supple, with that lovely appearance of youth. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and age signs, use as a face lotion 1 ounce powdered saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel.—[Advertisement.

SILVERSTEIN DEATH QUIZ SUSPENDED

Investigation of Murder Here Will Await Texas Trial of Suspect

Investigation of the murder of Max Silverstein was closed by the office of the District Attorney yesterday pending the trial of Daniel J. Dennehy, one of Silverstein's asserted killers, in Galveston, Tex., on a robbery charge. Conviction on the charge carries a death penalty under the Texas law.

Benjamin Barretti, another of Silverstein's asserted murderers, met death in a gun battle in Kansas City last Saturday, according to advices.

The two men were asserted to have entered Silverstein's Wilshire apartment last March and shot him, making their escape. Dennehy subsequently was captured in Dallas and held for the Galveston robbery, in which a policeman was shot last May.

Silverstein, known as a bootlegger, was about to depart on a honeymoon, having just discontinued his liquor-selling activities with considerable money in his possession, according to the police at the time of their investigation.

LONG BEACH KILLER DIES OF WOUNDS

LONG BEACH, June 24.—John Keller, who in a wild shooting spree at the home of his wife, 1617 Stanton Place, Saturday, killed his wife, Ruth, and shot Patrolman J. M. Bullard and Eddie Finck, died at Seaside Hospital this afternoon from wounds inflicted by police who captured him when he returned to the scene of the shooting hours later. Keller lived sixteen hours with three bullets in his body. Physicians cut away part of his liver in an operation performed Sunday morning. An inquest into the death of Mrs. Keller will be conducted tomorrow morning at the Clinkenberg mortuary.

The principal testimony will be presented by eyewitnesses of the shooting who escaped injury from bullets fired at them by Keller. Two newspaper reporters and two women will tell of the slaying of Mrs. Keller, the shooting of Officer Bullard and Eddie Finck and their escapes.

Finck's condition is reported critical and hospital officials report that he may die from two bullet wounds inflicted by Keller. Officer Bullard will recover.

Six children, ranging from 3 to 13 years of age, are orphans as the result of the death of Keller.

Talking Films Bring Cut Rate for Park Use

Because talking film promotion has reduced the use of Griffith Park for outdoor pictures, the Park Commission yesterday reduced the rates to companies desiring to use the premises.

Heretofore the companies have jointly paid an aggregate of $400 a month for unlimited use of the park for pictures. Under the new rates each company will be charged $5 an actor up to thirty-five actors, beyond which points special rates will be arranged.

The request of the Fox Film Company for use of a portion of the aviation field at the park for sound films, requiring the construction of temporary buildings, was denied. An injunction of some years' standing against the board prohibits such structures in the park.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

ENJOYING YOUR MOUNTAIN VACATION

Many people believe that the mountains are better for respiratory and catarrhal disorders than the seashore, although there is really not much difference, provided a good dietary and resting regime is used. The mountains do, however, appear to be more restful, especially in cases of nervousness.

Before taking a vacation it is a good plan to have an examination of the heart to see whether it will stand for hard climbing or swimming. If there is any heart trouble, one should be very careful not to overstrain. It is a good plan to select trails that are comparatively level. When steeper trails are followed, one should rest every few minutes.

The greatest benefit from the mountain vacation is from the fresh air, hiking, and the rest obtainable. Long hikes into the woods should be taken and it is a good plan for a nervous person to try to get away from his companions and be by himself as much as possible.

Dietetic indiscretions should be avoided if you are to return to your regular work with a new lease on life. Do not suffer from the delusion that you will be helping your body by stuffing it with food. Your body is not a storehouse which can be stoked with provisions to last over the winter months. If you eat too much at this time you will be months in recovering from the poisons you have generated in your system through this foolish stuffing.

In selecting a mountain camp, the greatest difficulty will be in obtaining fresh vegetables and fruits. Most mountain camps have a dietary too rich in starchy foods. Summer is the season when one should eat plentifully of the fresh fruits and green vegetables, and while exercising one should drink a plentiful supply of plain water, neither too hot nor too cold and thus give your eliminative functions a chance to flush out excessive impurities and wastes.

Seek healthful, simple amusements, and you will be much more rested by keeping away from the crowds and avoiding tempting confections at the candy counters. Should time lie heavily upon you between your exercising periods, read a few stories of love or adventure, but nothing too philosophical. Short rest periods with an occasional nap will refresh you and make you all the more eager to get back to some healthful exercise. Don't allow yourself to be really lazy, as physical rest is not as much required as mental and physical diversion.

Make it your aim to obtain the greatest possible benefit from this year's vacation and you will find that after returning to your occupation you will be rewarded by a more successful and happy season of work.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

SLEEP IS DISTURBED

Question: Office worker writes: "For a long time I have found it hard to get to sleep or sleep the night through, and it seems that I don't feel thoroughly rested in the morning. What is the cause of this?"

Answer: The principal cause is digestive trouble, such as fermentation of food which produces gas pressure against the heart or diaphragm. Even though you are not conscious of such pressure, it is sufficient to unconsciously irritate you and keep you from getting into a deep sleep.

STRAWBERRIES

Q.: M. M. writes: "I am very fond of strawberries, especially with bread and butter, but they always make a rash come out on me. I have been taking soda to counteract the acid. Is that the proper thing to do?"

A.: Strawberries should be used in the same combinations as other acid fruits, and the reason they cause a rash in your case is probably because you are eating them with bread and other starches. Try using them with milk or cream, or with the nonstarchy vegetables. They should never be used with a starch meal. Watch for an article on berries which will appear in this column tomorrow.

WHEN SHOULD WE EAT

Q.: B. T. J. asks: "Should one eat his meal if it is time but he is not hungry?"

A.: There would not be much sickness nor many digestive disorders if people would eat only when hungry. Appetite and hunger are quite different, but you should at least have an appetite before your meals or you should wait and miss as many meals as necessary until there is a return of your normal appetite.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 9 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

BOWLEGS RESULT OF EARLY RICKETS

Mrs. C. T. S. writes: "My boy is 15 months old and walked well at one year, but now he is bowlegged. Can anything be done about it? Do you suppose he lacks lime? How much lime water does he need and how much cod liver oil?

"How much vegetables should a child eat? He eats two saucerfuls at a meal. He has only four teeth and another about through.

"My mother shakes her head and thinks I should take him to a doctor but my 6-year-old outgrew bowlegs; they are now as straight as they can be."

Answer: Your mother is right. You should take the boy to a doctor and have him examined for rickets. The best source of lime is cow's milk and vegetables and whole-grain cereals. In order that the body make the best use of this lime in the food, cod liver oil is given during the winter months, when we have little sunlight. During the summer the sun on the bare skin acts chemically to help the body assimilate the lime in the food. Lime water is not necessary at all.

Perhaps your boy is trying to make up the deficit in his body by eating quantities of vegetables. Does he get a pint to a quart of milk a day? He should. Also sunbaths now. It does happen that some children outgrow bowlegs, but the fact that there are bow-legged persons in the world should make it plain that all do not, and one should take some measures to help things along. Of course, the best procedure is to correct the diet, give cod liver oil if the doctor thinks it necessary, and the sunbaths. I believe at this age this is about all that will be necessary. You may have our diet leaflet and a leaflet on sunshine for the usual self-addressed, stamped envelope.

BABY MAKES CLUCKING NOISES WHEN ASLEEP

Mrs. C. G. G.: These would seem to me to be purely evidences of nervousness and that is the thing to eradicate. Try and discover what is making the child nervous. Also avoid making any mention of this habit to the child, tell her that she doesn't do it as much any more and thus prevent her thinking about it. I do not think it serious.

Mrs. S. G.: The average child says five or six words at 1 year and also walks between 12 and 14 months. The child who walks early would likewise be apt to talk early, these activities going hand in hand.

ACTION DUE ON GRIMES CASE TODAY

Fitts Will Decide Whether He Will Drop Accusations or Force Third Trial

Dist.-Atty. Fitts announced yesterday that he will decide today whether he will dismiss the cases against Mrs. Callie Grimes and several codefendants, tried twice without the jury reaching a verdict on charges of "framing" Councilman Jacobson.

Recommendations for dismissals have been made by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Dennison and Bush, who conducted the two trials, it has been learned.

In the event that the District Attorney does not order the dismissals, a new trial date is scheduled to be set when the five defendants appear in court tomorrow. Besides Mrs. Grimes, the other defendants include Police Officer Cox and Police Detective Lucas, Raymond and Wallis.

A voluntary appearance before the county grand jury today is expected to be made by Councilman Jacobson in connection with the asserted perjury plot charges in which he was named by Attorney Daze, counsel for Mrs. Grimes. Appearing before the grand jury last Friday, Daze is asserted to have refused to reveal details of his charges.

Mother-in-Law Aids in Divorce From Daughter

Mrs. Harry Bernard, mother-in-law of Henry P. Albrecht, assisted him in getting a divorce from her daughter, Mrs. Pearl M. Albrecht, in the court of Superior Judge Archbald yesterday.

Mrs. Bernard, testifying for her son-in-law, told the court she thought Albrecht was too good for her daughter.

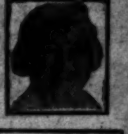
The husband testified that his wife frequently left the home in the evening and remained out late, after which she admitted to him she had been in company with other men; that when he remonstrated she told him it was none of his business what she did.

After hearing the testimony of the mother-in-law and the husband, Judge Archbald granted the decree.

GOVERNMENT SITE ON WALL STREET PASSES

The "40 Wall Street Corporation" owned by an investment syndicate headed by George L. Ohrstrom, was the successful bidder yesterday for the United States Assay office site and building adjoining its property on Wall street. The company will erect an addition to its skyscraper now under construction on the neighboring site.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES



Every Tuesday and Friday at 3 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

NESSELRODE PUDDING

Boil together three cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of water until the syrup will spin a thread, beat the yolks of six eggs until light and creamy and slowly beat into it the boiling syrup, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the six eggs; dissolve two tablespoonfuls of gelatine in one-fourth cupful of water and add it to the hot mixture; take one cupful of raisins, place in a saucepan and cover with sherry wine flavoring and cook until the raisins are plump, about five minutes. Add one cupful of crushed macaroon crumbs, combine the two mixtures and add to the mixture sufficient stiffly whipped cream to make one gallon, pack in ice and salt, or place in the trays of your refrigerator and freeze.

SALMON SALAD

Take one large can of red salmon, open and allow to stand in the ice box for one hour, remove all the skin and bones, drain well, flake the fish, and add to it an equal quantity of shredded lettuce, two coarsely chopped hard-boiled eggs, and one medium-sized sour pickle chopped fine, twelve chopped green olives, mix all together and garnish with a salmon mayonnaise, sprinkling with chopped capers and grated egg yolk.

SALMON MAYONNAISE

Rub the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs, to a fine powder, then add to them eight tablespoonfuls of cream, a seasoning of white pepper and salt, add two tablespoonfuls of white vinegar, adding it drop by drop and beating it well, so that the mixture will not curdle.

RASPBERRY SHERBET

Place four cupfuls of raspberries in a bowl and sprinkle over them one cupful of granulated sugar, let stand for several hours, place in a jelly bag and allow to drain; squeeze out all the juice and moisten the pulp with three-quarters of a cupful of hot water, squeezing again; repeat the process with an equal amount of hot water, dissolve in the juice one-half cupful of sugar, to which has been added two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, place in a freezer and freeze to a mush, take one cup of crushed and sifted macaroon crumbs, and stir into the frozen mixture, mix well, and continue to freeze; serve in sherbet glasses, garnished with whipped cream. Finely ground pecan nuts may be substituted.

DAVIS TRIAL CONTINUED FOR WEEK

Former Chief Assistant of Keyes Faces Charge of Accepting $7500 Bribe

Trial of Harold L. "Buddy" Davis, former chief deputy District Attorney under Asa Keyes, who is accused of accepting a bribe in connection with the prosecution of the Julian cases, yesterday was continued to July 1 by Superior Judge Dilson.

The delay was occasioned by the fact that Paul D'Orr, attorney for Davis, is engaged in another case. The indictment against Davis accuses him of accepting $7500 to "direct and control" the Julian case prosecution in such a manner that a favorable verdict would be returned for one of the defendants.

BROWN FLIES EAST WITH BANK LETTER

Francis W. Brown, general manager of the Los Angeles office of the Coast Banker, left yesterday on the initial flight of the Transcontinental Air Transport, carrying a letter to Albert H. Wiggin, chairman of the board of directors, Chase National Bank, New York, from A. J. Mount, senior vice-president, Bank of Italy, and president of the California Bankers' Association, inviting Mr. Wiggin to attend the national convention of the bankers' association to be held in San Francisco, September 30 to October 3, inclusive. Mr. Brown expects to deliver this letter forty-eight hours after leaving Los Angeles.

JUDGE REFUSES NIX PLEA

der our law it is to present evidence.

The first of these facts was that a Mr. S. C. Lewis knew a Mr. Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, before either of these men entered this community and that they had some dealings in the promotion of oil wells and similar ventures and that Berman or Bennett, as he variously called himself, had obtained funds for Lewis in various ways for Lewis's ventures.

Mr. Lewis came to this community, procured an interest in the Julian Petroleum Corporation and then sent for Bennett.

The work of Bennett was briefly testified to by Lewis in the recent case of People vs. Rothman substantially as follows:

"I employed him to borrow money in Los Angeles and elsewhere and to protect the stock of the Julian Petroleum Corporation on the market."

Mr. Lewis did not reveal the specific manner in which Bennett was instructed to do the above things or the manner in which he actually did do them.

QUOTES TESTIMONY

Mr. Lewis frequently claimed his constitutional exemption which in substance is nothing more than that the law will not require an answer from a witness if a truthful answer would tend to incriminate him on any charge which is triable in the courts.

Mr. Bennett upon the witness stand testified that after arriving in Los Angeles and entering upon his work for Lewis was able to obtain in various manners more than $100,000,000.

He testified that he borrowed money here and elsewhere.

When asked in what manner he had borrowed money he replied:

"I claim my constitutional right. I refuse to answer."

When asked further questions by the court to determine his position he stated:

"I refuse to answer upon the ground that my answer would tend to incriminate me on the charge of conspiracy to commit the crime of usury upon which the statute of limitations has not run."

One other witness was called, a member of the bar, who, when asked if he were present at any time and place when there was present among others Mr. Lewis and Mr. Bennett at which time and place any suggestion was made as to the manner in which Bennett was to obtain money, replied that he refused to answer on the ground that his answer would tend to incriminate him.

Whether other witnesses exist who might supply the evidence necessary to prove the nature of Bennett and Lewis's work this court has no knowledge, the court being confined to evidence brought out in the trials which have occurred to date.

In a transaction of such vast magnitude, extending over such a long period of time, in which a great number of persons took part, it does not appear to the court that the evidence could not be produced in court.

The motion by the City Prosecutor does not set forth any legal grounds for dismissal.

The court believes that it is reasonable to anticipate some difficulties in the presentation and hearing of the evidence in view of the facts that the cases were first filed under the fictitious names of "John Doe" each of the more than 100 cases being designated in the same manner then about a year and five months elapsed in which they remained dormant, and then they were called by the prosecuting officer for trial.

It is the duty, however, of the Municipal Court to hear fairly and impartially every case brought before it.

This court desires to proceed with its manifest duty.

The motion to dismiss will be denied and it is so ordered.

The Julian usury cases now in the Municipal Courts, originally 143 in number, were filed in 1927, when Municipal Judge Lickley was City Prosecutor. Nix, who was appointed in January, last, recently took action, according to his statement to the court, that "in fairness to all parties these cases be brought to tial at once to determine the issue involved, to-wit: whether or not there was usury in the transaction. I felt that the calendars of my office and the court should be cleared of these cases for all time, either by convictions or acquittals."

Seven of the 143 cases have been disposed of, Judge Pope declaring yesterday that one against Hallam Cooley is not a usury case. Four defendants have been acquitted following their trial before Judge Pope, Meyer Brown, Lewis Rothman, C. C. Streeter and Harry M. Haldeman, the last by a jury. S. M. Benson pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Bogue and was fined $500 after he showed that he had made restitution to the Julian receivers of the amount he was accused of accepting, and Raburn Eberts, who also pleaded guilty before Judge Bogue, now is serving a ninety-day sentence in jail.

Judge Pope's decision was followed by several questions from Nix. The court answered affirmatively his query as to whether each of the 136 remaining cases should be tried separately, and the prosecutor then declared that he is "willing to present all of the evidence we have at our command in each case," and referred to the difficulty of obtaining additional evidence in cases filed more than a year ago. "I appreciate the trouble you had going into office with such a tremendous volume of cases of this sort," the court said, "but we are, nevertheless, going through with these cases."

MONEY APPROPRIATED

A total of $25,000 was appropriated by the City Council several months ago to cover the expenses of the prosecution of the 143 Julian usury complaints which Nix found in his office when he became City Prosecutor last January. This was in addition to $10,000 appropriated by the Council more than a year ago, when Municipal Judge Lickley was City Prosecutor, for the purpose of making the necessary investigations upon which the prosecution of the complaints was to be based.

When Nix asked the Council for the $25,000 appropriation, he informed that body that the original $10,000 appropriation had been nearly exhausted. Several of the Councilmen, notably Hall and Albert, were loathe to grant Nix the additional money until he could give the Council some assurance that the complaints could be successfully prosecuted.

As a majority of the Council's Finance Committee, these two Councilmen recommended that Nix be granted only $5000 with which to cover the expenses of one test case and that any additional appropriation be held up until success in the first prosecution should indicate a likelihood of obtaining convictions on the other complaints. The Council adopted this recommendation, but not long after that Nix appeared before the Council again and pleaded for the additional $20,000, asserting the progress already made on several cases he had started was a sufficient guarantee of the sort the Council had demanded.

The Council granted the additional $20,000, and with the money Nix retained a staff of eight special prosecutors, headed by William J. Clark and Hugh M. Foster. The former received $200 a day for trial work and $100 a day for preparatory work; the latter received $150 a day in court and $100 a day for preparatory work; the other six were to receive $100 a day in court.

GEISTWEIT TO ASSUME PASTORATE

Dayton Preacher Coming Here to Become Interim Minister for Baptists

Dr. W. H. Geistweit has resigned the pastorate of the First Baptist Church at Dayton, O., to become interim pastor of the First Baptist Church of Los Angeles, and will begin his work here the first Sunday in September, according to a message received yesterday by First Baptist Church officials.

Assuming the position to be left vacant by Dr. Norman B. Henderson, who will leave First Baptist Church August 31, to become pastor of First Congregational Church at Fresno, Dr. Geistweit will attend to his new pastoral duties for three or four months. Dr. Geistweit informed the board of deacons and pulpit committee, however, that he is retiring from the ministry to live in Southern California and will not consider accepting the permanent pastorate of the First Baptist or any other church.

Ordained at Camden, N. J., Dr. Geistweit has conducted successful pastorates at Minneapolis, St. Louis, Galesburg, Ill., Chicago, and San Diego. He was guest preacher at First Baptist Church here last August.

CITY HEALTH COMMISSION WILL MEET

Special Session Called for This Afternoon as Wilkie Reaches Home

With the return of Commissioner Wilkie from Honolulu yesterday, where he went with the Shriners, the City Health Commission will hold its first session since before the Shrine convention this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, instead of waiting until Friday, the weekly meeting period.

During the absence of Commissioner Wilkie, other commissioners have been out of town, leaving the board without a quorum. Commissioner Goode, the most recent appointee to the board, whose term expires on the 30th inst., is in Boston, where it is reported he plans to reside.

It is probable that the matter of the charges brought against Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, accused of allowing his department to become politically active in the recent campaign, against Councilman Foster, chairman of the Health and Sanitation Committee, may be gone into at the meeting. The charges were made before the recent election, when Foster was defeated at the polls by Thomas W. Williams, slated to become chairman of the committee.

Pancima was thrown clear of the wreckage and was unhurt. Policeman John Elliott of the Hollywood station, who was standing near the gate, barely got out of the way of the truck as it overturned. The street car was sideswiped in the wild dash of the truck and trailer and knocked off the tracks.

Capt. McCaleb of Hollywood sent out reserves. It was long past midnight before the pass could be cleared of the wrecked cars so that traffic could be resumed.

Doctors' Trial in Girl Death Case Delayed

Due to the temporary absence of State witnesses trial of Dr. R. S. Lanterman, former County Coroner, and Dr. P. S. Traxler, Glendale physician, charged with having caused the death of Delphine Walsh, young dancer of Hollywood, yesterday was set for August 26, next.

The two doctors are asserted to have performed an illegal operation on Miss Walsh from which she died last May.

Story of Blows Gains Divorce

After Victor Pardi mistreated his wife and she had to go to a hospital, he made the remark that the next time they carried her from the house it would not be to a hospital, but to the cemetery, Mrs. Fanny Pardi told Superior Judge Wilson yesterday when asking for a divorce.

A decree was granted the wife. She also was given the custody of four minor children and allowed $40 a month for their support.

ZONE HEARING MEETS DELAY

New Ordinance Will be Discussed July 15

Councilman Lewis Stirs Storm of Objection

Restrictions Declared Too Rigid Already

The hearing on the proposed new zoning ordinance scheduled to be held by the Planning Committee of the City Council yesterday was postponed until July 15, next, to give the Los Angeles Realty Board, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and others more time in which to study the suggested measure. But before the postponement requests were all in and the order for the continuation was made the proceedings were enlivened with an attack by Councilman Lewis of the Eighth District on zoning in general that made every one present sit up and take notice. Mr. Lewis broke a silence on his part while City Planner Whitnall was explaining the proposed ordinance, to pour a broadside into the whole theory of zoning.

"TOO MUCH ZONING"

Mr. Whitnall had just finished declaring to the committee that "your problem is to consider a cohesive act," his argument being that it is not advantageous to consider the proposed measure piecemeal, or try to adopt it section by section.

"Too much of this zoning must not be imposed on the people," retorted Mr. Lewis. "It is too socialistic. It's getting too technical. Why, it's getting so a person has no right to exist on earth. The property owner is getting regulated so much he has nothing left to regulate."

To the Councilman's criticisms of the proposed ordinance as too inclusive, Mr. Whitnall interpolated the question, "What would you cut out?"

"I'd cut it all out," was the retort of the Councilman. "If this thing goes through I'd want to move out of the city myself."

Mr. Whitnall replied that the purpose of the hearing is to determine exactly what is feasible, or is wanted.

"Some zoning is all right," quoth Mr. Lewis, "but it shouldn't be carried too far."

MORE TIME ASKED

George H. Coffin, speaking for the realty board committee which is studying the measure, asked for more time in order to make possible a thorough analysis of it by the committee.

S. H. Woodruff said sufficient time has not been given to study a measure that had come from the printer only last Saturday.

S. F. Macfarland, representing the Downtown Business Men's Association, said that organization is interested in the protection of the downtown business area against undue encroachment by manufacturers. "Time is the essence of our situation," said Mr. Macfarland.

There was general agreement that postponement of the hearing until July 15 would be satisfactory.

One of the suggestions offered yesterday pertained to provision by the proposed ordinance regarding activities in furtherance of religious work.

Mr. and Mrs. Mapel's train will arrive at 6:35 a.m. and they will board the Volunteer for an early morning trip to Los Angeles.

Lieut. Karl Lange and his copilot, Lieut. Bud Campbell, expect to set the blimp down at the Goodyear factory field at 8:30 a.m.

E. A. Thomas, vice-president of Goodyear of California, will make the trip to San Bernardino to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Mapel.

ENDURANCE PLANE AGAIN HAS TO WAIT

Refueling Ship Can't Keep Down Its Speed Enough to Permit Contacts

Variance in speed between their refueling plane and the Cessna monoplane which Pilots Leo Nomis and Maurie Morrison plan to take aloft from the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport in an attempt to hang up a new endurance record caused the flyers to postpone their scheduled take-off late yesterday.

The Buhl Airsedan which was to have dropped the refueling hose to the smaller Cessna could not be throttled down by its crew, Earl Gordon and Roy T. Minor, to insure satisfactory contacts.

Pilots of both ships said plans for the contacts may be changed. Either another ship will be used instead of the Buhl or its speed will be kept down so that it will not run away from the Cessna during gasoline contacts.

Time of the endurance take-off was set tentatively at late tomorrow.

WOMAN OUT FOR AIR-RAIL SPEED MARK

Writer Trying to Make New York-Los Angeles Round Trip in Four Days

Attempting to establish a record for the fastest round trip between New York City and Los Angeles ever made on regularly established passenger lines, Miss Uarda McCarty left New York City last night at 11:20 o'clock and expects to be back at her office in the eastern metropolis Saturday morning. She is due to arrive in Los Angeles Wednesday evening and start the return trip eastward Thursday morning.

If the schedule is adhered to, Miss McCarty will have been absent from New York four working days —Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Practically half the journey will have been made by train, the balance by airplane.

Miss McCarty, a newspaper writer, left New York City on a New York Central train. At Chicago she is to connect with a Chicago and Alton train. She is due to arrive at Kansas City at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning and leave at 8:30 on the regular Western Air Express plane for Los Angeles, arriving here that evening.

On her return trip Miss McCarty is to go by Western Air Express, to Kansas City, arriving Thursday evening in time to catch the Santa Fe's Grand Canyon Limited.

The trip has been sponsored by the New York Daily Mirror and has the sanction of Mayor Walker, who is sending a letter to Mayor Cryer.

De Soto Dealers Hear Eastern Sales Manager

War in the automobile industry will not take place in the large manufacturing centers nor in Wall street, but in the cities and small towns throughout the nation, where retail sales are made. Thus did L. G. Peed, general sales manager of the De Soto division of Chrysler Motors, dismiss the subject of gigantic forces fighting for monopoly when he addressed more than 100 De Soto dealers and their executives in the Biltmore yesterday.

Peed was introduced by A. L. McMeans, district factory representative with headquarters in San Francisco. The banquet was arranged by William E. Bush, Inc., local De Soto dealers.

In speaking of monopolies, Peed said, "there can never be a monopoly in any major industry until it becomes possible to monopolize all of the brains in the country." He pointed to the outstanding names of the sport world of a decade ago and showed how they had been supplanted by new champions. Then he called attention to the names which meant much in the automobile industry a few years ago, mentioning Pope, Maxwell, Winton, Haynes and Apperson and showed how they had been outdistanced by the new names of Chrysler, Nash, Sloan, Durant, etc.

"Between 8,000,000 and 11,000,000 cars will change hands this year," he said, "and only 4,500,000 of these will be new cars, so it behooves every dealer to fall in love with his used-car department."

Mr. Peed arrived in Los Angeles by airplane after conducting a similar meeting in San Francisco. He will go to Texas from here and after making a complete circuit of the United States, return to Detroit.

HE'LL MAKE FLYING TRIP

Hurriedly summoned east on a business mission, Herbert H. Wilson, vice-president of B. H. Dyas Company, will depart this morning on the Western Air Express plane. Mr. Wilson received a long-distance call from Bernal Dyas in New York, requesting that he be in the eastern metropolis by Thursday. Air and rail connections of Western Air Express and affiliated railroads will enable him to do so, it is stated.

ARIZONA RIVER STAND DERIDED

Irrigation Lawyer Shows Up Fight on Colorado

No Right to Water Long Left Unused, He Asserts

States Society's Speaker Shows Law on Issue

Arizona, in withholding her approval of the seven-State compact concerning the Boulder dam, is contending for rights she does not possess, Charles A. Ballreich told members of the States Society at a luncheon yesterday.

"State lines in no way affect the Constitutional laws governing the rights to appropriate water from public streams for beneficial purposes," he asserted, citing several Supreme Court rulings to substantiate his contentions.

Mr. Ballreich, who is an attorney and a well-known authority on Constitutional and interstate laws concerning irrigation water rights, analyzed the purpose and intent of the seven-State compact and particularly Arizona's rights thereunder.

RULING CITED

The first of the Supreme Court rulings cited by Mr. Ballreich was that of the State of Kansas versus Colorado to restrain the latter from appropriating water from the Arkansas River, and a subsequent suit that arose when Kansas lost on the grounds that she had not sustained damages.

In this ruling, which was made by the courts in 1902, the priority rights to appropriate waters from public streams was invested in those first to apply, the attorney showed.

The subsequent suit was brought by purchasers of a defunct irrigation enterprise that had appropriated waters from the Arkansas in a project launched in 1882 and applied them until 1896 when the concern failed. In this suit every irrigation project in Colorado using waters from the Arkansas was made a defendant and properties valued at more than $45,000,000 affected.

It finally was settled, the attorney said, on a ruling that the priority rights held by the original irrigation enterprise had stopped when the concern failed and use of the Arkansas waters was discontinued by the farmers.

WOULD HAVE WON

"Otherwise," Mr. Ballreich asserted, "the Kansas group would have won their case notwithstanding that the Arkansas River rises in Colorado."

This and other cases, the lawyer contended, "prove that Arizona's claims are without foundation because as yet, she has not made use of the waters she is contending for and therefore, can cite no damages."

Another angle to the Boulder dam situation arose in a discussion following Mr. Ballreich's talk and the question was brought up as to whether the municipality of Los Angeles is legally empowered to execute a valid contract with the Department of Interior to use the power generated at the dam.

"If not, steps should be taken immediately to assure such legislative authority as may be necessary," the speaker said.

"Southern California has her back to the wall as far as an adequate supply of water is concerned, and therefore, must take such steps to obtain the Colorado supply," he added.

OIL SUIT SEEKS MILLIONS

Asserted Elwood Field Discoverers Maintain Release of Interest Obtained by Fraud

A court fight for millions of dollars arising out of oil-field transactions was begun here yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich at the trial of an action brought against the Rio Grande Oil Company, Reservoir Oil Company, Barnsdall Oil Company, F. H. Etheridge and others by Warren Deuel and C. K. Cole, oil men.

The suit asks for recission of a release agreement, the enforcement of a contract involving 200 acres of land in the Elwood field at Santa Barbara, an accounting and damages in excess of $2,500,000. A battery of fourteen lawyers is trying the case.

TIP-OFF ASSERTED

An intervenor, Walter J. Barnhardt, oil speculator, through his attorney, Harry McNutt, appears in the suit seeking one-half of what Deuel makes, should he win the suit, on the grounds that he gave to Deuel the information which resulted in his dealings with the defendant companies.

The taking of testimony will begin today. It is expected that the trial of the action will last two weeks.

LOCATED OIL LANDS

Deuel and Cole, through their attorneys, Campbell & Nichols, Frankley & Spray and Michael Lavelle, assert that in 1927 they located valuable oil lands in the vicinity of Santa Barbara, now known as the Elwood field.

The plaintiffs further assert that Deuel made an agreement with the defendants whereby he was to lease 1000 acres of land. Of this amount Deuel was to get 100 acres and half of the profits derived from the lease on another 100 acres. The oil companie were to finance the deal. Cole later aligned himself with Deuel and now has a seven-sixteenths interest in Deuel's lawsuit.

Deuel and Cole go on to contend that a well was drilled by the defendant companies; that later the companies came to them and informed them that the well was a "duster," dry, and would probably be abandoned. As a result of this representation, Deuel asserts, he signed a release agreement for the sum of $2500. He asserts that the release was obtained by false representation, as after he signed the release the well was uncapped, brought in and is now producing large quantities of high-gravity oil.

Deuel asks that the release be set aside, that an accounting be made; that damages in excess of $2,500,000 be paid him and Cole and that his former contract with the companies be made valid. It is asserted that the field the fight is being waged over is worth more than $200,000,000.

COMPANIES' SIDE

The defendants, represented by Attorneys William Bowen, H. L. Dunnigan, Flint & MacKay and Smiley, Hogan & Spicer, deny the accusations of the plaintiffs. They hold that though Deuel made an agreement with the companies he never carried it out; that he went out for himself, working in competition against the companies, making oil leases. They also hold that F. H. Etheridge, named as one of the defendants in the suit, asserted to have drawn up the agreement, had no right or authority to make an agreement with Deuel. They also assert that the oil land involved is nowhere near the value placed upon it by the plaintiffs.

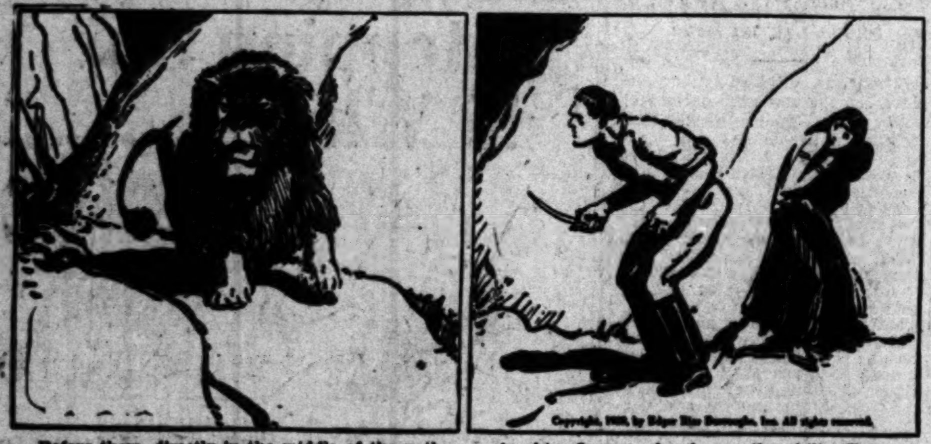
THE RETURN OF TARZAN

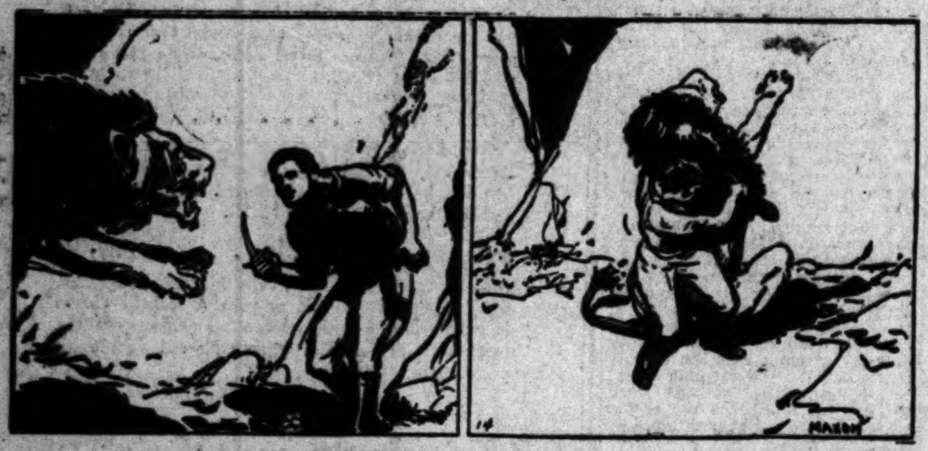
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

Before them, directly in the middle of the path, stood "El Adrea," the black lion. His green eyes looked very wicked as he bared his teeth and lashed his sides with his angry tail. Then he roared—that terror-inspiring roar of the hungry lion. "Your knife," said Tarzan to the girl. "Quick."

As his fingers closed on the hilt, Tarzan pushed the girl behind him, bidding her flee. "It is useless," she replied resignedly. "This is the end!" Now the ape-man stood, half crouching. The long Arab knife glistened in the moonlight. The lion sprang. Agile and lightning-quick, Tarzan leaped aside.



Amazed, the watching girl was transfixed at the ease with which Tarzan eluded the great paws. And now—Oh, Allah!—he had rushed behind "El Adrea's" shoulder and grasped it by the mane, before the lion could even turn! The great beast reared upon its hind legs. Tarzan knew it would do this—and was ready!

A giant arm encircled the black-maned throat. A dozen times a sharp blade darted in and out behind its shoulder. When Tarzan of the Apes at last released his hold and arose, the lion was dead. Then the daughter of the desert witnessed a thing that terrified her even more than the presence of "El Adrea."

BILL TILDEN.

Big Bill Telden, the ace of Uncle Sam's invaders, danced through a straight set victory, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2, with H. V. S. Dillon of Ireland, who set the pace for his fellow-countrymen, and all but E. G. Chandler, intercollegiate champion in 1925 and 1926, while attending California, followed suit. Chandler lost to the hard-hitting Texan, Wilmer Allison, who succeeded him as intercollegiate titleholder in 1927. Qualifying for the sound round along with Tilden and Allison were Francis T. Hunter, George Lott, John Hennessey, Wilbur Coen and Johnny Van Ryn.

Tilden's session against the Irishman served to give the lanky American the pace of the center court on

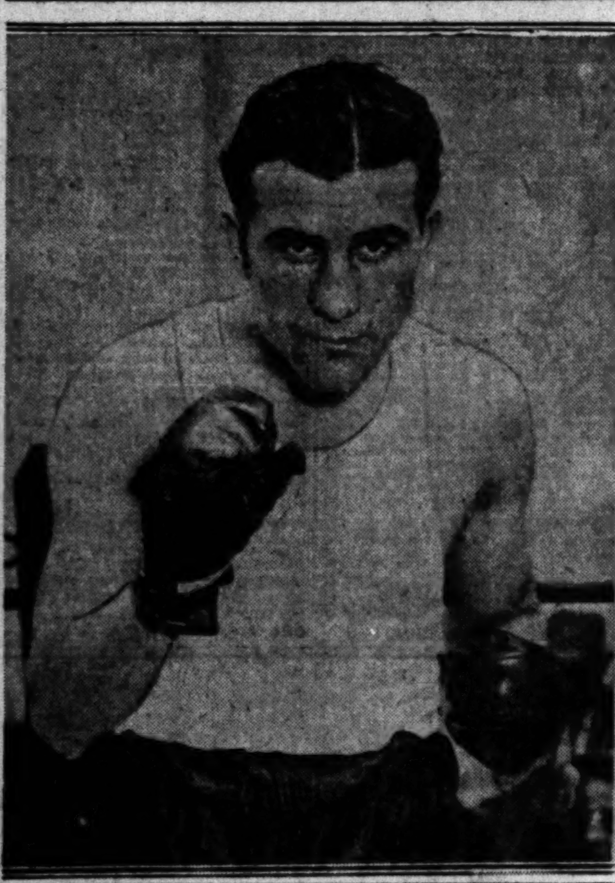
AFTER NEW LAURELS

Here's Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion, who meets Earl Mastro of Chicago in the ten-round main event at the Olympic tonight. Having campaigned in the bantamweight division for some time, Fidel is now moving up into the featherweight class, where he eventually hopes to win his second championship.



STARS TRAVEL AT FAST CLIP

Fighting Spirit of Players Makes Bill Lane's Club Popular With Fans; La Barba Before Boxing Bugs After Absence; Houser Not Going East

BY BRAVEN DYER

If you like baseball as played by two hustling, fighting ball clubs don't miss this week's series between Hollywood and Mission at Wrigley Field. Oscar Vitt and Red Killefer are two of the three best managers in the Coast League and their clubs are always in there battling for every run, win or lose.

When the Stars copped Sunday's double-header from the Angels to make it six out of seven for the series Old Bill Lane could be seen chuckling quietly to himself down in his box back of first base. It's been a long time since the Stars took a series from their local foes, but when they got around to it they did things up right.

"We'll travel from now on," was Lane's comment after the second Sunday game. "The addition of Funk and the improved hitting of other players is just what we needed." Hollywood has won eleven out of its last fifteen games.

Funk, by the way, is hitting .388, a mighty fine average. He's a typical Hollywood type of ball player, fast, aggressive and full of fight.

One reason why the Stars are popular is because they typify the battling spirit of Bill Lane and the hustling fight of Manager Vitt. Oscar has confidence in his players and they in turn are aware that he knows his horsehides.

With this Mission series coming up we are reminded of what Hollywood did to Red Killefer's gang one week last season. It was in San Francisco during the month of August that Vitt's boys took seven straight from the Reds. This was something of a feat in itself, inasmuch as Killefer, at the time, had six players hitting better than .300. But the most sensational part of the seven victories was that Vitt used only six pitchers and that each hurler finished his own game, not a single man being removed from the box. Two of the games were ten-inning affairs. The double win on the final day of the series was accomplished by scores of 4 to 1, the Stars scoring three runs in the ninth inning of each contest.

Baseball is a funny game. In that series Vitt used only six pitchers in seven contests. Sunday Oscar had six hurlers on the mound in the seven-inning nightcap, against the Angels, but Hollywood won. That's the way with Vitt—he's always doing something. He may not make the right move—every time, but you can count on the Sheik pilot giving you some action when you pay your six bits at the gate.

Gordon Rhodes and Johnny Couch are gone from that staff of hurlers who subdued the Missions last season, but Lefty Johns and Buzz Wetzel have taken their places.

Fidel La Barba makes his first start here in several months tonight when he goes against Earl Mastro at the Olympic. As a result the Grand-avenue arena will enjoy a big evening. The writer has heard a lot about Mastro but will be content to string along with La Barba. This, of course, will be very distressing news to Mastro, who has only a few thousand backers of his own.

Fidel is one of the strongest

Winner to Get Chicago Bout With Chocolate

Miller and Murphy Tangle in Semi-Wind-up

BY KAY OWE

Promoter Jack Doyle takes the blankets off two of the best-looking little fighters in the country tonight at the Olympic when Fidel La Barba and Earl Mastro clash at 123 pounds.

EARL MASTRO.

The boys will weigh today at 2 o'clock, probably in the offices of Jim Woods. The referee has not been named yet, but probably will be at the weighing.

Unless there are "breaks" along the line of march, tonight's fight will be a driving, close finish. The referee may be in a tough spot.

Young Mastro has improved so much since he fought Fidel a year ago that it looks like a hairline pick.

It is La Barba's first start here since he went to Australia and knocked out two of four opponents.

FOUGHT CHOCOLATE

The former flyweight champion became further "heated up" when he battled Kid Chocolate. Although La Barba and Chocolate fought in New York, folks in California followed it closely.

The winner of tonight's fight will box Chocolate in Chicago with Jack Dempsey as the promoter. Dempsey announced yesterday he had practically closed with both fighters with the "win" proviso.

Dempsey will be the guest of Promoter Doyle. Manassa Jack is a matchmaker for the Chicago Coliseum now and he attends fights from a different angle than he once did.

While the match looks more like a boxing classic on paper, both

HAVERFORD (Pa.) June 24. (AP) Donald Cram of Vanderbilt University, who, as the son of a Methodist missionary, learned to play tennis in Korea, pushed himself to the center of the stage in the intercollegiate tennis championships today. He defeated Bradshaw Harrison, of the University of Oregon, who was seeded No. 7, and considered the dark horse champion of the 107 who started competition.

BEN GORCHAKOFF

In a tournament last week Harrison upset Julius Seligson of Lehigh University, the defending champion, in straight sets, but today Seligson rode over two opponents, landing safely in the third round, while Harrison was left by the wayside.

PARE WINNER

The other designated favorites moved ahead unmolested with Emmett Pare of Georgetown University, seeded No. 3, setting the pace by resting in the fourth round as a result of two victories.

John Doeg of Stanford, seeded No. 2, won a three-set match from Bruce Barnes of the University of Texas, 6-3, 1-6, 6-1. Berkeley Bell of the University of Texas, brushed by two opponents to land in the third round. Gregory Mangin of Georgetown, elbowed by a first and second-round opponent, while Benjamin Gorchakoff of Occidental College, seeded No. 6, and runner-up last year, defeated Cadet John T. Helms, of the Army, and Isadore Brodsky, of Dickinson, without dropping a game to end the day in the third round.

The four Oxford and Cambridge players were victorious in their early matches. Paul De Ricou, Oxford, defeated J. I. Wolfe of Penn

Lions Win Intercollegiate Regatta on Hudson River as Golden Bears and Three Others Are Swamped

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 24. (AP)—Riding the crest of the roughest water in the thirty-four years of regatta history, Columbia's great varsity crew swept to smashing victory in the gathering dusk tonight to win the intercollegiate championship of the United States for the second time in three years.

In a race which saw the dope knocked overboard by the antics of old man river, the Columbians rowed to a decisive victory by three lengths over a surprising University of Washington boat as disaster overtook California, the world's champions of 1928, and three other crews.

Only five of the record fleet of nine shells that went to the starting line in semidarkness weathered the rough and rugged race over the full route of four miles. California, co-favorite with Columbia and the defending champions, swamped a half-mile from the finishs after failing to be a contender at any stage of the long pull.

California, fighting a losing battle all the way, passed out of the stormy picture after Massachusetts Tech in its first start had swamped near the two-mile mark and after Syracuse, an early contender, sank to the level of the river, just after passing the bridge and the three-mile mark. As a climax, Cornell, another favorite, was forced out of the race in the last half-mile as its shell broke under the heavy weight of water shipped on the way down.

Columbia, meanwhile rowed on magnificently to win over any and

Secretaries Seek to Patch Up Differences

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—West Point and Annapolis may meet again on the football field next fall as a result of negotiations now under way between Secretary Good and Secretary Adams to end the two-year suspension of athletic relations between the two academies over the eligibility rule.

Secretary Good announced today that he is now conferring with Secretary Adams with a view to re-establishing the relations which were broken off after the 1927 game.

Citing that both of the academies have completed their gridiron schedules for the next three years, Mr. Good declared that a contest next fall would have to be played in all probability outside the regular schedule inasmuch as neither PHILADELPHIA, June 24. (AP)—The Athletics increased their lead over the Yankees to nine games today by winning a close decision from the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4, while the New Yorkers were idle. Eddie Rommell won his own game in the eighth inning when he broke a 4-4 tie with a long double that scored Joe Boley from first base.

A double play with full bases in the ninth inning saved the day for the Athletics after Rommell had weakened and Shores was called to the rescue. Rommell got credit for his seventh straight victory of the season with no defeat. Score:

GIANTS RAGGED

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—Brooklyn won its second game from the Giants in two days and its fourth in successive meetings today by trouncing New York, 5 to 2, in the opener of their series at the Polo Grounds.

The Giants played a slipshod game while William Watson Clark held them to six hits in the first seven innings, one of which was a homer by Lindstrom which gave New York its only runs. Score:

fighters in the world at his weight. Now that he does not have to train down to a fine point he will be harder to beat than ever. The poundage tonight is 123 pounds, which is the heaviest Fidel has ever weighed for a bout.

George Blake will be in Fidel's corner as usual and although you never see George waving his hands or trying to signal his fighter you can bet his presence there means a lot. Fidel alone is hard enough to lick but when you back the ex-Stanford puncher up with a boxing instructor of Blake's caliber you have a combination which spells class with capital letters.

Mastro's lone defeat during his professional career was received at the hands of La Barba here last August. Since then both boys have improved and some say that the Chicago youth has gone ahead so rapidly that Fidel will be lucky to avoid being slapped into a horizontal position this evening.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club track and field team goes east this week-end minus the services of Bud Houser, Olympic Games discus champion. Bud finds that his dental business keeps him so busy that he has not time enough to train properly.

Houser has had a remarkable athletic career. He won his first national A.A.U. championship at Pasadena in 1921 when still a high school boy at Oxnard Bud took the senior shot that year and also won the junior discus crown. Since then he has missed the nationals only twice, once in 1924 and again in 1927. In 1924 he won the Olympic Games shot and discus titles and the nationals, held back East following the return from abroad, where an anti-climaxs to the Paris event. Bud gave up the shot following the 1926 nationals after winning the discus and placing third in the former event.

Unless Ed Moeller decides to accompany the Mercuries to Denver this week-end, the L. A. A. C. team will feel Houser's loss rather keenly. Harlow Rothert may join the squad, which would be a big help and give the Mercuries the three leading shot putters in the country, John Kuck and Herman Brix being the other two.

MERCURY CLUB SELECTS TEAM

Robert Hall, Manley Edwards.

Javelin throw — James De Mers, Jess Mortensen, Viano Hoover, Tom Yancy.

Fifty-six-pound weight—Alma Richards, Harry Bowman.

Relay teams for the 440, 880, one-mile and two-mile events will be selected from the above men.

Aside from John Kuck. Jimmy De Mers and Viano Hoover, the party will leave Saturday. Kuck, De Mers and Hoover will join the team at Denver. The team will be accompanied by Leslie A. Henry, national track chairman; Coaches Dean Cromwell and Tommy Davis, Athletic Director Charley Keppen and Hugh Pinney.

Twenty-one men will compete in the junior meet, but will enter the senior championships as well when the Mercuries will defend the title won at Boston last summer.

Defi Hurled by Forgione

The winner of the Bert Colima-Everett Strong main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night has been challenged by Vincent Forgione, the Philadelphia Italian, who beat Homer Sheridan Friday night. Billy Uvick, representing Strong, has agreed to let his man meet Forgione, but Dutch Meyers is silent.

The Hollywood main eventers should furnish a good fight as they met recently and Strong floored Colima several times. Colima claimed a foul on the last knockdown, and Strong claims he duped the referee.

In the semi-wind-up Clayton Gouyd will fight Harold Matthews. Gouyd recently beat Poison Pisons at Hollywood and Matthews is a newcomer. Bert Sampson fights Ole Hashlem in the special event. They are welterweights.

SHEIKS TACKLE LEADERS TODAY

ing heads-up baseball and with any kind of pitching this week they'll annex the series.

HULVEY DUE TO HURL

Vitt's pitching staff came in for a lot of work, quite a bit of it bad, during the Angel series and the Star skipper probably will use Hank Hulvey on the mound today. Kinney and Johns, the Sheik southpaws, both saw service Sunday, but Vitt may pick one of them for duty anyway because most of the Reds' heavy clubbers bat from the left side of the plate.

Herman Pillette or Mert Nelson probably will be delegated to open the series on the mound for the Reds. Killefer probably would rather pit a southpaw against the Stars, but was forced to use his left-handers overtime against the Seals last week.

The Stars, although late getting started, now look like a baseball machine and figure to be tough from now on. Mickey Heath, who has cracked seventeen homers, Eli Funk, Cleo Carlyle and Bill Rumler are all clouting the ball hard and often and the Stars are always dangerous because they keep battling. That big week against the Angels gave the Sheiks a lot of confidence, too, for Hollywood hadn't previously won a series from Los Angeles since the second week of the 1928 season.

Fans who are wondering what happened to the Reds and why their once nine-game lead has been dissipated away need to look no farther than second base. The Missions have been skidding ever since Mickey Finn broke his finger and was forced out of the line-up Finn makes the missions and until he gets back the Reds won't set any houses afire. Mickey is the best player on the Mission roster and his absence is certainly making that fact public knowledge.

ANGELS TO MEET SEALS

While the Stars and Reds are performing here, the disorganized Angels will be meeting the Seals at San Francisco. The Seraphs always have hit well in Recreation Park, and may come out of their slump unless they're absolutely gone. Slug Tolson, who was out most of the Hollywood series with an attack of ptomaine poisoning, will get back into the line-up against the Seals and that'll help a lot. Slug may have his faults, but he can hit that old agate, plays a better than average game around first, and makes a lot of difference in the Angel line-up.

Ivan Howard's Oaks, who have climbed right up in the running, figure to gain more ground this week at Portland, where they tackle the floundering Ducks. Those Oaks are as good a team as there is in the league and don't forget that they'll be there or thereabouts when the season ends.

The other series opening today brings together the Sacs and Indians at Seattle.

SPLIT SEASON CONFAB TO BE HELD THIS WEEK

Coast League magnates are scheduled to gather in San Francisco next Friday to decide on whether or not to split the season. Right now it doesn't appear as though the plan will be adopted, for the race has developed into an interesting affair now that the Missions have lost most of their big lead.

However, there's no denying that the split season might revive interest in the Los Angeles, Sacramento, Seattle and Portland clubs if all of the squads were again put on an even basis.

But there are a lot of things to be ironed out before the split season can be adopted, such as arranging for a play-off and putting up a bonus for the winners. Knowing the magnates and considering the situation as it stands our guess is that the moguls will save themselves a lot of trouble by letting things ride.

OSTENBERG IS RELEASED BY HOLLYWOOD STARS

Leo Ostenberg, who looked like a great young prospect last season, has been released by the Hollywood Stars. Ostenberg looked terrible both at the plate and on the field this season, so Lane has decided to let him go. It's too bad, for a little more hustle and ambition on Ostenberg's part probably would make him a real star.

Lane also announced that Infielder Wilburn and Pitcher Bill Coyne have been sent to the Tucson club in th eArizona State League. Pug Cavet, veteran southpaw, also has been signed to act as playing manager for Tucson.

FLEMING, CLISBY IN GOLF TIE

Unknowns Score 71s to Annex Medal Honors in First Annual Pasadena Amateur Championship Over Brookside Course; Madden Has Card of 72

Hugh Fleming and Oscar Clisby, comparatively unknown in Southern California golf circles, scored 71's at Brookside yesterday to tie for medal honors in the first annual Pasadena amateur championship.

Steve Madden, veteran Lakeside warhorse, putted his way around Brookside to finish with a 72 and tie with Max Blixt, Long Beach municipal champ, for second low gross honors. David Martin of Fox Hills, one of the most promising youngsters in the country—and a great favorite in the titular clashes today, romped home with a 75.

Jack Gaines, one of the best medalists in this vicinity, dropped three balls out of bounds but still managed to wind up with a 74 to share bracket honors with Ernie Combs and Aubrey Devine. A. K. Bourne, millionaire Pasadena sportsman, 75, will have more than an outside chance of annexing some of the silverware to be awarded in the affair, according to Jack Tarrant, Brookside professional in charge of the Rose City's maiden amateur golf championship.

Match play today will be in three flights of thirty-two each. The championship will get under way at 1 p.m. Brookside flight, 11:30 a.m. and the Pasadena flight, 10 a.m.

FABER ROUTED

DETROIT, June 24. (AP)—Urban Faber, the red thatched veteran spitballer, who in his last start against the Tigers, held them to one hit, today was the victim of a ferocious battering as the Bengals defeated the White Sox, 13 to 4. Five Chicago errors contributed heavily to the Tiger score. Emil Yde, although wild and hit ten times by the Sox, including a home run by Faber, weathered the game without serious injury. Joe Dugan, who succeeded Faber, was as bad as his predecessor. Score:

COLUMBIA WINS RACE

COLUMBIA SHINES

Columbia faced and overcame the difficulties that brought about the undoing of her foremost rivals. The New Yorkers occupied one of the worst of the lanes, No. 7, between California and M.I.T. They shipped water to some extent themselves, but never enough to slow them up appreciably as they came into the last mile to take the lead from Washington and the Navy, the early pace setters.

The order of those that finished this amazing battle with the river was:

Columbia, Washington, Pensylvania, Navy and Wisconsin.

All were waterlogged and Washington's sheel all but sank as the Huskies, after surprising everybody, especially their own coach, youthful Al Ulbrickson, had rowed a spectacular race all the way down.

PENN IS THIRD

Penn, occupying the No. 1 lane and profiting thereby from whatever shelter there was under the lee of the Hudson highlands, rowed forward steadily to take third place, eight lengths behind Washington, but two lengths in front of the badly waterlogged Navy shell, which lost all of its early advantage in the last mile. Wisconsin was another three lengths behind Penn. The Badgers, trailing from the start, nevertheless stuck to their oars to finish while more favored rivals were going down under the buck-jumping influence of the river.

Columbia's great victory in the classic varsity race under such astounding and unprecedented conditions brought to a climax an all-New York sweep in the historic regatta for the first time since 1920.

Syracuse's freshmen crews, leading from start to finish, beat California and Cornell, as well as four other rivals, in the opening race at two miles, after which Cornell's junior varsity eight came from behind with a smashing finish to beat Columbia and four others in a thrilling race over the three-mile route.

The order of freshmen finish was Syracuse, California, Cornell, Navy, Columbia, Massachusetts Tech and Penn. In the "Jay Vee" race, they finished in this order: Cornell, Columbia, Navy, Washington, Syracuse and Penn.

Both preliminary races were rowed in somewhat rough seas, but nothing like the swells that broke over the varsity boats. But for the succession of false starts that marred the getaways of all the three races, the final event probably would have escaped the treacherous turn of the river. Due to five faulty starts, two each in the freshman and varsity events, and one in the junior varsity contest, the big eights did not finally go off together until 8:15 p.m., exactly an hour after it was scheduled.

Even so there was little warning of the disappointing as well as targic spectacle to cometas Referee Julian Curtiss of Yale fired the gun that sent the big fleet of nine crews down the river, already shrouded in dusk as a southwest wind rolled up heavy clouds and kicked up the surface of the river.

There was a surprise from the start as the Navy took an early lead over Columbia and then was followed by Washington in a revival of the ancient Middie-Husky duels that lasted until near the three-mile mark. M. I. T., splashing badly, gave the first danger signal as the engineer boat began to sink before the half-way mark was reached. Already trailing and hopelessly outdistanced, they stopped rowing and were taken out of their shell by a coach's launch.

With eight crews left in the running at the two-mile mark it was a three-division affair, with Columbia in striking distance of Washington and the Navy, then Cornell, California and Penn well bunched, with Syracuse and Wisconsin trailing.

BEARS DROP BACK

Nearing the high railroad bridge, the three-mile mark, other crews began to settle lower in the water. California, after holding fifth place for about a mile, dropped back to sixth and never was able to improve that position. With the proud world's champions losing their terrific battle with the river, Syracuse and then Cornell began to lose distance. So did the Navy, but Columbia, seeming to thrive on the conditions, set out to overhaul Washington.

Nearing the railroad bridge Columbia and Washington were on even terms, but as the prows came out from the shadows the New Yorkers were in front by six feet and gaining with every punch of their oars into the choppy waves. Washington hung on gamely for the next half-mile, but the Huskies were a length behind, with a half-mile to go. The race, so far as its competitive features were concerned, was all over. It was just a question of Columbia's margin and the Glendon-schooled youngsters made it three good lengths in a dazzling finish.

Disaster trailed them. Syracuse was forced out just after passing the railroad bridge. Their boat sank suddenly beneath them and nine heads bobbed about in the water where a moment before they had been pulling manfully, even if slowly, on. California's final downfall came at the three-and-a-half-mile mark, where the heavy Golden Bear array gave up the losing fight. Their weight, a factor in so many of their great victories, proved their undoing this time, for they shipped water all the way down and quickly became sluggish.

Cornell's boat, which cracked with less than a half-mile to go, was the last to sink below the surface and bring the rescue squad into action once more. The Ithacans stuck it out until their slim cedar craft finally broke under the strain, adding the final episode to the strangest and most disconcerting boat race the Hudson has ever seen.

There have been rough days on the old river before, but nothing to approach the effects of the high-running seas this evening. They were in sharp contrast to the ideal and record-breaking conditions under which California rowed to victory last year over Columbia. What made them worse was a southwest wind that came up to hit the backs of the oarsmen and send the splashing high after every dig of the oars.

Under these conditions, nothing even approaching record times was possible. The varsity race, in which the main contest was with the river instead of the racing opposition, Columbia's winning time was nearly four minutes behind the record of 18:35 4-5 set by California last year.

The most exciting race of the regatta was the junior varsity struggle in which Cornell came from behind to win with a finish that saw four of the six contenders blanketed at the end of the three miles. For two and a half miles of this thrilling contest, Columbia's "Jayvees" set the pace, with Syracuse in second place, extending the pace setters, with Cornell and the Navy in closing pursuit.

SYRACUSE FADES

Passing under the bridge, Syracuse faded quickly out of the picture but Cornell took up the chase. The Ithacans cut down Columbia's margin to a bare quarter length at the two-and-a-half mark, then jumped into the lead to win by a good length in 15m. 21 1-5s. Navy was a scant third of a length behind Columbia, while Washington was only another half length in back of the middies.

Syracuse wound up fifth, three lengths behind Washington, but three more lengths ahead of Penn.

Three hitherto undefeated crews—Cornell, Columbia and California took the wash of Syracuse's speedy freshmen eight in the first race. The orange boatload fought off Cornell in the first mile and then withstood California's fine closing challenge to beat the Golden Bears from the Far West by a length. California was two lengths ahead of Cornell, which led Navy's plebes by another length. Columbia, M.I.T. and Penn were from one to five lengths behind.

TILDEN WINNER AT WIMBLEDON

which during the coming two weeks he must manly wage his campaign for the Wimbledon title he gained in 1920 and 1921.

J. C. Gregory, the only Englishman to be seeded in the draw, and Jean Borotra, one of France's leading hopes, in turn won matches on the center court, while scattered over the other sixteen courts the outcome of the matches was as expected except, perhaps, for the defeat of the Scotman, I. G. Collins, by Nigel Sharpe of England.

Francis T. Hunter, second ranking player, put an early end to the Wimbledon hopes of the Japanese, R. Miki, who had won many tournaments in England this year. Hunter won in straights sets, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

John Hennessey, the smiling veteran from Indianapolis, appeared to have a hard task before him in Roy Molcolm, the South African. Hennessey was down 1-3 in the first set before he found his game. Then steadily he outplayed and outraced his sturdy opponent to win, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3.

George Lott, third-ranking United States player, scored one of the most popular victories of the day in beating the Frenchman, Du Pail, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2

J. A. Wright, the Canadian Davis cupper, had Wilbur Coen of Kansas City, one set up before the American youth hit his stride. After dropping the open set, 2-6, Coen won out, 2-6, 9-7, 6-4, 6-2.

Making a spectacular first appearance at Wimbledon, Johnny Van Ryn defeated the Frenchman, A. Gentian, without a struggle, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2. No American in recent years had brought out such favorable comment from British experts as the Orange (N. J.) star. The former Princeton net ace outclassed Gentian, who is one of the ranking players in France, in every department of the game.

HELEN TO PLAY

Miss Helen Wills, who is generally conceded the women's title, makes her debut tomorrow against Miss G. E. Tomblin, but not on the center court, where three Americans will play. Lott meeting the Belgian, L. De Borman; Hunter angling with Bunny Austin, and Van Ryn with Brugnon of France.

Senorita De Alvarez, the Spanish threat to Miss Wills's crown, follows the United States ranking woman player on court one with Mrs. Bruce as her opponent. Miss Helen Jacobs meets Mrs. A. Neave of South Africa as her first-round opponent while Elizabeth Ryan plays Miss D. Anderson of Great Britain.

Other matches will find Hennessey against J. S. Worthington; Tilden against C. H. Campbell of England; Coen against C. J. Robbins of South Africa, and Allison paired against Hon. Cooper of Great Britain.

"MIDGE" GLADMAN TRIUMPHS AT NETS

BROOKLINE (Mass.) June 24. (AP)—Miss Marjorie Gladman, of the University of Southern California, top-seeded in the women's intercollegiate tennis championship at Longwood today advanced to the third round on a bye and a victory over Miss Virginia Ellis of Jackson, 6-5, 6-1.

Indications were that Miss Gladman, former junior national champion and at present the third ranking player on the Pacific Coast, would be tested only by Miss Marjorie Sachs of Radcliff, winner of the north and south championship at Pinehurst several weeks ago.

HUFFT LEADING HITTER

Mission Outfielder Only Coast Leaguer to Hit Above 400 Mark; Funk Leads Hollywood Club With Tolson and Webb Best of Seraph Crew

"Fuzzy" Hufft, the Mission outfielder, is the Coast League's only .400 batsman after thirteen weeks of play in the 1929 season. Hufft has played in all of the Reds' eighty-six games. He has hit safely 137 times in 339 trips to the plate for a batting mark of .404.

Ernie Lombardi is runner-up in batting with a mark of .394. The Oakland catcher, however, has been to bat only half as many times and has made only half as many safe hits as the Mission outfielder.

Eli Funk has been a consistent hitter in the thirty-two games he has played with the Hollywood Stars. In 121 times at bat he has an average of .388. Funk hit safely in both games on Sunday, giving him a record of successive hitting in seventeen games.

Gussie Suhr of San Francisco continues to climb in the batting averages and it appears as though he will take the lead before another week slips by. He has participated in all of the Seals' ninety games and has hammered out enough hits to bring his season batting mark up to .387. He collected sixteen hits against some of the best hurlers in the circuit last week. Suhr tops the home-run hitters with twenty.

Charley Tolson continues to lead the Angel sluggers with a mark of .361, followed closely by Earl Webb with .350.

At Koehler and John Monroe are both hitting close to .350 to lead the Sacramento batsmen. Keesey is hitting .332 for Portland and Eckhart .328 for Seattle.

Hufft leads all players in safe hits with 137. Arlett and Hufft are tied for two-base hit honors with thirty-one each. Eddie Mulligan has pilfered eighteen sacks to lead in the stolen base department.

OF REAL ACHIEVEMENT

to care for its growing clientele, an established and reputable, personal service corporation—the largest of its kind on the Pacific Coast—is about to add to its staff one and possibly three, sales representatives for local office. And for Orange, Riverside and San Diego Counties.

The term "representative" is used advisedly, for the man or men selected must be REPRESENTATIVES in every sense of the word — in character, sales caliber and appearance—men who can get to the very best type of people, and after getting to them, talk their language—impress them.

The affiliation offered is not only a most dignified and congenial one, but an exceptionally lucrative one. The earnings of the right man should be very quickly at the rate of not less than $10,000 a year. The earnings of one of our force is at the rate of more than $2000 a month.

This is not to be classed with the general run of in inquiry for salesmen. It is in every sense an exceptional opportunity worthy of the investigation of the most ambitious type of men.

If you are of this class, willing to follow instructions and able to finance yourself, phone TR. 3801 for appointment. Ask for Mr. Rogers.

For personal interview call at 3757 Wilshire Blvd. (nr. Western,) between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday or Tuesday. Ask for Frederick S. Dudley, vice president.

CITRUS FRUITS MARKET GROWS

Heavier Demand in Germany Forecast by Visitor

California Products Will Top Market, He Says

Direct Shipment to Berlin to Help Growers

Trade between Germany and Southern California will increase greatly upon the completion of the great new central wholesale market for foodstuffs which the city of Berlin is planning to build, according to Paul Busch, for many years a member of the Magistrat, or upper house of the Berlin municipal government, who has been in this city in the course of a countrywide tour undertaken with the object of studying American wholesale marketing methods.

When seen at the Biltmore last night he said he had not observed much pertaining to that subject which he regarded as an advance over the facilities now possessed by Berlin. While in Southern California, however, he had become impressed, he said, by the efficiency of the great fruit packing establishments and by the high standards adhered to in the grading of the fruit.

Therefore, he said, he has already initiated negotiations whereby fruit will be shipped direct from this port to the proposed central wholesale market in Berlin. At present, he said, California citrus fruits are well and favorably known in Berlin and interior Germany, but most of it is shipped to Hamburg, where commission merchants resell it to the dealers in the interior of the country, thereby increasing the price.

Mr. Busch said that not only is there an undersupply of citrus fruits in Germany at present, but that this situation will become intensified as the result of an educational campaign as to the health value of such fruits which he will recommend that the Berlin government undertake. At present the main source of Berlin's citrus fruit supply is Spain and that country has not been able to meet the present demand. Italy, he added, is a negligible factor, since the Italian prices are higher than that for fruit shipped from California to the Hamburg commission merchants.

With the institution of direct shipping from Los Angeles to Berlin, he predicted, on the basis of his preliminary negotiations, the price of the fruit will be sufficiently low to enable California to dominate the citrus fruit market in interior Germany.

Mr. Busch will leave by airplane today for San Francisco.

NEW SEARCH FOR MISSING MAN STARTS

Joe Porazzo, Believed to Have Been Murder Victim, Identified on Street

Alarms were flashed last night to all policemen and Sheriff's deputies to be on the lookout for Joe Porazzo, reported seen riding out of the city yesterday after having been mysteriously missing and given up as murdered for more than a month. An informant, whose identity the police concealed, reported last night to Capt. Cato of the central homicide detail that he saw Porazzo with four other men in a sedan speeding eastward on Whittier Boulevard late yesterday. The informant was positive of the identification, asserting he had known Porazzo for years. On the strength of this report, Capt. Cato spread the alarm by teletype and notified the Sheriff's office. Orders to the police are to pick up Porazzo as a missing person.

Porazzo lived at 3469 Rowena avenue and is said to own a bottling works on the East Side. He is 30 years of age and reputed to be wealthy. On May 16 his sedan, bullet-riddled and blood-stained, was found abandoned at Seventh and Mateo streets. Police investigation disclosed that he was missing from his home and that he had not been seen by his intimates for several days. The last trace of him the detectives could find was when he drove away from a garage in company with some strange men.

Detectives searched the desert in the neighborhood of Lancaster, Redman and Muroc, working on the theory that Porazzo had been murdered and buried there in a region where it was reported that several illicit stills were operated.

James Grayson Taken by Death

Mr. Grayson was a resident of Los Angeles for sixty-five years He was born in Sonoma, Cal., on February 13, 1852, his parents having crossed the plans from Kentucky to this State in 1850. He came to Los Angeles as a boy, and during his long residence here, served twenty-two years in the City Engineer's department. He leaves a widow, a son, Cal Grayson, and a daughter, Mrs. William Letts.

"Dragon's Blood" in the Arts

The "Dragon's Blood" of commerce is a red gum made from the ripe fruit of palm trees growing in Siam and the Dutch East Indies. It is used in the pharmacy and finds its way into the arts as a means for coloring varnish and also for use in photo-engraving. It is secured from the nut by a process of steaming and crushing. The product is sent to Penang and Singapore and thence it is shipped halfway around the world to points in Europe.

Merritt, Chapman & Scott to Enlarge Service

Lightering and Derrick Barge Service Planned

Project Costing $200,000 to Start Shortly

BY WALDO DRAKE

Merritt, Chapman & Scott, world's foremost salvage concern, will establish a $200,000 lightering and derrick barge service at the local port on July 1, next, it was announced yesterday by G. Lincoln Skolfield, vice-president and general manager. C. V. Rice, who has for several years been an official of the firm's California establishment here, will direct operations of the new department.

Plans for a ninety-ton capacity steel derrick barge, 125 feet long and to cost approximately $125,000, are now being drawn in the New York offices of Merritt, Chapman & Scott to head the floating equipment of the lightering service here. Mr. Skolfield said that the new barge, on which bids will soon be asked, will probably be constructed here. It will be by a large margin the largest piece of equipment of its kind on the Pacific, having steam power for lifting and a 100-foot steel crane.

Mr. Rice said that other equipment will include the company's derrick barge Samson of thirty-ton capacity, the barge San Pedro of twenty-ton capacity, and formerly the Wrigley organization's W. T. No. 2; three 600-ton flat steel lightering scows, one 400-ton steel lighter, the clam-shell dredge Argyle, 120 feet long and of five-yard capacity; two 120-foot, 600-cubic-yard dump scows, and such tugs, launches and barges as are required. A staff of experts of long experience in handling heavy lifts and lighterage work will be available at all times.

WRIGLEY UNIT BOUGHT

Merritt, Chapman & Scott have purchased the good will of the Wilmington Transportation Company's derrick and lightering service, together with the Wrigley firm's twenty-ton barge, the Wrigley firm's terests having retired from that service.

Decision to establish the new service, which will greatly expedite heavy cargo handling at the local port, was made following the visit here from New York several months ago of W. H. Baker, president of Merritt, Chapman & Scott, and conferences between Mr. Skolfield, Burt Edwards, general manager of the Harbor Department, and Chester A. Beckley, secretary and treasurer of Merritt, Chapman & Scott.

The new barge will be ready for operation in December, next, all other equipment being available July 1. Bonded barge service, for handling bonded cargo in transit, is also contemplated.

ACTIVITY HEAVY

Mr. Beckley also announced that Merritt, Chapman & Scott is this summer engaged on its greatest season of marine construction on the California coast. Yesterday the concern completed construction of its original $400,000 contract for building the Santa Barbara breakwater and is two-thirds finished with the additional 600 feet which will give the Crescent City an 1800-foot jetty, with a total cost in excess of $600,000.

The company's salvage steamer Peacock yesterday returned from Davenport, on the Ventura county coast, where Robert A. Gardner and a salvage staff laid a 3000-foot submarine oil-loading line for the General Petroleum Corporation. The new submarine line will be utilized for discharging petroleum from steamers for storage in the company's new reserve tanks at Davenport.

A third construction group has just completed the Rio Grande Oil Company's $200,000 marine terminal at Long Beach and a fourth gang simultaneously finished laying foundations for six oil wells which Rio Grande will drill in thirteen feet of water offshore at Elwood. Merritt, Chapman & Scott has also just completed construction of a 1800-foot pleasure pier at Capistrano Beach.

CARRIER OF NEW CARGO LINE CALLS

The steamer Sea Thrush made her first appearance here yesterday, preparatory to inaugurating an intercoastal service for the newly formed Shepard Steamship Company of New York. The steamer came out from Texas City and Mobile under trip charter only to the Redwood Line, and is discharging 1000 tons of steel before sailing north today. She will load a complete cargo of lumber in the north for the account of Shepard & Morse Lumber Company of New York parent concern of the steamship line. Capt. Kristen Tvede commands her. He formerly was port manager at New York for the California and Eastern Steamship Company. Following the Sea Thrush shortly will be the Wind Rush and the Sage Brush, which will comprise the Shepard fleet for the present. General cargo will be brought westbound, lumber only eastbound.

More than a score of passengers embarked on the Dollar globe-girdling liner President Monroe, departing yesterday noon for San Francisco and the Orient, after lifting 200 tons of Southland cargo. Passengers included Gerald L. Barry, official of the Fiske Rubber Company, bound for Singapore; Misses Blanche Barton and Carolyn Cummins, La Jolla schoolteachers, bound for Honolulu; Lieut. and Mrs. Roland D. Hill, for Manila, where Lieut. Hill will joint the Asiatic fleet; Mrs. Raymond G. Thomas and son Douglas, to join Commander Thomas at Manila and Lieut. and Mrs. Earl R. Sachett and daughter Maidie.

Chief Davis Says Lincoln Heights Investigation [illegible] Show People Need for Remedy

An investigation of the conditions at the Lincoln Heights [illegible] stockade will be welcomed by Chief of Police Davis, [illegible] in a statement answering criticisms that have been [illegible] and methods employed at the city institution.

"I am very glad of any investigation that will bring to light and place before the people of Los Angeles the unsanitary conditions that prevail in the East Side jail," Chief Davis said.

BENEFITS EXPECTED

"The quarters are entirely inadequate for the great number of prisoners that the city now is forced to house there, and it is a situation that has been clearly defined on a number of occasions and through various mediums. If a new investigation will prove of any consequence in remedying the evils that must exist when we are compelled to operate under such handicaps, and will serve to focus public attention on the matter, it will prove of great benefit.

"The grand juries of former years have studied conditions in this particular city institution, and repeatedly have reported that it is not the proper place for the housing of prisoners, and that it must be improved and rebuilt. No one familiar with the situation will deny such a finding, and it is my hope that the people of Los Angeles will realize that changes must be made.

ACTION WANTED

"I hope that the civic bodies, the City Council and all other interested organizations of welfare and betterment will take such action as will bring about the needed [illegible] ments and the construction [illegible] quate quarters for prisoners [illegible] in the East Side jail, [illegible] prisons.

"Pending the necessary [illegible] the people and City Council [illegible] viding the funds for [illegible] improvement and the [illegible] new and adequate [illegible] gest that a city farm [illegible] I believe that this [illegible] of the present problem [illegible] tainly lessen the [illegible] inadequate structure [illegible] beneficial to the prisoners [illegible] they will at least be out in the [illegible] air.

FINANCIAL [illegible]

"If there can be [illegible] amples of improper [illegible] part of the officials [illegible] the management [illegible] employees under [illegible] proper action [illegible] taken to remedy such [illegible] infractions can and will [illegible] but other conditions [illegible] medied only through the [illegible] actions of the civic bodies, [illegible] Council and the citizens of Los An[illegible]geles."
